STOCKS

NEW YORK — The stock market was higher Monday with some issues strong and leadership revolving between major divisions.

As a usual thing, prices seldom advanced more than 1 to 2 points, but a few issues pushed up smartly.

Trading was moderate, coming to an estimated 1,900,000 shares. Oils and coppers were early leaders, and late in the session the steels, railroads, and motors took over that job.

Basin Briefs

Officers of Highway 97 Okanogan Cariboo Trail Association named at the annual meeting in Bend, September 10 and 11 were: president, Alex Bowie of Prince George, B.C.; United States vice president, O. H. Erickson, Yakima, Washington; Canadian vice president, George Hay, Kamloops, B.C.; United States secretary, Chester C. Kimm, Wenatchee, Washington; Canadian secretary, Jack Bews, Kelowna, B.C. Among directors elected were Ben Fanning, representing Deschutes County, and Keith Cobo, representing Klamath County.

R. Frank Tucker, Klamath County Chamber of Commerce manager, was moderator of a panel discussion on "tourism" by Ernest Evans, commissioner, British Columbia Travel Bureau; C. E. Johns, executive secretary, Washington State Advertising Commission; and Carl W. Jordan, travel information division, Oregon State Highway Commission.

Highlights of the discussion were: 850,000 persons from the United States left $70,000,000 in British Columbia in 1952. Twenty thousand more Canadian cars crossed the boundary to enter the United States than did United States cars to enter Canada. Highway 97 accounted for 10 per cent British Columbia's tourist travel from this country.

In Washington "tourism" from out of state amounted to $134,500,000 in 1952 of which $2,500,000 was received in gas taxes, $2,700,000 in sales taxes and $390,000 in amusement taxes.

The 1954 Oregon survey indicates that there were 16,000 less out of state cars than last year, but individual daily expenditures were slightly higher and length of stays were longer resulting in a $125,000,000 income, the same as last year.

Obstacles to be overcome in expanding or even maintaining "tourism" in the Northwest are the distances from heavy population centers and the strong competition in promotional advertising by other states and foreign countries. Two favorable factors are the region's varied, unexcelled scenic attractions and the proximity of California's rapidly expanding population.

As it has been proven that tourists almost always make loop trips, steps to take to develop "tourism" are: cooperative efforts by British Columbia, Washington and Oregon travel departments in national promotion of the Northwest; individual efforts of those same agencies to publicize their respective areas; and finally, community and personal effort to sell tourists on local area attractions.

Other speakers were: Wilfred R. Woods, publisher, the Wenatchee Daily World, on "Highways to International Understanding"; O. R. Dinsmore, assistant director of highways, State of Washington, on "Problems of Modern Highway Construction"; Honorable Phil Gagliardi, minister of public works, British Columbia, on "The Development of Highway 97 in British Columbia, and Its Importance as an International Route."

Plans were laid for immediate production of a map folder of Highway 97 from Weed, California, to Alaska and to be ready for distribution in March. The executive committee was authorized to develop a permanent folder and ways and means of mass publication.

In attendance from Klamath Falls were R. Frank Tucker, chamber of commerce manager, Mrs. Dorothy Wicks and Keith Cobo, City Center Lodge. The largest delegation was from Kamloops, B.C., which arrived in a 20-car caravan. The most colorful delegate was Sergeant Tom Conner, Royal Canadian Mounted Police.
