The shaded areas are all on the minus side of the groundwater normal, and with precipitation less than normal, as indicated by the key. Ex-President Hoover Says He'll Aid GOP Campaign

CEDAR RAPIDS, Iowa (AP) — Former President Hoover says he will be glad to help in any way he can in Republican political campaigning between now and the November elections. He was completing a round of visits in his native Iowa today. They began yesterday in his birthplace at the nearby village of West Branch, where more than 10,000 people gathered to honor him on his 80th birthday. After the "birthday party," he flew to Mason City and was scheduled to dedicate a school there and another in Cedar Rapids before flying to New York this afternoon. The nature of his speech at West Branch aroused considerable speculation as to whether it was an opening gun in the GOP political campaigning. He blasted the Democrats for presidential "misuse of power" in both domestic and foreign policies during the 29 years they were in office. Before he left his home town, a reporter asked him if he intends to make any campaign speeches this fall. "I have no specific plans," he said, "but I'll be glad to help in any way I can." Hoover's appearance, on his 80th birthday, deeply surprised people who had not seen him in some years. He was full of vigor. He marched through a warm sun, delivered a lengthy speech without a falter, rode dusty miles to dedicate schools in Iowa City and West Branch — and was still in a joking mood at the end of a long day. "Some people have to endow a school to have it named after them," he told a crowd at a new elementary school. "I am more fortunate." The force with which he attacked the actions of the Democrats, and the applause he evoked, showed that he is still capable of taking part in a political affair.
