

Giants Take Second Straight Game

New York Posts 5-1 Win

By GAYLE TALBOT
CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Indians were a poor security risk today, and they knew it. The special train which rolled through the night to bring manager Al Lopez's dejected troops back to the home folks and the third game of the World Series was a very unhappy equipage.

Not only were the once-proud American League champion down 2-0 in games to the surprising Giants, but they were down as well to the third and least vaunted member of their "Big Three" pitching punch, Mike Garcia. They knew they were in bad trouble, and could only hope they were about to come out of the hitting slump which had left 20 of their number stranded on the Polo Grounds bases the last two fateful days.

CAME OUT
 As for Leo Duricher's Giants, they came out of yesterday's convincing 3-1 victory over Early Wynn dead certain they had at least an even chance of closing it out by tomorrow night.

Their second pitcher, young Johnny Antonelli, had throttled the Tribe in the pinches after seeing his first pitch knocked clear out of sight by Al Smith, Cleveland's left-fielder. Today they were going with Ruben Gomez, the sad-eyed Puerto Rican screwballer who won 17 games in his sophomore season. His teammates firmly believe he would tie the Indians in knots.

Seldom, surely, has a World Series seen such an abrupt and early change in fortunes. It is difficult to realize that the Cleveland club, winner of 111 games, opened the series only two days ago as nearly 2-1 favorites. The failure of Lopez's sluggers to hit with men on base has been incredible.

Almost equally incredible had been the success of Duricher's men in that respect. They solved Wynn, the 23-game winner, for only four hits in the second game—half as many as the Tribe socked off Antonelli. Yet only one of them was wasted, and only three Giants died on the sacks.

GRITTY GAME
 Antonelli pitched a gritty game. The young lefthander could have glanced at the Giants' bullpen almost any time during the afternoon and see at least one of his hill mates getting ready. But at the end of the bonus kid from Rochester, N.Y., still was master of every situation.

Dusty Rhoads, the pinch-hitter extraordinaire who broke up the opener with his dramatic 10th-inning homerun, again stuck the knife deep in the visitors.

It was Rhoads who knocked his fellow Alabamian, Willie Mays, across with the tying run in the fifth, and put the frosting on the victory with a towering smash against the right field facade in the seventh. He's now within one of the series record for pinch hits.

As it happened, Antonelli had the privilege of knocking in the winning run as well as blinding the Indians with his fast ball and sweeping curves every time they threatened. Johnny's batting effort was only a force-out grounder to second base in the big fifth, but it was sufficient to bring Hank Thompson dashing home from third with the big run the Tribe never got back.

RECORD FOR CRAPPIE?
ELLOREE, S.C. (AP)—James Fennel is finding it difficult to establish if he has a world record in size for the 5-pound, 9-ounce crappie he hooked near here recently. Fennel's catch, which was taken in the waters of the Santee-Cooper reservoir, measured 23 1/2 inches long and had an 18 1/2 inch girth. Records here show only a 3-pound crappie.

NY Club House Man Gets Full Series Cut

By JIMMY BRESLIN
NEA Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK — (NEA) — Each day, when it comes time to take the field for another game wrapped in pennant possibilities, the New York Giants file out of their big clubhouse in center field and walk down to the Polo Grounds turf.

When they leave, it becomes the signal for Eddie Logan, a thin guy who usually wears a T-shirt and some old khaki pants, to walk over to a window looking out on the field and take up a nervous vigil.

Logan is the Giants' clubhouse attendant, has been since 1921. You'd expect him to be a rooster with more than a passing interest.

But a look at Logan during a game, writhing when something goes wrong, leaping from his chair when the Giants get a run, shows you it means a lot more than just seeing his favorites win.

"Boy, you're not kidding," Logan said between innings. "Would you believe it? I got just as much at stake — sitting here in the clubhouse — as they do in the field."

This would be a more than welcome addition to the modest salary he earns by playing nursemaid to the playing and locker room equipment of 25 players.

So, when the game is being played, you take a good look at Logan. Here is a guy who can't hit, throw, field or run, yet his interest is equal to that of a Sal Maglie or Johnny Antonelli.

At times, during a tough game, Logan wishes he could do those things.

"Oh, if I could only get out there with a bat... I'd hit the thing a mile and a half," he moans.

He is, when you think of it, in the same spot as a grandstand fan, who has been told that he will get a full cut if he roots his team home.

Only Eddie just doesn't sit around and cheer. When a Giant hurler is knocked out of the box, he turns and walks off the field and into the clubhouse.

He has Logan to face.

"What are you doing," Logan raps at him, "mooching around with my World Series money?"

