cular base of marigolds, pompon chrysanthemums and petunias—all in rich fall shades from rusty gold to deep rose. The hostesses had cleverly contrived the effect of actual rain on the floral arrangement by tying ice cubes to the framework inside the umbrella—and as they melted, drops of water "showered" the blossoms beneath. Back of the lace-draped gift table was a huge deep green and white heart bearing the names "Trudy and Joe"—first name of her fiance, Joe Wilkins. Trudy is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Bramlett, and her wedding will be an event of September 18. —Photo by Kettler

LINDSAY WAS SIX when she arrived from San Rafael a little over a month ago with her mother, Mrs. George Merryman Jr., (with her above) to vacation with Klamath Falls relatives and friends. She was seven—when she left with her parents for home last Saturday. Her father, Dr. George Merryman Jr., arrived here August 15, in time for her birthday anniversary, August 17, celebrated at the Lake of the Woods home of her grandmother, Mrs. George Merryman. —Photo by Kettler

Names of Parents' Friends Prominent on Guest List For Shower Honoring Jean Owens

A dessert bridal shower, Thursday evening, August 19, in the pre-wedding whirl of festive events honoring Jean Owens, was given by Mrs. L. A. Murphy and Mrs. John Fowler, assisted by their daughters, Jackie Murphy and Janet Fowler at the Fowler residence, 915 Pacific Terrace. Decorative focal points were two beautiful floral arrangements; one on the living room fireplace mantel—a striking bouquet of carnations, sweet peas and larkspur in pink and white under a small umbrella of frothy pink lace and satin ribbon. On the dining table a dramatic arrangement of white gladioli was flanked by lighted white tapers in crystal candelabra. Dessert was served preceding an interval of games and the opening of the gifts.

Guest list read: Mrs. Vern Owens, Mrs. Paul Deller (mothers of the affianced); Mrs. R. E. (Gene) Hooker, Mary Hooker, Mrs. W. C. Wiesendanger, Mrs. Warren Hunt, Mrs. Harold Teale, Patty Teale, Mrs. Hans Norland, Mrs. K. G. Klahn, Mrs. Ira Orem, Mrs. John Feedback, Mrs. Charles Carlson, Mrs. Alva Oldham, Mrs. Raymond Ward and Mrs. Ed Bell.

Mrs. J. L. Fotheringham led the devotions, showing the "right and wrong ways to use the Bible." Mrs. Clovis Story will be chairman of the Potlatch Festival banquet to be held October 22. Other committees will be announced later. Members attending were Mrs. Warren Conner, Mrs. E. N. Eagle, Mrs. J. L. Haskins, Mrs. Warren Fruits, Mrs. Wilbur Haskins, Mrs. Verna Haskins, Mrs. Della Hodges, Mrs. Frank Hunnicutt, Mrs. John Hunnicutt, Mrs. W. F. Jinnette, Mrs. Eber Kilpatrick, Mrs. Pete McNeil, Mrs. G. A. Milne, Mrs. Miles Moore, Mrs. Wendell Moore, Mrs. R. A. Smith, Mrs. Gene Taylor and Mrs. Bernice Wilson. Visitors included Mrs. Fred Fletcher, Mrs. Joe Wright, Mrs. Merle Taylor, Mrs. M. Roberts of San Jose, who is visiting her daughter Mrs. Fruits; Mrs. Robert Wu, Mrs. Walker Fotheringham, Mrs. Ernest Watt, Mrs. Frank Testerman, Mrs. Alfred Carleton, Mrs. George Rankin and Mrs. George Price Jr.

RECITAL

Nancy Stewart of Lakeview was honored with a private piano recital at the home of her teacher, Mrs. Helen Bradley as a reward for having memorized at least eight pieces, which she played for invited guests on the evening of August 13. The program included "Navy Blue and Gold March," "Marianne Waltz," "Old Folks at Home," "San Antonio Rose," "Sweet Memories," "Carnival Venice," "Laura March," and "Spanish Dance." Two duets were presented by Nancy Stewart and Sandra Watts—"Green Meadows" and "Buffalo Gals."

Following the program, games were played and refreshments served.

Ladies Aid At Merrill

MERRILL—Mrs. Dwight Eagle, Mrs. G. W. Offield, and Mrs. Clovis Story were hostesses at the Eagle home for a meeting of the Presbyterian Church Ladies Aid on August 18. Members enjoyed a potluck picnic at 1 o'clock, followed by a regular business meeting. All members are asked to meet September 9, at 10 a.m. for an all-day work session, in the church parlor. At this time articles for the rummage sale this fall, will be sorted, priced, etc. Bring a sack lunch. Mrs. J. L. Fotheringham led the devotions, showing the "right and wrong ways to use the Bible." Mrs. Clovis Story will be chairman of the Potlatch Festival banquet to be held October 22. Other committees will be announced later.
