

A DESERT HOTEL OF THE PAST will be only a memory when crews finish tearing down this historic old building at Plush. The square frame building has been a Mecca for colored glass hunters for years, has shaded resting parties of antelopes on their annual trek and has brought forth many nostalgic memories of early days to those who paused in their travels to look. The old building had one thing that you don't see on modern hotels; a permanent "vacancy" sign nailed to the wall.

HOME EXTENSION

TRAINING DAY

Frances Clinton, state leader, home extension service, present for the annual leaders training day at the Klamath County Fairgrounds, September 14, led a discussion on "What Makes the Unit Program Tick?" It was decided including a well-organized agenda with meetings starting on time. Another important phase is to have all women concentrate on the subject under discussion.

The meeting was held for the 75 officers of Klamath County Home Extension Units.

Mrs. Clara Scott, Malin, conducted the sessions, assisted by Mrs. Pearl McPherson, Midland.

Specific training for the various offices was conducted during the afternoon, following a hot dish luncheon prepared and served by the Shasta-Homedale Unit.

Presidents and vice presidents met with Miss Clinton. Secretaries and treasurers reviewed their responsibilities with Hope Holbrook, Klamath County extension agent.

Publicity chairmen met with Mrs. Ruth King of the Herald and News staff for copy pointers and 4-H chairmen conferred with Mary McConnell local club agent.

Mrs. Margaret Holliday and Mrs. Helen Cook reported on their June trip to the state council meeting in Corvallis. They reminded officers of the type of planning that is done by the state executive group for the county home extension programs.

"The smooth-spreading texture of BLUE BONNET Margarine makes a hit with me—as does its sunny-sweet flavor. BLUE BONNET wins on the nutritional score, too. Unlike most margarine, it contains both vitamins A and D. So I always insist on BLUE BONNET for all 3: Flavor, Nutrition and Economy."

U.S. Farm Fire Losses Reported

More than $129,000,000 in property on American farms was lost to fire in the last 12 months according to the National Fire Protection Association and the United States Department of Agriculture. Farming is a big business and farm property is worth protecting against fire.

Despite the size of the fire loss, fully 90 per cent of it could have been prevented if farmers had eliminated the common fire hazards that they now tolerate. For that reason, the NFPA urges all farmers to take fire safety precautions during Fire Prevention Week, October 3-9 and throughout the year. State agricultural extension services are cooperating.

Control Of Bees And Wasps Told

Control of bees and wasps around homes and farm buildings is discussed in a new circular published by Oregon State College extension service. Effective poisons, how to use them, or how to move a swarm of bees to a new location to avoid destroying them are discussed in the circular.

Copies of the circular are available at the Klamath County extension agents office in the post office building.
