Oregon Weed Meet Slated

Oregon's organized weed-fighters will plan next year's campaign against farm and home pests in Portland, November 16 and 17, at the third annual Oregon Weed Conference.

Conference Secretary Rex Warren, Oregon State College farm crops specialist, invited the public to attend. "Weeds observe no boundaries on farms, ranches, and in town — and it takes joint action to fight them," Warren declares.

Major weed problems of Oregon and reports on current weed control research are main topics scheduled for the first session starting at 10:30 a.m. at the Imperial Hotel. Conference President Allen G. Tom, Rufus, will open the meeting. If heavy supplies will have their enemy — common ragweed — under attack by Hugh Taylor, state department of agriculture,

Questions Of Sex, Romance Slows Picking Of Jurors

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Sheppard murder trial, already deep in sex and romance with only three jurors selected, moved on today to more legal fencing over venemmen.

Two men and a woman have been tentatively seated to hear the first degree murder charges against Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard, 30-year-old osteopath. Ten other jurors, including an alternate, remain to be chosen.

The name of Miss Susan Hayes, auburn-haired and a star prosecution witness, popped up yesterday as defense attorneys argued unsuccessfully for permission to ask prospective jurors their view on adultery.

The state claims Miss Hayes, a pretty, 24-year-old hospital technician with a cute spray of freckles across her nose, has admitted she was intimate with Sheppard last March while both were in California. Four months later, July 4, Sheppard's blonde and pregnant wife, Marilyn, 31, was found bludgeoned to death in their home along Lake Erie.

Sheppard, who pleaded innocent, maintained his wife was killed by a bushy-haired man who also knocked him unconscious in a battle that raged through the Sheppard home and ended on the lake shore outside.

Defense Counsel William J. Corrigan, told Common Pleas Judge Edward Blythin that "some people consider a sexual crime or sex deviation even worse than murder" and later declared, "I know that in the evidence they (the state) will bring in testimony on extra-marital relations..."

Waving an arm toward some 50 reporters packed in the rear of the courtroom, Corrigan demanded:

"What do you suppose all of these people are here for, these reporters...? They're here because there's a sex angle in it..."

The argument came up when the judge sustained an objection to a question Corrigan put to Edmund L. Verlinger, a 29-year-old hardware store manager who was the third juror selected. Corrigan asked:

"Suppose evidence is produced that the defendant had affairs with another woman, or women, would that produce in you... a feeling of ill will towards the defendant that would prejudice you?"

Defense Attorney Fred W. Garmore first injected the name of Miss Hayes into the trial. While questioning Mrs. Elizabeth A. Borke, a plump housewife and mother who was the second juror seated, Garmore asked:

"Have you ever heard of or do you know a young lady whose name is Susan Hayes?"

Mrs. Borke said she had not and then Garmore added that "it may develop during this trial that testimony in this case may divulge that Sam Sheppard may have had affairs with other women besides his wife."

Judge Blythin steered the questioning away from the sex opinions of the prospective jurors. He told the defense that "we're not trying anyone for any sex offense... the court is satisfied it is not a proper line of inquiry here at this time."

Corrigan told reporters yesterday that he did not think Sheppard would get a fair and impartial trial in Cuyahoga County. He has twice asked Judge Blythin to postpone the trial and move it to another county.

Two of the three jurors selected Monday and yesterday have received copies of a threatening letter which were mailed recently to several members of the panel. The two, Mrs. Borke and Verlinger, said the letters did not influence them in any way. The third juror is Howard Barriah, a timekeeper at a steel firm here.

Sheppard's aging father, Dr. Richard A. Sheppard, attended the morning session yesterday. Other members of the family said the defendant's mother has been too upset to attend.

Thailand Said Menaced By Reds

BANGKOK (AP)—The Bangkok Post, an American-edited daily, said today that Thailand's internal security is threatened by the presence in Cambodia of a 4,000-man Vietminh-led group and an uncertain element among 300,000 Chinese there.

The newspaper quoted Brig. Gen. Chamras Mantukanond, Thai minister to Cambodia, as saying the 4,000 operate as "free Cambodians" from a base south of Battambang province near the Thai border. They reportedly get their orders direct from the Communist Vietnam, who now occupy the northern half of Viet Nam.

Voices Convict Bank Robbers

DETROIT (AP)—Identified as bank robbers only by the sound of their voices, Simon H. Thompson, 37, and Leslie W. Reamer, 39, of Detroit were convicted by a federal court jury yesterday in the $11,500 hold-up June 28 of the Trenton State Bank.

Judge Ralph M. Freeman set no date for sentence.

Three bank employees who had been tied up by two masked gunmen said they recognized the voices of the defendants.
