Zeke Third In Amateur

Oakcreek's Sir Dorchester walked off with the top honor in the annual fall retriever trial sponsored by the Shasta Cascade Retriever Club at the Mable Liskey Lost River Ranch this past weekend.

The male Golden owned and handled by Jim Stilwell of Klamath Falls went into the last series of the Open All Age class with eight other retrievers, including some of the best known dogs in the sport today, to come out on top of the judges scorecards.

Stilwell sent his dog through the last series, a water blind, with near perfect work to clinch the tough competition, in which 24 dogs were entered at the start of the open division.

Second place went to Noah of Swineland, a Labrador owned by the Carnation Farm Kennel of Seattle and handled by Garth Stocker also of Seattle, while Staindrop Kam, another Lab owned and handled by Edward R. Spaulding of Santa Barbara, was third.

FOURTH PLACE
The judges gave the fourth place honor to Oakcreek's Van Cleve, a smooth working little Golden owned by A. Schmidt of Portland and handled by Roy Gonja of McKenna, Washington.

Certificates of merit went to Jibodad Mixx a Labrador owned by Adolph Habra of Dayton, Oregon and handled by Gonja, Manzanal, Nimbis, another black Lab owned by Ann and Edward Spaulding and handled by the latter, and Marlan's Timothy, a male Labrador owned by Mrs. Martin McPhail of Olympia.

In the amateur division, Spaulding's Staindrop Kam won top honors by taking first place, and the number two finish went to another Lab owned by Wellington Henderson of San Francisco and handled by Herbert Fleishacker also of Frisco.

Third place was won by Hall's Sp-Wis-Zeke, a sharp moving Labrador owned and handled by Hal Shidler of Klamath Falls, with the fourth and final placing being given to Jupiter of Avandale, a male owned and handled by F. R. Bacon of San Mateo, California.

QUALIFYING
Beaver Creek Tory, a Lab owned and handled by P. H. Thede of Salem took first spot among the entries in the qualifying division, by beating out second place holder Whincovert Tango, a male Labrador owned by Ann Spaulding and handled by her husband Edward Spaulding.

The remaining two positions in the division were presented to Bee-wacker's Chester, a male Chesapeake owned and handled by E. J. Rowe of San Francisco, and Princess Black Belle, a female Labrador owned and handled by Earl Wescott of Medford.

The first division, the Derby Stake, was topped by Sparkie of Madosa, a Lab owned by Mable Samuelson of San Francisco and handled by Snuffy Bellevue also of Frisco.

Second place in the young dog event was taken by Patsy of Swinomish, owned and handled by Jack DeVaney, while third and fourth places were taken by Top Secret of Madosa also owned by Mrs. Samuelson and handled by Bellevue, and Eight Ball Tabasco a male Labrador owned and handled by Arnie Molling.

CERTIFICATE OF MERIT
Certificates of merit in the Derby event were awarded to Rough Bumps of Mira Monte, Carnation Farms' Black Lab handled by Garth Stocker, Myrtle's Tar Baby owned by Guy S. McAdams and handled by Carl Newell, Bracken's Flash, owned and handled by C. Weldon Cline, Rocky Mack owned and handled by Harold Mack Jr., and the final C.M. award went to Sad Sack Mack, a male Labrador owned by Ida Bevans and handled by Pat Montgomery.

The three day retriever trial was judged by Mable Shidler and Jim Stilwell in the derby and qualifying rounds, while Ed Minogose of Beaverton, Oregon, and Edward Fleishman of Sebastopol, California acted as the judges in the amateur and open all age divisions.

The trials official gunners were led by Dick Morgan the gun captain, Larry Watkins, Jim Pinniger, Fred Barnes and Andy Klum. Norman House was chairman of the three day trial, while Don Stroud, Bill Jones, Walter Hoag and Webb Staunton served as members of the field trial committee.

