Scouting locally provides camp experience, opportunity to earn merit badges for accomplishments, training for citizenship, character building and countless other activities through 49 units led by 430 adults from 37 sponsoring institutions such as churches, parent-teacher groups, service clubs, fraternal organizations, granges, labor unions and veterans groups.

Langell Farm Bureau Meets

LANGELL VALLEY — The Langell Valley Farm Bureau met at the Community Hall October 19, at 8 p.m. Chairman Walter Smith Jr., was in charge of the meeting. Fred Peterson, Klamath Falls, was introduced by Walter Smith, and he explained the resolutions which were voted on that night. Peter Hriczasek reported on the county farm bureau meeting held in Klamath Falls October 4, and said that Farm Bureau young people will speak on the theme "Democracy Doesn't Just Happen," during the months of September and October. John Harris reported on the new cattle disease, leptospirosis. He said farmers can vaccinate to prevent the disease which is very contagious. There are no known cases in Oregon now.

Arthur Monroe announced that the bird refuge at Tulelake will eventually be made into home-steads.

Ben Nork reported on signs advertising Langell Valley Irrigation District. The farm bureau will help finance the project, along with the Langell Valley Women's Club and the Grange and the irrigation district. These signs will be placed at the Keith Rice and Santford Jones ranches.

Arthur Monroe reported there will be two community dump grounds, one at the old CCC Camp and the other at Lorella, one to be used for potatoes and other garbage.

Smith reminded members of the state convention at Medford, November 18, 19 and 20.

A short movie "Ticket To Freedom" was shown by Lloyd Hankins.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Sandre Romivetti and her committee.

Next meeting will be at the community hall November 16.

UN Disarming Debates Held

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., (AP)—The U. N. Assembly Political Committee entered the final phase of its disarmament debates today with a wary eye on Russia's Andrei Vishinsky.

Last Friday Vishinsky agreed to join the Western Big Three and Canada in a resolution calling for new five-power closed-door talks on disarmament. Vishinsky agreed with other delegates that the road to real agreement was a rough one but he said there might be light ahead.

Agreements were signed in Paris Saturday designed to bring West Germany into the Western defense alliance. Moscow countered immediately by calling for a new four-power meeting on German unity, adding:

"It is impossible to propose a general reduction of armaments and at the same time carry out remilitarization of Western Germany."

One delegate remarked: "It is certain that what Moscow said Saturday, Mr. Vishinsky will say here Monday."

Lake Rancher Wins Honor

LAKEVIEW — William Pfrang, who owns a 2250 acre ranch two miles north of Lakeview, has been selected 1954 winner of the Lake County Chamber of Commerce range clearing and reseeded contest. This contest is not connected with the Northwest Grassman contest conducted by the agricultural committee of the Portland Chamber of Commerce.

Last fall and this spring, Pfrang cleared and seeded over 1000 acres of his land, and in addition is building numerous water reservoirs with the aim of irrigating at least 500 acres of his dry range country.

This is the final year of a five-year contest sponsored by the Lake County Chamber, and the agricultural committee next will name an over-all winner for the country.

Exchange Club Drive Starts

Members of the Klamath Falls Exchange Club open their national Lite-a-Bike program, Tuesday afternoon, October 26.

Students at Shasta, Summers Lane, Peterson, Fairhaven and Altamont elementary schools and Altamont Junior High are asked to bring their bicycles to school Tuesday. Arrangements have been made with principals of the schools for assistance in applying silver strips to handlebars and red Scotch lite to the rear of the bicycles. Members start at 1:30 p.m., Tuesday, weather permitting.

The program has been inaugurated on a national basis to aid in protecting school children on the streets while riding their bicycles.

five-year period. The contest was started by the Lakeview Rotary Club following that organization's 1948 range clearing demonstration which was attended by at least 700 ranchers and government range specialists from 11 western states. The chamber later took active sponsorship of the contest as Rotary moved on to other programs. Past yearly winners have been C. W. Ogle & Son, Dan Schumacher, Anderson & Branch and Andy Hill.

as present is not running livestock. Instead, he disposed of his stock and is getting his ranch in shape to handle larger numbers of stock.

Malin Garden Club To Meet

MALIN — The October meeting of the Malin Garden Club will be held at the home of Mrs. Loyal Loveness Wednesday, October 27, starting at 10 a.m. Sack lunches will be brought by members for the noon meal. This meeting will include candle making and chemicals for making colored flames in fireplaces, as well as Christmas wreaths and decorations. Mrs. J. P. Elmore, Klamath Falls, will be instructor.

Pendleton Plans New Courthouse

PENDLETON — A fire, the origin of which was not determined immediately destroyed the two-story Pendleton recreation hall Sunday. Loss was estimated at between $75,000 and $100,000.

It was the second major fire in the Pendleton area over the week end. The bodies of two persons, believed to be Mr. and Mrs. Valcon Robertson, were found in the charred ruins of their house at Pilot Rock after a fire Saturday.

Teachers To Be Trained At U of O

WASHINGTON (AP)—The University of Oregon has signed a contract with the Foreign Operations Administration to aid in the training of 1,750 teachers for the government of Nepal.

The university, which will help establish a four-year teachers college in Nepal, plans to train 150 new teachers and 100 experienced teachers during the first year. The number will be doubled the second year and increased again in the third year until approximately 1,750 are trained.

The FOA has allotted $220,000 for the three-year contract.

Take it from me girls... stay Smart and Healthy

Even though most mothers see that their children get enough milk, they often get far less than they need themselves, according to Agnes M. Kolshorn, Oregon State college extension nutrition specialist.

She said that women—particularly the older ones—consumed less milk than any other group in a recent U.S. department of agriculture study.

The whole family will benefit from the liberal use of milk and milk products in meals, the nutritionist reminded. Among favorite dishes she suggested for increasing milk in the diet are cream soups, custards, white sauce, ice cream, milk sherbet and cheese diets.

For the money spent, milk gives much food value, she said. Even in low cost diets, much milk should be included for women as well as the men and children in the family, Miss Kolshorn concluded.

Incidentally, the exceptional amount of food value contained in Klamath's Grade A milk is due to the high standards based upon by Oregon's Milk Marketing Act, the fair milk law which has worked well for over 20 years.

OTI Spanish Classes Begin

Spanish language classes have started at Oregon Technical Institute, with Daniel Herrera, from Quito, Ecuador, as instructor.

The offer of free instruction for regular OTI students met with such enthusiastic response that the group had to be divided. Two series of 10 weeks each are running simultaneously. One group of 30 students meet Mondays and Wednesdays, the other meets Tuesdays and Thursdays. Classes are held from 3:10 to 4:10 p.m., room 201, Nickerson Hall.

Classes for the public to be held during evening hours at KUHS are being arranged.

Wayne Angel Recital Given

Wayne Angel, young Klamath Falls violinist, received fine press notices following his first full recital given in the auditorium of Portland State College, Sunday, October 3 according to Andrew Loney Jr., music director for Klamath Falls schools.

Frederick Rothchild and Hilmar Grondahl, music editors of The Journal and The Oregonian, respectively, were enthusiastic in their praise.

"Remarkable — great potentialities," was the comment of Roman Dukson, principal cellist, Portland Symphony Orchestra.

"Very fine musicianship and talent; most promising," stated Ralph Dobbs, pianist, Willamette University.
