Make it from me... Bessy's Dairy Dishes

By BESSY, The Basin Bossy Klamath's very own potatoes will be coming to market before long. They're good potatoes, and can be cooked in many ways to fit many menus.

STUFFED and BAKED LUNCHEON POTATOES You'll need 6 large baking potatoes: 1 to 1 1/2 cups of hot milk, 2 tablespoons of butter, 1/2 teaspoon of pepper, 2 teaspoons of salt, 1 cup of grated American cheese, 2 cups of minced ham or leftover meat (cooked), and 3 tablespoons of minced parsley. Bake the potatoes. When done, cut a slice off the top of each and scoop out the centers. Mash potatoes, add hot milk, butter, seasonings and cheese and beat until light and fluffy. Fold in the minced ham and parsley. Fill potato shells. Place spuds on baking pan and bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) for 30 minutes or until hot and slightly browned. Here's suggested luncheon including stuffed n' baked luncheon potatoes: Potatoes, tossed green salad, bread, butter, sliced oranges, and fresh Grade A milk. This should make a happy serving for six persons, including the boss and his wife, if you wish. And they would be impressed. —BESSY.

Sacramento Group To Visit K. Falls

A group of Sacramento Chamber of Commerce members will visit Klamath Falls on a fly-in Sunday noon at the Klamath Falls airport. It was announced at the Klamath County Chamber of Commerce directors meeting Wednesday night at the Winema Hotel.

All Klamath chamber members and interested people are invited to the airport Sunday noon to visit with the Sacramento flyers and join them at lunch at the airport, according to Truman Runyan, who presided in the absence of President George Davis and Vice President Bob Thompson.

Don Gray, chief of the development division of the Bureau of Reclamation here, explained the contents of the Bureau's preliminary resources report.

It is an inventory of land and water in the upper Klamath River Basin and a summary of the present and future uses of land and water for agriculture, recreation, hydro power and industry. It is a compilation of information for use of all interested parties, he said.

Gray said that an overall general conclusion of the study was that resources are here for large future developments in all four fields, and that there is need to arrive at a sound local policy on such development.

Air Force Announces New Bonus

T. Sgt. Don Adams, local U.S. Air Force recruiting officer will leave Sunday for Portland where he will accept his discharge and will reenlist for another six years. He has been in the U.S. Army and Air Force service for 18 years.

By recalling immediately Adams will fill his own vacancy here. He will be gone for the entire week August 16 through 21.

A new law became effective July 16 in which airmen reenlisting after having been in the service for four or more years, will receive between $900 and $1,000 bonus instead of the $300 maximum previously paid, Sgt. Adams stated.

When the average airman first class with four years service, and base pay of $190 a month, reenlists, he is entitled to one month's base pay for each of the four years served. For his second enlistment he will receive a bonus equal to two thirds of one month's base pay for his years of service. For the third enlistment the bonus is one third of his base pay per month times years of service and for the fourth enlistment he receives one sixth of his monthly base pay for each year in service.

To qualify for this bonus ex-airmen must reenlist within ninety days from the date of discharge or release from active duty in the Air Force, Adams concluded.
