Audrey Mae King-Melvin J. Olsen Say Vows in Double Ring Service

In a double-ring ceremony, October 29, Audrey Mae King became the bride of Melvin J. Olsen, Church of the Nazarene was the setting for the exchange of vows uniting in marriage the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James C. King, 2357 Kane Street; and the son of H. L. Olsen, Walton, Oregon.

The Rev. Wesley F. Crist officiated at the 8 p.m. service in the presence of a large gathering of friends and relatives.

Mrs. Wesley F. Crist, organist, accompanied vocal soloists, Ronald Bryan and Mona Chenoweth. Pink and blue, wedding colors chosen by the bride, were carried out in the floral decorations and in the attendants' dresses, bouquets and carnation tiaras.

The bride, escorted to the altar by her father, who gave her in marriage, wore a gown of heavy white satin and Chantilly lace from France. The fitted bodice styled with long, snug sleeves, was made with a lace and net yoke outlined with scalloped lace. The waistline, pointed in front and back, emphasized the very full skirt made with four panels of the Chantilly lace from the waist to the hemline which extended into a sweeping train.

Her full length veil of fine net flowered gracefully from a scalloped crown encrusted with seed pearls. Her only jewelry was a three-strand necklace of pearls, gift from the bridegroom. The bridal bouquet was an arrangement of pink rapture roses and stephanotis.

The bride's sister, Evelyn (Mrs. R. E. Hellmuth), was matron of honor. Her ballerina length gown of blue nylon tulle and imported Italian lace over matching taffeta was topped with a bolero of the same lace. Her basket bouquet and tiara were of pink carnations. Bridesmaids, Gloria Wall and Marilyn Murray, wore delicate pink replicas of the matron of honor's full skirted dress. Their bouquets and tiaras were also the same—in a darker shade of pink.

The flower girl, Kathryn Olsen, niece of the bridegroom, wore a floor length dress of white tulle over white taffeta. The sash was of pink and blue ribbons. She carried a basket of blue flowers and her wristlet corsage and tiara were of deep pink carnations.

Ring bearer, Stephen Hellmuth, bride's nephew, wore a white dinner jacket and long blue trousers. Harold Olsen served his brother as best man; and James D. King, brother of the bride; Richard E. Hellmuth, her brother-in-law; and Darrell Olson, bridegroom's brother, ushered.

Mrs. King wore an ashen of roses ballerina length dress of Italian lace over matching taffeta, with a jacket of matching tulle. Her small hat of tulle was in the same shade; and her corsage was of white phalaenopsis.

The reception was in the Camas Room of the Winema Hotel immediately after the ceremony. Kathryn Halaas, organist, played background music during the reception hours; Mrs. Harold Olsen, sister-in-law of the bridegroom, presided at the punch bowl; and Mrs. Darrell Olson and Mrs. Albert Nelson, sister-in-law and aunt of the bridegroom were at the coffee service.

The four tiered cake, beautifully decorated with pale pink roses, silver leaves and small white wedding bells, topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom encircled with pink rapture rosebuds was cut and served by Mrs. Annie Deedon, sister of the bridegroom. Jane Speirs carried the guest book; and Mrs. Raymond P. Halbert and Mrs. Nauta were at the gift table.

Out of town guests included Mrs. Albert Nelson, Eugene; bridegroom's father, H. L. Olsen, Walton, Oregon; Mr. and Mrs. Amie Deedon, Edward and Leslie, Nottli, Oregon; Mr. and Mrs. Harold Olson, Walton; and Mrs. Donald

"HELLO" and "GOODBY" — short and sweet — from Hermie and Jeanie Darley — who stopped by the news room Thursday p.m. for a moment on their way home to Stayton after a brief stay at their Lake o' Woods home — Christmas greens seemed to be the object of this particular trip — and from the big stack of lacy-green boughs I'd say "mission accomplished."

JACK MULHALL — a gene-wine native of San Francisco — an unofficial Klamath ambassador — He and his wife, Hilda, pay KP and their local friends a very pretty annual compliment by leaving SAN FRANCISCO to spend New Year's Eve in KLAMATH FALLS!! — Jack, another brief "hello" on Thursday informs us that their train reservations for this "Happy New Year" with the Klamath crew are already made.

