

STOWELL-FRANKLIN VOWS EXCHANGED IN ST. PAUL'S

THE DAY . . . THE HOUR . . . AND THE MOMENT . . . scheduled, rehearsed and awaited, is here. That "last look" at Linda Franklin, bride-elect; before she became Mrs. Thomas Edwin Stowell. Sharing the brief interlude are her attendants, left, Mrs. William Herman Jr., Marjorie Miller, (directly back of Linda) bridesmaids; and Mrs. Wayne O'Neale, bride's sister and matron of honor.

BRIDAL PARTY . . . in St. Paul's Episcopal Church after the ceremony. From the left, Mrs. William Herman Jr., Marjorie Miller, Mrs. Wayne O'Neale, the new Mr. and Mrs. Stowell; Dolf Larsen Jr., Gail Osborne and Wayne O'Neale.

In a gown of Viennese lace and tulle, nipped in bodice of lace; bouffant skirt and train of tulle with scattered lace applique; and modified Windsor collar topped the yoke of illusion — Linda Lou Franklin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Franklin, 5600 Harlan Drive, was a radiant bride, September 12, as she was escorted down the aisle in St. Paul's Episcopal Church by her father, who gave her in marriage to Thomas Edwin Stowell, son of Mrs. Hazel Adams, Pittsfield, Massachusetts.

A close fitting half-halo fashioned of a wisp of lace, silk net and a twist of pearls secured with seed pearl encrusted side clips held the full three-quarter veil of illusion. She carried a white prayer book topped with three cyrillidiums.

Gold, yellow and white chrysanthemums formed a colorful background for the 4 p.m. ceremony read by the Rev. Galen Onstad.

Mrs. Robert J. O'Sullivan, organist, played the traditional wedding marches and accompanied St. Paul's Choir.

Bridal attendants all wore dresses of nylon tulle with cinch waistlines of smooth satin. Rows of scalloped pleated tulle framed the strapless bodices with attached stoles. The bouffant skirts of nylon tulle featured a repeat of the satin in a wide band inserted halfway between waist and hemline.

Mrs. Wayne O'Neale, sister of the bride, matron of honor; was in an interesting shade of coral; bridesmaids, Margie Miller and Mrs. William Herman Jr. (Margaret Davis) wore deep turquoise — contrasting beautifully with Mrs. O'Neale's coral frock. All wore two-strand pearl chokers and carried arm bouquets of yellow chrysanthemums. Floral caps of pompoms matched the bouquets.

Ginger McEachern and Steven Minch served as flower girl and ring bearer, respectively. She was a replica of the senior bride attendants; and young Steven was handsome in a white jacket.

Best man was Dolf Larsen; and Wayne O'Neale shared ushering duties with Gail Osborne.

Mrs. Franklin, bride's mother, wore a charming dress of dove gray Chantilly lace over matching taffeta; autumn grape accessories and a corsage of white roses.

Mrs. Atlanta, mother of the bridegroom, was unable to be here for the occasion.

At the reception in the parish hall, Mrs. Dale Webster (Cleo Cadwell), Mrs. Charles Wagner (Jean Selby) and Mrs. Jack Metler poured; Mrs. Ronald Wilkerson (Pat Cunningham) and Mrs. Glen Kauts (Barbara Dunlavy) cut the cake; and Ida Tenetosa registered the guests.

The four tiered cake was decorated with pale yellow roses, white sugar bells, blue birds and white doves.

For travel, Linda wore a brown checked ensemble with brown accessories. The couple spent their honeymoon in Eastern Oregon.

A NEW "MR. AND MRS." on the Top of the Hill campus—the Tom Stowells, who will continue as students at OTI. She was Linda Franklin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Franklin, before her wedding September 12, to Thomas Edwin Stowell, son of Mrs. Hazel Adams, Pittsfield, Massachusetts.

in Massachusetts; and served in the U.S. Navy for two years prior to entering the army during Korean War. He spent 15 months of three years' army service in Korea. He also attended Massachusetts State College at Amherst; and is presently enrolled at OTI

—a transfer from Oregon State (surveying). Both will be graduated next June.

From out of town were Dolf Larsen, and Mr. and Mrs. William Herman Jr., Medford; Mrs. Ronald Wilkerson, Ashland; and Mrs. W. R. Bailey, Orland, California.

WHITE DAHLIAS in large arrangements were the floral background for the ceremony—and graceful sprays of fuschia marked the pews for the wedding of Robert French to Jacqueline Hinkle. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. (Larry) French, 1412 Crescent Avenue; prominently identified with civic and social life throughout the Klamath Basin.

The reception was in the fireplace room of the church. Mrs. Hinkle received in a gray dress with pink accessories; bridegroom's mother in navy blue; and they wore carnation corsages, pink and white, respectively.

Before the couple left for the trip to the Oregon Coast and Klamath Falls, Jacqueline changed to a beige wool jersey dress topped with a plaid wool packet.

