Grange Plans Special Meet

Roy Anderson, Malin, overseer for three years in the Klamath County Pomona Grange, will take part in the quarterly meeting, to be held Saturday August 4, at the Midland Grange Hall. The session will convene at 10 a.m. Worthy master Mike Williams will preside. Anderson, a farmer who came to Klamath County six years ago from Baker, has been in grange work for 23 years. He served as agricultural chairman and steward in Baker Pomona Grange and as Baker County weed supervisor. Since coming here, he has served as assistant steward and for two years was master of the Malin Grange. Expected for the meeting Saturday are Mr. and Mrs. Henry Henrickson. Henrickson is state grange youth chairman and state deputy. Mrs. Henrickson is state Flora. Stanley Church will talk on "Public Power and Private Enterprise." Walter Jendzajewski, assistant county agent will talk on agricultural problems, substituting for C. A. Henderson, grange agricultural chairman. Dinner will be served at noon by Midland and Henley granges. The program will be presented during the afternoon by Carl Yancy, Pomona lecturer with the assistance of Fort Klamath and Henley. Mrs. Ruth Doling is lecturer of the Fort Klamath Grange. Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Simpson are lecturers of the Henley Grange. Business of the coming Oregon State Grange convention to be held in Klamath Falls in 1955 will be discussed.

GOP Candidate Loses Favor

NEWARK, N.J. (AP)—Admirers of two famed Republicans—Taft and McCarthy—are causing the New Jersey GOP candidate for the U.S. Senate an occasional headache these days. Even though President Eisenhower has stepped in three times with strong endorsements of Clifford Case, the candidate has run into sporadic opposition in his own party. Some want him to quit the race. As a result, the Democrats—better unified than they have been in years—figure they have their best chance to elect a senator since 1936. Charles R. Howell, 49-year-old Trenton insurance underwriter who has been in Congress since 1948, is the Democratic candidate. A New Deal-Pat Deal Democrat, he has joshed that his support of Eisenhower's program has been so good that the President might "want to support me." Case, 50-year-old Rahway lawyer, self-styled liberal Republican and supporter of Eisenhower for President, has come under attack from various conservative backers of the late Sen. Robert A. Taft (R-Ohio). They found fault with Case's voting record in Congress and began working against him soon after his nomination for the seat of Republican Sen. Robert C. Hendrickson, who did not seek re-election. Then Case lost favor with some backers of Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis.) when, in one of his first major campaign statements July 7, he called McCarthy "a deeply decisive force" and said he thought McCarthy should be unseated from the Committee on Government Operations.

KF School Bids To Be Opened

Bids will be opened Saturday afternoon, September 2, in the office of Carol Howe, Klamath County school superintendent for construction of a proposed new elementary, 12-classroom school building on Homedale Road. The new building will go up on a 15-acre site and is planned for completion in 1955. Morrison and Howard are the architects.

State Rejects Lost River Bids

The State Highway Commission authorized work on 24 more projects Tuesday but rejected all bids for construction of a bridge over Lost River on the Oregon-California state line highway near Hatfield. Reason for the rejection of bids was not given. Included in construction authorized was work on the new West Portland-Salem expressway amounting to nearly one million dollars.
