RCA SECRETARY WEDS JUNE BULL
IN CHEYENNE METHODIST CHURCH

Of interest to many in the Klamath Basin and surrounding territory, is the marriage of Buster Ivory, now of Denver, to June Bull, in a truly western setting, with the whole populace of Cheyenne in a concerted effort to make this annual "Frontier Days" the town's "Biggest."

The wedding was in the Cheyenne First Methodist Church, July 29. At the reception in the Frontier Hotel some 60 guests were received, majority of them cowboys and their wives.

Buster is secretary of the R.C.A. (Rodeo Cowboy Association), and is remembered around this country as associated with rodeos.

In fact, his best man, Casey Tibbs, is national bronc-riding champion; and a Klamath (or Lakeview) guest and his wife at the wedding was Ross Dollarhide, nation's champion steer wrestler. Matron of honor was Jo Decker, Clayton, Oklahoma; maid of honor Elizabeth Russell, Henrietta, Texas; Casey Tibbs, Fort Pierre, South Dakota, best man; Bill Ward, Angels Camp, California, groomsman ushering was Tater Decker, Clayton, Oklahoma.

The bride was given in marriage by Bill Linderman, Walla Walla, (National "all-around" champ) who, with his wife, Pat, is a close friend of both Buster and June. For her informal wedding, the bride wore a white lace ballerina length dress; a shoulder veil and carried white orchids.

At the reception, Lou Gedding registered the guests; Vicki Williams served the cake; and Pat (Mrs. Bill) Linderman was at the punch bowl. Mr. and Mrs. Devere Helfrich, Klamath Falls, and the Dollarhides were out-of-town guests.