MR. AND MRS. ROBERT L. (Bob) FRENCH . . . married in Trinity Methodist Church, Toledo, Oregon; home of Jacqueline Hinkle, who was claimed by the Klamath Falls man as his bride, September 12, in a 3 p.m. ceremony read by the Rev. William H. Lavelly.

Mrs. Lavelly was vocal soloist for the wedding, accompanied by organist, Kay Kiesow.

The bride, escorted by her father, E. H. Hinkle, who gave her in marriage, was striking in a simple waltz length dress of white bridal lace. Her small shell crowned headdress was of the same lace with a flattering ripple brim. A brief veil of tulle was attached in gathered fullness across the back.

Jacqueline carried a white Bible topped with a small arrangement of American Beauty rosebuds.

Her only attendant was her sister, Mrs. Norma Atkinson, who wore American Beauty velvet and taffeta; picking up the shades of the bride's bouquet; and her old fashioned nosegay of white gladioli emphasized the dramatic color contrast on the two dresses.

Orval Burton was best man; Richard Spores and Jim Isom ushered. The couple will live on Mare Island, Vallejo; where Bob is on the U.S. Navy Hospital staff.

KLAMATH SADDLE CLUB

The Saddle Club, in conjunction with the Klamath Sheriff's posse were guests of the Lakeview Rodeo and drilled on Monday September 6, Bonnie McMahon, Bessie Lilly, Darlene Blackman, Pat Beyer, Baba Hall, Isabel Dehlinger, Lucille Ring, Audrey Herick and Lura Dunlavy were active participants. Other members were in Lakeview to give moral support.

A moonlight ride was scheduled for the next Saturday, with Georgia Lane and Ernie Read arranging details. September 11 at 8 p.m., eleven members and husbands assembled at the Read home, Gayle and Vern Quigley, Pat and Fred Beyer, Georgia and Carl Lane, Ernie and Charlie Read, Lura and Ralph Dunlavy and Dan Enrick. Carl and Dan drove the pickup with food, and the rest rode, picking up Jim and Ginny and Darlene and Duane Blackman farther on.

At the gravel pit on the Old Merrill Highway chile beans, salad, coffee and sandwiches were served. The weather was perfect and all enjoyed the outing immensely.

OREGON REALTORS STATE MEET HERE

Committees for the 20th Annual Educational Conference of Oregon Realtors are working overtime on final arrangements for the convention, according to Al Longe, general chairman.

Other committee chairmen include Ron Fisher, co-chairman with Longe; Women's Activities and Registration Committees, Goral Saboy, Transportation, Vernon Duran, chairman; Andy Silant, co-chairman; Program Advertising, Deane Sacher; and auditing, Bob Chilcote.

Andy Silant is president of the Klamath Board of Realtors and Claire Ellis is secretary.

The conference is slated for September 30 and October 1-2, with headquarters at the Willard Hotel. The meet is expected to draw over 300 visiting realtors and their wives.

At the last regular meeting, September 7, at the old clubhouse, president Bessie Lilly reported that the new clubhouse has been cleaned up, scrubbed and part of it is now ready to paint and start the electrical work.

Ruth Williams, Bonnie McMahon and Vi Hill are to see about paint, a stove and other needed furniture items. Several girls have been working afternoons on this cleanup project.

Dottie Poole invited the club to her ranch for an overnight ride and potluck dinner, the exact date to be decided later. Gladys Orrell and Pat Kirkpatrick were asked to attend the Klamath Basin Civil League meeting September 29.

The buckaroo breakfast for the realtors convention has not definitely been decided as to date, but it will be at Ruth Williams' home, probably Saturday morning, October 2.

Lorraine Enrick is chairman of the committee for the breakfast. All members are requested to help cook and serve. Hostesses for the evening, Helen Balentine and Margie Brown, served coffee, homemade cookies and dessert.

The next regular meeting will be held at Blanche Balsiger's home October 5. Another moonlight ride before the winter weather really sets in was talked about, and the Merrill Potato Festival parade will be next month.

Job's Queen On TV Program

Jackie Ackerman, honored queen of Job's Daughters, Bethel No. 6, was one of the honored queens appearing on Channel 5, Medford, station KBES-TV, Thursday, September 23, 4:30 p.m., on a program with the grand guardian of the state of Oregon, Mrs. Dorothy Crump.

This program pertained to Bethel work and this year's philanthropic project, financed by a statewide candy sale.

Klamath Falls, third largest of 51 Bethels in the state, will have a quota of 1200 boxes to sell. The money earned from this project will be allotted as follows: A portion to the Dannelle Brown Memorial Fund for research in the field of Leukemia; the adoption of a child in Korea; and a contribution toward the securing of a Seeing Eye dog for Gayle Sandine from Bethel No. 45.

Also an apron sale is soon planned.
