Holman Holds Court Session

A 21-year-old Florida truck driver who admitted to police that he swindled a blind man and looted a Klamath Falls bowling alley was sentenced to two years in Oregon State Prison late Monday after pleading guilty to a burglary charge.

The defendant, Robert Lee Sasser of Palm Harbor, Florida, was sentenced by Circuit Judge Ralph M. Holman of Oregon City, who held a "between trains" court session here. Judge Holman has a supreme court to preside in this county.

District Attorney Frank Alderson told Judge Holman that Sasser and a 16-year-old boy broke into the Lucky Lanes Bowling Alley on August 3 and stole $30 in cash and some bowling equipment. Alderson said Sasser also admitted he passed six pieces of a Nevada road map cut to size as one dollar bills on Pete Jones, blind news vendor at the courthouse.

Sasser waived grand jury investigation and pleaded guilty to the burglary charge before sentence was passed upon him.

Robert Seymour of Milwaukee, Wisconsin, who wound up a transcontinental automobile trip with a burglary at a Chemult service station, was sentenced by Judge Holman to six months in the county jail. He had pleaded guilty.

After hearing a plea for leniency from Defense Attorney Wilbur O. Brickner, Judge Holman placed J. W. George, charged with non-support of his wife and six small children, on three years probation. He ordered George to pay $175 a month for family support. However, Judge Holman told the defendant if he resumed living with his family, other financial arrangements could be made.

Henry Zehe, 47, charged with molesting a seven year old girl in a Klamath Falls theater, was ordered held for examination by Oregon State Hospital psychiatrists. Judge Holman deferred sentencing Zehe after he pleaded guilty to contributing to the delinquency of a minor. He said he would dispose of the case after a hospital report on Zehe's mental condition has been received.

Judge Holman arrived in Klamath Falls from Oregon City Tuesday at 2:26 p.m. on the South-

Among the new hats: A fezz-like affair which pulls down over the ears as though it were over-sized—hides even the short hair-dos of today. Coupled with the new-fashioned designs which tend to extend the neck and accentuate tallness and slimness.

The crux of it all in this particular arrangement is the need for tall slenderness to wear this fashion the way it was apparently intended. There are numerous variation possibilities for this style, with some hats cut down to almost berets.

Generally, it seems, high necklines are in order in this fashion.

Control of the wardrobe is important to any girl; and (mixing apples with oranges) so is control of the most important of all our foods... Milk.

It is milk's importance to our health and good living which makes it so necessary to control properly. That's why we have our Milk Marketing Act here in Oregon. The act assures you folks of a constant supply of good milk, and at the same time it helps my boss to maintain a Grade "A" dairy... and with all of it milk is still the best deal you can ever find on the market.

Plaids are getting more popular than ever. In the shorts line, they have become top choice among the discriminating.

Also new in shorts... gray cowhide. Expected to give flannels a run for the money on campuses, come Fall. All the way from Bavaria.—BESSY.

Republicans Meet To Plan Battle For Fall Elections

CINCINNATI (AP) — Republicans today as they prepared to wind up in conferences with Vice President Nixon a strategy-planning session for the November election battle over control of Congress.

Nixon flew into town last night with the observation that he would be "too busy with other things" even to read the reports of a Senate. Investigations subcommittee which criticized in varying degrees the actions of Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) and Secretary of the Army Stevens in their televised controversy.

Nixon told reporters he thinks a proposed GOP National Committee statement of issues stressing a "peace, progress and prosperity" theme offers "good objectives to emphasize in the campaign."

National Chairman Leonard W. Hall, who told Nixon party leaders are "confident but not overconfident" of retaining control of both houses in the November balloting, dismissed the McCarthy-Army report as unlikely to have much, if any, effect on the outcome.

Hall said, with an air of not caring, that he has no knowledge of any plans McCarthy may have to campaign for Republican senatorial candidates.

A conference subcommittee, headed by Harry Darby of Kansas, brushed aside the anti-Communist issue with three brief sentences in a 990-word campaign document which said the "basic issue" before the voters is:

"The Eisenhower administration must have a Republican Congress to complete the Republican program of peace, progress and prosperity, now well under way."

Expected adoption of this slogan appeared to represent complete agreement by party organization leaders with President Eisenhower's contention that his legislative program — and not a continuing controversy with the Democrats
