Herald and News this 'n that About Women

By RUTH KING

SHE LIVES IN A HOUSE by the side of the road where mockingbirds sing each spring , her pioneer parents were in the race for land when Oklahoma Indian Territory was opened settlement . . . she would rather get a friendly smile than add to her bank account. Martha M. Hurd is one of Klamath County's busiest women yet always has time to do the Martha M. Flurd is one of klamain County's busiest women yet always has time to do the "little things" that clutch at the heart . . . to make a Valentine apron or to bake a cake in appreciation of the deeds that are done by others as routine . . . she devotes hours to the youth of the community . . . remembers "when" she called Bill Hart, Will Rogers, Tom Mix and Ranger Bill Miller of the silent films, best friends.

She once starred with a troup of teenagers, the "Young Rangers" who traveled with her as far as the Chicago World's Fair, presenting an act of Western music and trick and fancy roping . . . she has written and arranged medio shows for KNX of Hollywood, today can hold an audience spellbound as "The Lady Known As Lou." Her talent is freely given, often re-

Martha Hurd, who holds a full-time position as a needlewoman, came to Klamath Falls in midwinter of 1941. Three years later with the world at war, she enlisted in the service of her country as a private in the U. S. Air Force. Her assignment in the medical corps, kept her at Maxwell Field, Montgomery, Alabama until peace came.

She is a past commander of Winema American Legion Post, No. 142. In 1953 she affiliated with the Ground Observer Corps and since then, with her husband Frank Hurd, has stood regular watches each week in the observation tower at the airport . . . she has written reames of publicity for Camp Fire Girls, the GOC and other organizations, she plays music by loves to garden and organize skits, is a great-niece of the late David Starr Jordan, Dean of Stanford University . . . is the mother of a son, grandmother to three.

Next holiday time you'll see her as Merry Christmas, spreading cheer for the old and young while her husband, hidden behind a Santa Claus mask, will look on and ponder at the untiring energy of the mistress of Mockingbird Hill Ranch at Wocus.