After the game, Eddie goes about his business — cleaning baseball shoes, picking up towels, doing the small-looking jobs which give him a living.

But all the time, he is just as worried as the next.

When Eddie Logan says, "We gotta win tomorrow, guys," it means just as much as if he were playing.

Coley Wallace To Meet Baker

CLEVELAND (AP)—Coley Wallace of New York and Bob Baker of Pittsburgh, each hoping to earn a match with the No. 1 heavyweight challenger, Nino Valdez, meet tonight in a nationally televised 10-round bout at Central Armory at 10 p.m. EST.

Wallace, who once defeated Champion Rocky Marciano while both were in the amateur ranks, was a 2 to 1 favorite over Baker and you could get even money that the bout would not go the distance.

Baker currently is ranked ninth among the heavyweight contenders. Wallace, at present, is unranked. Wallace has knocked out 15 men, while Baker has 18 to his credit. The Pittsburgh fighter once won a decision from Valdez.

DOUBLE PLAY CATCH
BERLIN, N. H. (AP)—Big league double plays have little on the one pulled off by Anthony Dube and his son, Donald.

Dube, about 60, and his 33-year-old son were trolling from different boats in Maine's Lake Richardson. Suddenly a vicious strike tore the elder man's rod from his hand and into the water.

Seconds later Donald felt a strike and reeled in to find his line had tangled with another. Attached was father's rod, reel and a 23-inch lake trout.

College Grid Briefs

CORVALLIS, Ore. (AP)—Oregon State Thursday wound up heavy drills for Saturday's Pacific Coast Conference football game against Washington with another session devoted to the problem of stopping the Huskies' passing attack.

The Beavers and the Huskies will play under the lights at Portland Saturday night.

Coach Kip Taylor also had the Beavers working on a passing attack of their own with quarter-serves doing the throwing.

SEATTLE (AP)—Washington's final drill for the Saturday afternoon Pacific Coast Conference football clash with Oregon State will be staged under the lights at Portland Friday night.

The Huskies, who will be playing their first night game since 1944 when they tangle with the Beavers, were to fly to the Rose City late Friday and scheduled an 8 p.m. practice session in Multnomah Stadium.

After a workout here Thursday, Coach Johnny Chereberg refused to name a starting lineup.

"You simply can't be set on a varsity lineup when you see kids fighting their way to the front," he told reporters.

PULLMAN, Wash. (AP)—Facing their toughest test of the new football season, the Washington State Cougars were en route to Austin, Tex., Friday for Saturday's inter-sectional encounter with the Texas Longhorns.

Coach Al Kircher and his traveling squad boarded a chartered plane at Lewiston, Idaho, Thursday night after their final home drills here.

Kircher said he will use the same starters as in last Saturday's game with College of Pacific.

EUGENE, Ore. (AP)—Three key men in the Oregon offense were still on the sidelines Thursday as the Ducks ended drills for Saturday's non-conference football game here with Utah.

Coach Len Casanova listed quarterback George Shaw, end Dick Mobley and fullback Jasper McGee, all nursing injuries, as doubtful starters. He said, however, Shaw, who pulled a leg muscle in last week's game with Stanford, may see some action.

Washington Names Bucky Harris To Manager's Job

DETROIT (AP)—Bucky Harris Friday was named manager of the Detroit Tigers. He succeeds Fred Hutchinson, who resigned Thursday after refusing to accept a one year contract.

The 58-year-old Harris was released as manager of the Washington Senators last week.

Harris managed the Tigers from 1928 to 1933. He never finished in the first division.

In making the announcement, President Walter O. (Spike) Briggs Jr. of the Tigers said:

"Harris comes to us highly recommended. He agreed to a one year contract."

Harris has a long career as a major league manager. He was called the "boy wonder" when he guided the Washington Senators to the American League pennant in 1924-25.

The Tigers always have thought highly of the mild-mannered Harris. They offered him the general manager job in 1946, but he turned it down.

Harris also has managed the New York Yankees, Boston Red Sox and Philadelphia Phillies and San Diego of the Pacific Coast League.

Harris won the American League pennant with the Yankees in 1947. After finishing third in 1948, he was fired by the Yankees.

Briggs reached agreement in a long distance phone call with Harris, who was in Washington.

With Detroit, Harris finished sixth, fifth, seventh, fifth and fifth. Despite this mediocre showing, he reportedly built the foundation which led to Detroit's pennant winning years in 1934 and 1935.

In that period Harris tutored such Tiger greats as Hank Greenberg, Schoolboy Rowe, Gerald Walker and Tommy Bridges.
