

Crawley, Scott Capture Main, Powder Derby Wins

Bob Crawley won the special "Sam Nealin Day" 25-lap main event and Della Scott captured the Powder Puff Derby trophy dash to highlight yesterday afternoon's hardtop racing program.

The main event was loaded with excitement from the start as the green flag to the time the checkered flag was dropped signifying the end of the event.

Benny Morrison took the lead in the seventh lap from Rusty Phillips only to lose his right rear wheel in the 13th lap and the lead to Bob Crawley, who had been moving up on the pack.

Crawley held the lead after restarts in the 16th and 19th laps to cop the A-main victory. Matt Christian, who chased Crawley most of the race finished second, while Johnny Hilson and Dave Vincent placed third and fourth respectively.

In the Powder Puff Derby, Ruth Harris won the first heat race as she beat out Della Scott. The second heat was taken by Cora Owens with Darlene Rummels placing second.

All four of the women drivers lined up for the four lap trophy dash, and Della Scott took home the honors and a kiss from the trophy boy Bob Crawley. Darlene Rummels was second.

Neil Mayfield, driving his K-14 hardtop, walked away with the B-main prize money in yesterday's program, but he was threatened all the way by the driving of Buff Rummels in M-14, who finally finished second. Third was Ray Brackman and Dale Himeilwright took fourth place.

Benny Morrison gained the lead of the final heat in the eighth lap of the 10 lap event to take the win from second place finisher Dave Vincent. Bud Cook finished third and Ken Conner fourth in the 12-car race.

The fans received plenty of excitement in the final heat as William Brown, driving K-71 turned a complete flip in front of the grandstand after making the North corner.

Further excitement and laughter came in the trophy dash in what was one of the most unusual finishes ever seen on the Speedway track.

Pee Wee Routs and Morrison were leading the field by a large distance going into the last turn before the checkered flag when both drivers began fighting for the lead position. Routs holding the inside lane went high and drove Morrison over the embankment, but before things had settled down, Routs piled into the end of the barrier halting his bid for a trophy win.

When the two leaders were both out of action, Ken Conner crossed the finish line first for his first trophy dash win of his racing career and Bob Crawley finished second.

Dale Himeilwright won the day's program C-race with Gene Stratton placing second. Third and fourth places in the 10 lap event were taken by Johnny Bowers and Jack Charlton.

Conner, Crawley, Routs and Morrison won the four heat races, while Al Rossi, Bud Cook, Vic Plackus, William Brown, Jim Barrett, Jack Charlton, Dave Vincent and Rusty Phillips took home second and third place finishes.

Just before the program's main event, all of the Klamath Racing Association drivers and owners gathered in front of the stands to present Nealin with a sterling silver punch bowl as a token of appreciation for what he has done for racing in this area. Bob Crawley, Matt Christian and Benny Morrison made the presentation on behalf of the association.

Next weekend will be packed with hardtop racing as a twin-program has been scheduled by track manager Jack Lute. Monday's Labor Day race will feature a 50 lap main event.

West Edges East In B Shrine Game

PENDLETON — The West All-Stars beat back a powerful fourth quarter surge by the East squad to win the third annual Oregon class B high school Shrine benefit football game 14-13 here Saturday.

Rudy Herr from Brownsville High did all of the West's scoring. His one-yard touchdown plunge climaxed a 72-yard march from the opening kickoff. Then early in the last quarter he scored again on a short plunge after advancing the ball within inches of the goal line on a 14-yard break. Both his conversions were good.

East missed the crucial point in the third quarter when Duane Baker of Jone failed in a conversion attempt after he had pushed over for a touchdown.

Larry Sayrs of Moro paced a drive in the fourth quarter that gave East a touchdown in 10 plays. He talked on a pass from Stanfield's Erloy Sutton. This time Baker scored the extra point.

Sayrs was leading what appeared to be another scoring drive when he was injured by a hard West tackle and had to be carried off the field.

East, which had moved from its 44 to West's 34, was trying for a field goal when the game ended.

Herr was chosen the game's most valuable player. Most valuable West back, Herr excepted, was Monroe's Ray Jayner. Top West lineman honors went to Sam Smith of St. Paul.

Ed Newton, Joseph, was East's top lineman and Sayrs, East's best back.

A crowd of 8,500 saw the game, which gave West a 2-1 lead in the series.

East 0 0 6 7-13
West 7 0 7-13
East scoring: Touchdowns, Baker, Sayrs; Conversion, Baker.
West scoring: Touchdowns, Herr 2; Conversions, Herr 2.

49ers Capture Fourth Straight

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The San Francisco 49ers aren't being very subtle about their intent to shed their runner-up role this season in the National Football League. They've won four pre-season exhibitions in four tries.

It also appears the 49ers who wound up behind the world champion Detroit Lions in the league's western division last season, again can count on their one-two offensive punch-quarterback Y. A. Tittle and fullback Joe Perry. It was Perry who topped the league in 1953 in rushing while Tittle was the No. 2 passer in the western division and third in the full league.

The pair teamed up once again Sunday as the 49ers stomped on the Chicago Cardinals 42-7 at San Francisco. The budding Tittle and the bullish Perry each scored twice.

