Hirsch Plans Show Career After Hanging Up Uniform

HOLLYWOOD — Elroy Hirsch says his decision to quit football will open the way for a full-time career before movie and television cameras.

The star pass catcher for the Los Angeles Rams announced last week that he was quitting pro football "because the thrill has gone out of the game." But there are other reasons too — personal reasons, and his urge for a chance at a show business career.

When he explained that he was hanging up his uniform at the end of this season he told how he felt about football:

"Pro ball has changed in the last season or two. There used to be fun in the game. You looked forward to each game with a considerable thrill. You had friends on the other teams in the league—even though the friendship ended temporarily the minute the game started. You didn't see the other team using rough stuff to 'get' certain star players.

"That's changed now. There is a tremendous pressure to win—or else. It used to be that you played like the dickens only in the 12 league games. But now the pressure is on to win the exhibition games too. In a city with good climate like Los Angeles, a team has to make a good preseason showing in order to get good season ticket sales.

"I still get that uneasy feeling in my stomach before a game. But now I don't get that thrill of anticipation that I used to. I get up in the morning before a game and have a scrambled egg, some toast and tea, then I can't eat anything more. I go out to the stadium without any great expectation.

"If there's no more fun in the game, that's the time to quit. I love football. Directly or indirectly, it has brought me everything I own in life. I want to leave it with a good feeling."

WARNING

MANILA (AP) — Sen. Claro M. Recto said Monday if Japan will not increase its reparations offer, the Philippines should sever our diplomatic and economic relations with Japan.

The famed "Crazylegs" denied that a physical slowdown prompted his decision. "I'm having a much better season this year than I did last, when I had a lot of injuries," he remarked. "I still feel that I could keep up with the other boys."

About that show big career. He has worked for the local ABC radio and TV stations and plans have been ready for a network show as he was committed to the Rams. Now he can proceed with his ambitions as a sportscaster. And his career as a movie actor is coming along nicely. He started by portraying himself in the successful "Crazylegs." He'll soon be seen in a dramatic role as one of the prisoners in "Unchained."

8%

"7" sponsors claim Oregon would save money ... FACTS show

- ★ you would lose at least $3,200,000 in payrolls
- ★ idle $11,680,000 in equipment
- ★ take away at least 25% of new money coming into Oregon for salmon each year

VOTE 7 x NO

This is just an example of how Bill 7 is a bad bill. Its rulings even go so far as to threaten extinction of salmon in Oregon coastal streams, the exact opposite of what was intended
