Martha Shops And Shops

For The New . . . The Smart . . . The Glamorous

If You Are A Brunette

Don't be deceived by that old saying that "gentlemen prefer blondes" because there's nothing to it. Attention to the little details can turn your basic richness of coloring into something that the man in your life will really go for. Colors suitable for the brunette have a long range but avoid rust, dark green, brown or fuchsia. Heighten the contrast between skin and hair with soft looking make-up. When it comes to this make-up stay away from shades of orange or brown. Accent finger nails with bright reds. Stay away from shades such as purple or blue. Brown mascara is recommended, if you require any at all and the brown should be RICH and lightly brushed. Remember that a skin astringent will be a big help if your skin is inclined to be oily. Freshen oily spots instead of constant repowdering. Application of mild soap and warm water TWICE a day is also very good. Use a cake-type make-up and avoid creamy bases. Here's good hint—pluck eyebrows from underneath so as to get a delicate arch.

Furniture Silhouette

Designers agree that the new season will see a further refinement and development of existing silhouettes rather than a complete change in silhouette. All the way through they talk of a thinner, lighter look, with added elements of richness and strong decorative influence. They decry change for the sake of change, reiterate that furniture design must continue to be influenced by architecture which in turn reflects living habits.

A test-tube permanent

Recently Martha announced that CIRCLETTE permanents were being given by a new shop operated by MRS. ANNABEL WALLACE, at 337 East Main. Unlike most permanents, Circlette can be called a test-tube permanent as each patron is given an off-the-head hair tube test. This means that the customer can get exactly the kind of wave they want because all the unknown hair factors of the individual are known BEFORE the actual permanent is given.

All hair is tested in much the same way. The scalp ends of ten of the longest hair are cemented together and then left in water for a minute or more to remove all set that might be in those hairs, and to put them into the most flexible condition. Then this little wisp of hair is examined for the amount of curl it has and is pulled to see how strong it is, etc. Then it is wound on a regular test curler and given a permanent under measured conditions.

Sandra's Beauty Shop likes this method so well they GUARANTEE all waves, even those given to children! Here you not only get just the type of wave you want but ALL types of hair can be beautifully done. Yes, and done faster, too! This shop, for the reasons mentioned, gives no other kinds of permanents and is an EXCLUSIVE Circlette beauty shop in Klamath.

A New Floral Service

Just opened . . . by Bill and Rita . . . their BUDGET GARDEN, it's a special department . . . a cash and carry department where you can save on special items that are available in small quantities, including cut flowers. Now the man in your life can dash in without much cash and come out with floral beauties that mean so much to us girls. Better tell him about this . . . discreetly of course. Being featured now are Pom Pom Chrysanthemums at just 99c a bunch. Was attracted by what looked like flowers in a cellophane bag so I asked Bill what it was all about. He explained that they were flowers . . . flowers of a permanent nature for making winter bouquets. You make 'em yourself. You take this colorful dry material, and with a few simple instructions, come up with arrangements that will add a lot to the interior of any home at times when you can't pick fresh flowers. Naturally, if you would rather, you can just phone Bill and Rita, 8173, for them. Anyway, if you like to do things yourself a package costs only 1.39 and it gives you one you'll enjoy making these winter bouquets. Large arrangement or several small ones. Better look into this at 430 Main Street.

"American Look" Makeup

Just learned at CURRIN'S Beauty Bar that a dashing new make-up, vivid and gay, has been created for brown haired beauty, representing 60 percent of feminine America. Envy no longer the sleek brunette or the fluffy blonde, for the "American Look" has the wonderful look, the look of brown haired beauty. Matched to the pace of American life, the "American Look" is a natural one, guileless and glowing, seductive with health, enticing in simplicity. Combining softly curved lines with rich, vibrant color, this new way to brown haired beauty bespeaks a whole new era.

The "American Look" by Madame Helena Rubinstein, presupposes deeply burnished, beautifully groomed, shining brown hair . . . hair that dances with highlights, glitters with sheen; hair that is smooth, hair that is manageable. To help make every brown haired woman a brown haired beauty, Madame Helena Rubinstein has created new Brown Glow Shampoo, made to make your brown hair more intense in tone, lustrous and lovely. This new, richly lathering, self rinsing shampoo has a cumulative effect. Each time you wash your hair with new Brown Glow shampoo, you slightly enrich your own natural coloring, create luscious golden-red highlights. Brown Glow shampoo is not a permanent dye or bleach; temporary coloring is achieved through the use of safe, certified colors.

For luminous contrast to beautiful brown hair, Helena Rubinstein has created Beige Glow Minute Make-Up, made to be sheer perfection on the skin of most brown haired beauties. Because it is powder and foundation in one, Beige Glow Minute Make-Up will cling in flattering beauty for hours and hours. Put it generously over your face and neck, relax in the comforting knowledge that a built-in beauty treatment helps keep your skin from drying.

Vivid color accent is given the "American Look" with Wear-With-All Red new texture lipstick. This exciting, colorful, true-red shade was made expressly to highlight the beauty of the brown haired woman, to be worn with every color. Its delightful new texture, combining ingredients to combat dryness, cracking and chapping, makes it a joy to wear. The address . . . 9th and Main.

CURRIN'S

Slated for success

Browsing around Miller's Children's department, Martha couldn't help but be stopped by the new Cinderella dresses—dresses undoubtedly slated for success. They are school-year mainstays that will go to straight to the head of the class . . . and to the heart of the lass who wears one. All rate triple "A" for prettiness, sturdy wear-and-washability and lower-than-you-think prices. Cotton seemed to be the most popular although other materials such as nylon taffeta were in evidence. An especially well liked number was made of seersucker or crinkle crepe that needs no ironing. For the young, young misses, colors were of pastel hues with red, blue, and pink predominating. Some boasted rhinestones! Sizes run from 3 to 14 and are modestly priced from 2.98 to 7.95. Cinderella dresses for sub-teens are strikingly distinctive fashion-wise and sure to be in the groove for fall no matter where they go. Colors for the sub-teens were not as bright as for the smaller fry . . . more sophisticated. Sizes 8 to 14. Priced from 5.95 to 9.95 . . . at 812 Main Street.

MILLER'S

Draperies News and Views

There's a very definite leaning toward white, oyster, pink, green, turquoise and champagne as drapery colors in fashionable circles. Brightness is important and there is a growing interest in larger patterns. Provincial patterns are real popular although modern and traditional are well-liked, too. According to fashion experts, there is also a well defined trend toward the use of better materials, especially in custom-made draperies. Speaking of custom-made draperies, Klamath Furniture has recently taken on a new line—the SCHUMACHER line—a style line FIRST! There is a saying, "that is SCHUMACHER doesn't have all of the wanted colors, designs and patterns, nobody has." One of their specialties is MATCHING wallpaper! Suggest you stop in at 221 Main Street and see the large selection available in either modestly priced draperies or those in the higher price groups. And, don't forget Klamath Furniture has drapery experts who will be happy to come to your home with samples so you will be certain to have harmonious interior surroundings. No obligation of course!
