MR. AND MRS. HAROLD T. MCCOY . . . Portland, announce the engagement of their daughter, Shirley, to Donald Hugh McIntyre, son of Mr. and Mrs. George W. McIntyre, 409 Lincoln Street. The wedding of the outstanding campus couple will be an event of next summer.

The betrothal was revealed last weekend at the Pi Beta Phi sorority house on the University of Oregon Campus, where Shirley is chapter president. It was a late evening party, with parents of the affianced as guests of honor.

White and silver was the chosen color scheme; with silver bells reflecting flickering candlelight; and the tiny cakes served were molded and frosted facsimiles of engagement rings.

The couple leads a similar life on the campus; both are seniors in business administration; and Donald, too, is president of his fraternity, Phi Kappa Psi. Donald, active in ROTC, was recently named to serve as major in the USAF according to an announcement made by Col. Edwin B. Daily, professor of military science.

High School Romance Leads To Nuptial Trip Down Aisle

First Christian Church was the setting for the September 19 wedding of Patricia Joann (Pat) Prather, pretty daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Prather, 4513 Thompson; to Eugene P. Ross, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. M. (Speed) Harrington, 4623 Peck Drive. The nuptial couple had known each other through high school.

Dean Stephens, soloist, accompanied by Mrs. Stanley Knudsen at the organ, sang "I Love You Truly," "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The double-ring service was read by the Rev. Howard F. Hutchins at 2:30 p.m. before a background of white gladioli, yellow and bronze chrysanthemums and palms, illuminated with candlelight from floor candelabra. Gladioli and chrysanthemums were also used to mark alternate aisle pews.

The bride's gown of white satin and Chantilly lace made by the bride's grandmother Brown, was of simple design; made with snug bodice, a lace yoke and stand-up collar. The long fitted sleeves were pointed at the wrists. A skirt of many yards of softly draped satin tapered from the waist to the full hemline and brief train. The charming dress was topped with a fingertip veil held with a sweetheart cap of lace encrusted with seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of white roses and lily-of-the-valley.

A borrowed pearl choker, blue garter made by an aunt of the bridegroom, and a lucky penny in her slipper, completed the traditional bridal accessories.

Matron of honor, Mrs. Timothy James, Eugene; was in a ballerina length dress of orchid taffeta, made with an empire waistline. Her cascade bouquet was of yellow gladioli, and her headpiece was of yellow chrysanthemums.

Norma Young, cousin of the bride, was bridesmaid; wearing yellow, with an orchid bouquet and yellow headband. Bride's sister, Karla Kay Prather, flower girl, wore pink taffeta. Young John Pender, bridegroom's cousin from Portland, was ring bearer.

Dean Lowell served as best man; Gerald Nelson was honorary attendant; and Jim Worden, Bob Hilgers and Dwayne Prather ushered. The latter, Pat's brother, also served as candlelighter.

A navy blue crepe dress with a white lace collar was chosen by Mrs. Prather for her daughter's wedding; and her rose bud corsage was the same shade as her small tussled hair. Mrs. Harrington wore a white lace collar and nylon net accented with a baby calico corsage.

The reception for over 200 guests was in the church parlor immediately following the ceremony. Pouring were two aunts of the bridegroom, Mrs. L. H. Valentine, Medford; and Mrs. J. M. Husat.

Mrs. Dean Lowell and Mrs. Robert Childers cut the beautiful five tiered cake; and assisting were Mrs. James Young, Mrs. Clarence Bell, Mrs. Robert Steers; and from Grants Pass, Mrs. Helen Ryan, Naomi Young, cousin of the bride, registered the guests and Marilyn Kendall was at the gift table.

For travel, the new Mrs. Ross wore a dark red and black flannel suit, black bag, shoes and velvet hat accented with white gloves.

The honeymoon trip included Portland, Seattle and Victoria, B.C., with other points visited before they returned to Klamath Falls and their new home, 2826 White. Both plan to continue as employees of the local telephone company.

Pre-nuptial events for the bride included a tea given by the bridegroom's mother; and a shower by women of the church.

Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Evans, Mrs. Timothy James, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Smith and Mrs. Art Simpson, all of Eugene; Mrs. Helen Ryan, Mrs. Roy Frye, Grants Pass; Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Pender and family, Portland; and Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Valentine, Medford.
