Teacher Unit Names Chiefs

Officers of the Klamath County Primary Teacher's Council were elected at the October 2 meeting held in the Shasta School auditorium. Jeanette Jackson is the new president. Helen Montgomery is vice president and Pat Strabala is secretary-treasurer. New teachers in the county were introduced. Mrs. Isabelle Brixner, supervisor of elementary grades in Klamath Falls, discussed mineral conservation, to be studied this year by the primary grades. Dennis Ridenour, panel chairman, led an interesting discussion on reading techniques. Members of the panel and the subjects they discussed were Dolly Bunch, group; Lola Horn, phonics; Irene Jeinek, flash cards; Gertrude Braman, experience charts. Hostesses for the coffee hour were teachers of the Shasta School.

Poor Meat Draws Fines

Hamburger sold in violation of the Oregon pure food laws have cost dealers $50 in court fines in the past few months, the state department of agriculture reports. Since June, the department's division of food and dairies has been running laboratory tests on samples of hamburger picked up throughout the state. It found four samples containing cereals, 33 containing preservatives and one with coloring matter — all violations because the product was not labeled that it contained these products. In addition, a sample of sausage contained artificial color. In 20 court cases resulting from this sampling, 27 defendants pleaded guilty, and three forfeited bail without appearing in court. In addition, district attorneys warned nine meat markets found to be using benzene in their hamburger that another violation would result in a court complaint. Of the $650 assessed in fines, $40 was suspended. Fines ranged from $5.50 to $150. Highest bail forfeited was $50.
