Plane Wreckage Believed Found

NICE, France (AP) — The wreckage of a plane believed to be that of a U.S. Air Force C-47 missing since Sunday was discovered in the French Alps north of here Friday by a searching helicopter. The wreckage was located near a pass through the Alps, the Col de Penestre, about 40 miles north of Nice and near the village of St. Martin-Vesubie.

Malin

By GLADYS HALOUSEK

Home to spend the weekend with parents and to attend the Merrill Potato Festival were Ruth Kalina and Pearl Ottoman from Oregon State College; Jan Elmore, Lewis and Clark, Portland; Martha McAuliffe, Darla Sarutski and Betty McVay from Southern Oregon College, Ashland.

Mrs. Jim (Eileen) Mullins and small son, San Francisco, left Malin Monday after spending the past week with her mother Mrs. Pat O'Connor, who was injured in an accident. Mrs. O'Connor is able to be up and around now but has her arm in a cast.

Recent visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Morelock have been Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Barr, Long Beach and Mr. and Mrs. Leo Thorne, Grants Pass. All have been enjoying duck, goose and deer hunting in this area.

Merle Haskins, who has been stationed in Korea with the Army for the past 15 months, returned home October 7 to his wife Carol and small daughter, whom he had never seen. They reside at the Kalina Court Apartments. Carol is the former Carol Sloan.

Winners in the buck contest sponsored by Kalina's Hardware were Ronald Mullins, who won first prize, a 22 Savage rifle, for bringing in the buck with the widest spread horns. They measured 20 1/2 inches across. Second prize of a single shot Winchester 22 was won by Ray Parker for bagging the most points. The unusual set of horns had nine points on one side and five on the other.

Recent visitors at the Cunningham home were Mrs. Cunningham's cousins, Shafter, California. They were Mr. and Mrs. Gene Gunther and daughter and Mr. and Mrs. Art Gadel and children. Mr. and Mrs. P. G. Wilson have spent the past week visiting in Mr. and Mrs. Vince Zumr and Bend.

children have moved back to Malin after having been gone during the summer months to Bakersfield.

VOTE 7 X NO

These thinking organizations oppose the "Salmon S.O.S. Bill"

The Oregon Voter—"The measure goes beyond purported intent of mere stream closure. There would be a serious loss of food fish catches and resultant impact on payrolls."

The Oregon Journal—"Let's not destroy an essential industry on the basis of unsound arguments—arguments that do not point the way to the best interests of all the people of Oregon."

Oregon State Fish Commission—"If we stop only 10% of the salmon (as provided in '7') the rest of the salmon will, in almost every case, go on to certain death and complete loss."

Portland Chamber of Commerce—"There is no need for this particular measure. The bill is poorly written and appears to have been hastily prepared. The provision . . . goes too far."

Oregon City Enterprise-Courier—"We think the bill is not consistent with good fish management. Desperate measures are not the answer and only serve to confuse the real issue."

Astorian-Budget—"If the people of Oregon want once again to have abundant salmon in their coastal rivers, they must reject this selfish initiative measure."

The Oregonian—"The bill goes a lot farther than the sponsors have admitted. The curtailment of this important part of the commercial fishery cannot be justified by any of the arguments sponsors of the measure have offered."