Elsewhere on the exhibition scene the Green Bay Packers defeated the Pittsburgh Steelers 36-14 at Pittsburgh and the Philadelphia Eagles outlasted the Chicago Bears at Little Rock, Ark., 24-21.

Oregon Hoopsters Win Four Games

SINGAPORE — The University of Oregon basketball team won all four games it played last week in its Far East tour.

The Ducks first defeated the Chinese newspaper, Nanyang Siang Pau, Singapore League champions, 88-52. They downed an All-Star Singapore team, 81-55. Next they defeated the Amoy canning team from Hongkong, 74-62, and Friday night they won from an All-Malaya squad, 88-61.

Rookie Awards Seen For Yank, Cardinal

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK — It doesn't look as though the members of the Baseball Writers Assn. will be able to steam up an argument even among themselves when they sit down to vote for the major leagues' two outstanding rookies of the current season. This is unusual for the boys like to argue.

Unless all signs fail, the balloting will produce an almost unanimous agreement that Wally Moon, the slugging young outfield sensation of the St. Louis Cardinals, and Bob Grim, the part-time bartender who has racked up 17 victories for the Yankees, are the cream of an exceptionally fine crop of freshmen.

The only American Leaguer who might give Grim a small rascal for the honor appears to be Jim Pagan, the crack young third baseman whom the Philadelphia Athletics obtained from the Yankees in their big winter trade. Pagan promises to be a solid 300 hitter and is a slick fielder, but his play with the bedraggled A's scarcely has been as eye-catching as that of Grim in keeping the Yankees in the pennant race.

Moore, the phenom who smote a home run his first time up in the majors and who had a good chance of leading all National League batters in total hits, has no real rival in sight. It has been some time since such a phenomenal cloutier showed up in either league. He's a deer in the field, too.

One of the most interesting features about the emergence of Grim and Moon as outright stars is that neither was even on the parent club's roster when he reported down South the past spring. Moon still was the property of the Cards' Rochester farm club, while Grim, after a two-year hitch with What's more, outside of Palmer no new players have established themselves firmly enough to be sure of selection.

Three of the 13 established internationalists didn't get past their first matches here last week. Three others went out in the third round. One didn't even start and three others aren't currently available for such competition.

From the records, Dale Morey, 1953 runner-up to Gene Little, and Don Cherry, Bill Campbell and Billy Joe Patton are the most likely choices to team up with Palmer and Sweeney. Morey and Cherry lost to the eventual finalists in this year's quarter-finals. Campbell reached the round of 16 for the third straight year. Patton, though eliminated earlier, can stand on his masters and open records.

DETROIT — Arnold Palmer, 24-year-old Cleveland salesman, won the National Amateur championship, defeating Robert Sweeney 1 up.

DETROIT — Ardyn's Ace of Merwulf, a black Labrador owned and handled by Eddie Salwino of Seattle, won Sunday's running of the open all-age stakes of the Puget Sound Retriever Club's fall trials at Horseshoe Lake.

It was a repeat win for Ace, who had topped the Puget Sound field in 1952. Second place went to Massie's Sassy Boots, handled by Roy Gonyea of McKenna, Wash. Third was Hal's Sp-Wise-Zeke, owned and handled by Hal Shidler of Klamath Falls, Ore. Finishing fourth was Jibood Dandy, owned and handled by James W. Bryan Jr. of Bremerton.

In Saturday's derby stakes, Beigh Bumps of Miro-Monito scored first place over a field of 34 dogs. The Labrador is owned by Carnation Farms Kennels and was handled by Garth Stocker.

Top dog in the qualifying stakes was Wagner's Prince, owned and handled by Corydon Wagner of Tacoma.

Pennants Cop Meet; Klamath Eliminated

Hagelstein Selected As Tourney All-Star

CALDWELL, Idaho — The Pennant Shop of Portland rallied for two runs in the seventh inning to defeat the Olympia, Wash., Camerettes, 3-2, and win the women's Northwest softball crown here Sunday.

The Portland team, however, said it would pass up the National Women's Softball championships at Orange, Calif., next month. The runner-up Camerettes will go instead.

Olympia and Portland moved into the championship game undefeated. Trailing by one run at the end of the sixth the Pennant Shop scored twice on singles by Jean Ballard and Lulu Wetzel and a hunt by Sue Landrie, plus an error and a stolen base.

Olympia's Myrtle Pierce was chosen to represent the region as softball queen at the world championships next month.

The J. P. Headliners of Richland, Wash., won the sportsmanship trophy.

Named to the all-star team were: First base, Ruth Hagelstein, Klamath Falls; second base, Betty Burke, Seattle; shortstop, Bernice Thorstenson, Seattle; third base, Jenn Ballard, Portland; catcher, Dolores Johnson, Olympia; outfielders, Ginger Sims, Caldwell; Margie Grant, Olympia; Eileen Plesko, Seattle; utility, Marion Kosak, Boise and pitcher, Daris Barrett, Portland.

Women's Northwest Regional Softball Tournament (Championship Bracket) Portland 2, Seattle 1 (10 innings) Olympia 6, Klamath Falls 5 (11 innings, loser eliminated)
