COMBINED AGE OF THESE FOUR pioneers of the Wood River Valley is 324 years. They remembered old times, ate good food and even square danced during the annual old timer's picnic held at Fort Klamath last week. (l to r) they are Dan Savage, Livingstone, California who is 84, Mrs. Katherine Nichols, Susanville, 82, Mrs. Olena Briscoe, Klamath Falls, 76, and Lorin M. Streeter, Fort Klamath, 82.

Wood River Pioneers And Old Timers Hold Annual Gathering At Fort Klamath

By MYRTLE WIMER

FORT KLAMATH — Coming from near and far, members of the Wood River Pioneers and Old Timers gathered in Fort Klamath for the weekend of Saturday and Sunday, August 14th and 15th, for the Fifth annual get together and picnic held by the group since it was organized in 1950.

On Saturday evening, a large crowd was present for the business meeting and social get-together held in the C. I. clubhouse, with the president, Mrs. William Zumbrun, conducting the meeting. Reports were heard from the secretary and treasurer of the organization, after which election of officers for the coming year was held. Chosen president was Obil Shattuck, pioneer of Wood River Valley, born here in 1885 and now a resident of Yakima, Washington. Named vice president was Mrs. Joanna Taylor. Reelected to the offices of secretary and treasurer, were Mrs. Harold L. (Myrtle) Wimer and William A. Page. Stewart Nicholson was elected to serve as director.

The short business meeting was adjourned, and a delightful social time followed. There was reminiscing, visiting and dancing with music furnished by Dick Varnum, violin, Harold Wimer, piano, and Clifford Sargent, guitar. Calling for the square dance numbers was by an old time resident who called for many old time dances here over 25 years ago — Ernest Bennett, here from his present home in Vernonia, Oregon. He was accompanied by his wife, sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. William Tucker. They were guests of his and Mrs. Tucker's sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Emmett McKeever.

Special intermission entertainment was provided through the courtesy of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd C. Hauptman of the Old Fort Tavern and Cafe, when the O'Hagans presented several musical and vaudeville numbers. The quaint old fashioned couple, with their daughter Diane, have been featured for the past month at the local establishment. For Ben Murphy, Williamson River member of the organization, and a native of Galway, Ireland, the O'Hagans sang a special number, "Galway Bay."

Refreshments were served at a late hour.

All Sunday morning, throughout the valley and surrounding countryside, women were busy frying chickens, baking hams, baking pies and cakes and preparing salads, and the many other delicacies brought to the big feast. Men of the organization, headed by Emmett Sisemore, did the manual labor involved in preliminary arrangements, and all was in readiness by early afternoon.

Due to the unseasonable cold spell of weather, the picnic was not held at the usual site, the Jackson F. Kimball state park at the head of Wood River, a spot held in high sentimental regard by early settlers and old timers of the valley. Instead the C. I. clubhouse and grounds were the setting for the affair, which was attended by a record breaking crowd of 210 people. Joining the group this year were several members of the Klamath County Historical Society.

General chairman in charge of get together and picnic arrangements was Mrs. William Zumbrun, assisted by a corps of willing helpers, visiting members as well as local women. Emmett Sisemore brewed coffee for the crowd in the huge combination stove and boiler used year after year, set up for this year's picnic in the clubhouse yard. The coffee maker, formerly the property of Mrs. Myrtle Denton, was purchased last year by the organization. Laden tables in the clubhouse dining room fairly groaned under the weight of every conceivable variety of delicious food brought by those attending the picnic. Coffee, ice cream, fried chicken and ham, and other picnic supplies were furnished by the organization.

During the afternoon, prizes were awarded. To the oldest man, Jack Berry, 86 year old pioneer now living in Seattle, Washington; oldest woman, Mrs. Elizabeth Leever, a pioneer who is also 86, and now a resident of Medford, Oregon; oldest bachelor, William Lambert 74 years old; Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Ferguson, Lakeview, married 52 years, won honors for being married the longest period of time, while Mr. and Mrs. Dick Jockisch, Peoria, Illinois, were given the prize for coming the most miles.

Festivities lasted until after six o'clock with dancing and the same orchestra, augmented by Clifford Engle and his electric guitar. Ernest Bennett again called the old time dances.

As the group separated, to go their ways until next year's celebration dates roll around, there were many expressions of sincere appreciation and enjoyment of the happy weekend.

Tentative plans are being discussed by local members to hold the biggest and best get-together and picnic next summer that the organization has yet sponsored.

When the Yuletide season nears each year, the secretary of the Wood River Pioneers and Old Timers mails to all members of the organization new membership cards, enclosed with Christmas cards bearing best wishes of the season. A small annual membership fee is charged, funds collected being used to defray incidental expenses of the social organization, which has nothing to buy or sell, and offers only fellowship in the tradition of those who pioneered the Wood River Valley, the precious heritage handed down to us by these honored settlers of the early days.

Attending from out of state were: Mr. and Mrs. Dick Jockisch and two sons, Peoria, Illinois; Mrs. Pearl Baker, Noel Baker, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Baker and infant son, Green River, Utah; George Reid, Reno, Nevada; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hatch, Los Angeles; Mrs. Grace Hinrichsen, her son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ron Norfiel and son, all of Petaluma; Francyne Houghton, Corninia, California; Katherine Nichols, Susanville; Dan Savage, Livingston, California; Thomas J. Modoc Queen Awarded Trip

Miss Mitzi Yamagata, comely 20-year-old Modoc County Fair queen leaves Saturday for Redding where she will board a United Airlines "Mainliner" enroute to Sacramento to compete in the 1954 statewide "Maid of California" beauty contest. Miss Yamagata was awarded this trip after capturing the Modoc County queen title from a field of five contestants at the annual prefair dance held in Cedarville Saturday night, August 7.

Accompanied by Mrs. Jane McKernon of Alturas, Queen Mitzi will be met at the Sacramento airport by officials of the California State Fair and escorted to the Senator Hotel for a short rest before attending a banquet given in honor of the contestants. Immediately following the banquet, Mitzi will rehearse Sunday's program with the group of girls competing.

Promptly at 9:30 a.m. Sunday judging for the contest will get underway. After the 1954 "Maid of California" has been announced, the contestants will be guests of honor at a late luncheon in Governor's Hall. Following the luncheon, the girls will attend a press conference and all but the Maid of California will be escorted to the airport for the return flight home.

The girl selected "Maid of California" will stay in Sacramento for television and radio appearances, and will reign over the state fair September 2-12. She will receive a $1,000 U.S. Savings bond, and second and third runnerups will receive a $500 and $250 bond respectively.
