MRS. JOSEPH VEROFF . . . who, before her marriage in the chapel of the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor, was Joanne (Jody) Bennet, daughter of the Warren Bennets — prominent Klamath Basin family. Her husband is son of the Max Veroffs, Hartford, Connecticut. Mr. and Mrs. Bennet and Betty went to Ann Arbor for the wedding; and Betty was attendant for her sister. The veil Jody wears (above) was worn by her sister, Nancy (Mrs. Charles McLaughlin Jr.), San Francisco. (Story on inside page).

A CAMPUS ROMANCE . . . at Oregon State College led Kay Johnston and Warren Wendt to the altar at First Presbyterian Church last Saturday, where they exchanged nuptial vows at 4 p.m. The Rev. Dale Hewitt officiated at the service which united two well-known Southern Oregon families, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Johnston, Keno Road, parents of the bride; and Mr. and Mrs. Chester Wendt, long-established Medford family, parents of the bridegroom.

Kay and Warren are both graduates of Oregon State College. She has been with the Portland Gas Company as home economist; and Warren, graduate engineer, will be with Boeing Aircraft in Seattle, where they will live until he reports for service. (Story on inside page).

"LAST-OF-VACATION" PARTY FOR HOUSEGUESTS

DINNER PARTY . . . was given by Diane Oldenburg, above left; for Kathryn (Kathie) Hill, center; and Audrey Bernard, right; last Saturday night. Both are from Yerington, Nevada, and are classmates of Diane's at University of Nevada, where all are affiliated with Pi Beta Phi sorority. The buffet dinner and dancing party for twenty at the home of Diane's parents, Dr. and Mrs. Ray W. Oldenburg, 1228 Pacific Terrace, was a top end-of-vacation social event for the high-school-college crowd.

FIVE OF THE GUESTS . . . at the dinner party decided they'd not only known each other most of their lives . . . but discovered during the swapping of birth dates, etc., that they were ALL Dr. Ray W. Oldenburg "babies." He'd been busy taking pictures of daughter Diane's party until that time — but was soon hauled into the above pose after the camera was turned over to Mrs. Oldenburg to take the picture of the five "babies" and the one who had known ALL of them the longest. From the left, Carolyn Fulton, daughter of Mrs. Louise Fulton; Marcia Wilson, daughter of Mrs. Herbert W. (Herb) Wilson; Roberta McCoy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Stewart; Linda Pope, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Pope, Chiloqu; and in front, Jack Prock, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Prock. (See story).
