

World War II Anniversary Sees World In Same Peril

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Foreign News Analyst

A new war would be unthinkable. Dreadful new weapons would destroy civilization. Peaceful co-existence of two opposed systems, one free and one based on regimentation and slavery, may be possible. The totalitarian system might, if sufficiently appeased, cooperate for peace.

That sounds like today's world. But it was pretty much the situation 15 years ago today on the eve of the greatest war in history. That war started September 1, 1939, when totalitarian Nazi Germany marched into Poland.

Fifteen years later, much of the global drama seemed upside down with principal characters in the wrong roles. But otherwise, little has changed and the world seems almost to have come a complete circle.

Fifteen years ago it was the Berlin-Rome-Tokyo Axis. Today it is the Moscow-Peking Axis. Fifteen years ago the issue was freedom against slavery. Today it is the same. Fifteen years ago the price of peaceful existence was a free hand for totalitarian expansion.

Fifteen years ago the world had gone through rehearsals in Spain, Ethiopia and Manchuria for the global war to come. Today's world has seen similar actions in Korea and Indochina.

But there are some big differences. World War II was preceded by a series of aggressions. The League of Nations, then the world's hope of global cooperation for peace, did nothing. But in Korea the United Nations, or at least that segment of it willing to support the United States, met aggression with armed resistance and the aggression was halted.

Before World War II, the United States was unarmed, unprepared and just struggling out of the effects of a devastating world economic depression. Today the United States has a stockpile of powerful deterrents—atomic weapons. It has a string of strategic air bases poised and ready. And the American economy has been flourishing.

Then the United States was largely on the sidelines in the former hope that the rest of the world could fight out its own wars without involving Americans. Today the United States, perhaps even a bit against its will, finds itself thrust into a position of world leadership.

701 MAIN STREET, KLAMATH FALLS

OH, GIVE ME A PLATE, where the chili beans wait, is the theme song for the barbecue to be served Wednesday night, September 1 at 5 p.m. for all Lake and Klamath County teachers in Klamath Falls for the teacher's institute. General chairman is Mrs. Beulah Elliott of Altamont Junior High School. Pictured here are members of her committee (l to r) Valma Tenney, Altamont; LaMar K. Jensen, music department; KUHS; Gerald Clemens, principal at Conger School; William Kurtz, Summers School and Helen Montgomery, Chiloquin. The barbecue, sponsored by the Oregon Education Association, will replace the usual banquet.

SHERRIE BAGLEY, YREKA, Siskiyou County high school student, is competing for the crown of the Weed Italian Carnival queen to be held in Weed September 4, 5 and 6. The carnival is sponsored by the Weed Chamber of Commerce.

Shivers Won By Big Margin

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — The final report on Saturday's Texas Democratic runoff primary gives Gov. Allan Shivers a whopping 92,406-vote edge over Ralph W. Yarborough.

The unofficial Texas Election Bureau said some 2,500 votes in 20 counties were uncounted. With 234 counties of Texas' 254 complete, Shivers had 773,690 votes to 681,284 for Yarborough, the Austin attorney who now has twice failed to unseat the conservative Shivers.

Shivers defeated Yarborough in 1952 by a vote of more than 300,000. He led in the July primary, after receiving the blessings of President Eisenhower, by 23,787 votes.

It was Shivers who in '52 led the state's Democratic Party organization into the Republican fold and carried the state for Eisenhower after actively campaigning for the GOP ticket.

USAF Changes Pay Policy

Secretary of the Air Force Harold E. Talbot publicly released a bombshell of financial news recently when he stated Air Force personnel will be paid twice each month beginning in October.

The plan will be on an experimental, six-month basis, according to the official USAF statement, and will apply to all enlisted personnel with an optional clause applying to commissioned personnel. An officer who elects the once a month payment will receive his pay on the fifth of the month; those desiring semi-monthly pay checks will receive them on the fifth and the twentieth. An important attraction to the new system is that pay days can be advanced in the event they fall on Sundays, holidays or other non-working days. Finance personnel say that they expect no change in payments of allotments. Checks will be mailed to dependents once a month as in the past. Only the take-home pay is involved under the new payment policy.