JUDGED TOP DOGS of the annual Shasta Cascade Club's retriever trial held this past weekend on Mable Liskey's Lost River Ranch were Oakcreek's Sir Dorchester, a Golden, and Staindrop Kam, a black Labrador. Right, Jim Stilwell, Klamath Falls owner and handler of Sir Dorchester, better known as Zeke, after the Golden won the Open All Age division yesterday.

Washington's Huskies Shy Experienced Men

By JACK HEWINS
SEATTLE (AP) — About the only thing Coach Johnny Cherberg needs before his University of Washington football team opens the season here Saturday against Utah is a quarterback named H. The squad Johnny will expose to the hazards of a rugged schedule is three-deep in inexperience. The fact that one of his sophomore ends is named Bud Green is just a coincidence, but the line is green from wing to wing and only three regulars are back from the club that won three, lost six and tied one game in 1953. The team grades AAA for potential, but "7" for immediate delivery. But hope and optimism are making yardage in the Washington camp as the sophomores settle into their jobs. If (there's that man again) the illness and injury

Henley Fights Lakeview To 0-0 Deadlock

Henley and Lakeview opened their seasons on an even note last Saturday afternoon as the two high school grid teams battled to a 0-0 tie on the Hornets home field.

Both teams threatened to dent the scoring column, but for one reason or another, neither could manage to collect a score. In the second quarter, Henley recovered a fumble on the Lakeview 30 yard line, and in the next few plays work the ball into the end zone, but the touchdown was nullified because of an offside penalty against the Hornets.

Lakeview's closest look at pay dirt was in the fourth and final period of play, as the Hornets drove within two yards of the end zone, but a goal line stand by the Hornets held the visiting Lakeview team.

Jibodad Gypsy Wins At Missoula

MISSOULA, Mont. (AP) — The open all-age stake of the Western Montana Retriever Club's annual American Kennel Club Trial was won here Sunday by Jibodad Gypsy, a black female Labrador owned and handled by James W. Bryan Jr. of Bremerton, Wash.

Ardyn's Ace of Merwallin, a black Labrador owned and handled by Eddie Saldino of Seattle was second.

Of the 25 starting dogs, only seven completed the final test—a blind retrieve from water.

Johnny Hitson, the leading driver in the point standings, copped his second straight main event, and virtually sewed up the number one position in the point standings in action at the Gem Speedway hardtop races yesterday afternoon.

The driver of K-7 and Crawley have battled all season for the point leadership, and yesterday continued that fight in the main event, as both drivers staged a do-or-die battle in the program's A-main, with Hitson edging Crawley in a very good and close race.

In the program's B-main, Heerb Schultz piloted his K-77 car into first place of the 15 lap event, in front of Buff Runnels and Bob Morrison in the number two and three finish positions.

Morrison, who is driving his brother's car while Benny is on vacation, rolled the little K-8 hardtop into the winner's circle of the C-race of 10 laps, while second and third places were taken by Dave Vincent and Jack Charlton respectively.

Nell Mayfield was leading the field of entries in the final heat race, until Crawley took the lead away from him in the last 100 feet or so before the cars received the checkered flag from the starter.

Behind Crawley at the finish line, in what was a good and close race all the way, was Mayfield for second place honors and Bud Cook, who copped a third place finish.

In the trophy dash, Jim Barrett picked up his first such win, by beating out second place Jerry Barlow, Buff Runnels and Herb Schultz were the other two drivers in the four lap event.

In the four 10 lap heat races, Barlow, Barrett, Runnels and Schultz picked up the winner's checks, while second places were taken by Charlton, Cook, Pee Wee Routs and Jim Crawley in K-66. The third place finishers of the 10 lappers were Wes Owens, John Mazingo, Mayfield and Wes Bishop.

Track manager Jack Lute, announced that yesterday's program was the next to last one this season, and a big program that is scheduled for next Sunday afternoon would put the lid on the local racing scene until next summer.