LOIS SERRUYS (Mrs. Lois) is gradually feeling more at-home-in-home after a wonderful vacation in Pittsburgh, Pa — New York City and Washington DC — and another week of the month gone from KP — in Eugene where she helped her mother, Mrs. J. W. Pixley — move into new quarters from the family home where she's lived in for about 50 years — or at least a long time — in Pittsburgh Lois was with her brother Everett (Pix) and his wife, Georgia — both of whom have a flock of local friends — "entertainment was nothing but royal" — enthused Lois — and included three days in DC — where Hurricane Hazel staged an exciting and novel performance for our West Coast visitor — In New York — she of course — was the houseguest of Bernie (Heidemann) Phillips and her husband Drayton — in their digs on the Hudson — The red and plush (magic) carpet was out here, too — with every moment devoted to capital E entertainment — Before Lois arrived in NY — Bernie had made an appointment for Lois with Elizabeth Arden's fabulous salon for an ENTIRE DAY! — an experience of a lifetime for Lois — yet one experienced almost daily by some — with the SUM — This trip into beautiful the realm of relaxation was a little "welcoming gift" from hostess Bernie — Another bright highlight of her dazzle — days with the Phillips was arranged by ex-Senator from Massachusetts Christopher Phillips — Drayton's brother — who took the three on a very "special" tour of the United Nations — "with all the trimmings."

Wallace Sterling — which was formerly the home of ex-President of the U.S. Herbert and Mrs. Hoover — She met them — and H. Donald Wimbiger, dean of students — and a member of the board of trustees — Lloyd Dinkelspiel — which will certainly fan the fire of her enthusiasm for all things pertaining to "the farm."

HARRY AND BILLIE PELTZ — Marie and Joe Matlick left yesterday for SP to see the Rams and offers football hassle at Kezar — They'll also see Harry's mother, Jennie Peltz — now living in the Bay City and busy with her lemon marmalade business venture — They'll be back early in the week.

"DYNAMITE" WHITHAM — he was known as — in those days — days at OSC in the roaring twenties — when several KP "boys" were then students on the Corvallis campus — AND as "Dynamite" Whitham he'll be remembered by those who knew him there — especially his somewhat younger brothers in Sigma Nu who looked up to him as an alumni councillor and affectionately regarded him as a valued contemporary friend — ("just one of them") — Personally, after a somewhat lengthy "first meeting" — by courtesy of Alexander Bell's tricky little device — I'm kinda proud to be instrumental in passing the word along to those fraternity brothers — and others who might like to know that what was shared with them 25 years ago, is still important enough to "Dynamite" — that en route from "home in Portland to his date garden and grapefruit grove (yes some oranges and lemons too) — in Indio — nostalgia overtook him in a local service station — and prodded him into a "cont-call" before continuing to his winter ha' in Southern - Southern California.

Edith Cuning Book Club Meets

The Edith Cuning Book Club met the last Monday in October at the home of Gertrude Tolls, 2018 Auburn.

Minnie Surles, as guest reviewer, presented "In The Pink," by Mildred Spurrier Topp, an amusing story about some people in a small town in the South.

Members present were Dolly Cox, Janice Martin, Grace King, Mae Phinney, Lorraine Quillen, Edna Russell, Polly Schroeder, Annis Struthers, Isabelle Brixner, Nell Stewart, Imogene Boothby, Ruth Doerr, Margaret Strode, Clara Shaw, Alice Gallup and the hostess.

It was announced that the membership is open to a few new members.

A letter was read from Mary Kess telling of her travels through Germany to Paris.

Ruth Doerr announced that she and her family would soon be moving to Chico to make their home.

The November 29 meeting is to be held at the home of Clara Shaw, 2515 Homedale Road, Grace King will give the review.

Combs and Gordon, Eugene.

The bride is a graduate of KUHS class of '31; and her husband, a student in engineering design at OTI, will be graduated in December.

For travel to San Francisco, where the couple honeymooned; the new Mrs. Olsen wore a dark green suit with avocado accessories. Her hat was of mauve velvet; and her shoulder corsage was a miniature of her bridal bouquet. They will be at home, 312 North Eleventh.

MR. AND MRS. RENO MARCHESE... Married October 23, in Sacred Heart Catholic Church. —Photo by Floyd

Marchese-Long Rites In Sacred Heart Church

Jessie Lee Long was a lovely bride October 23, in Sacred Heart Catholic Church, when she exchanged marriage vows with Reno Marchese in a 2 p.m. service read by the Rev. T. P. Casey.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse B. Long, 815 North Second Street; and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Attilio Marchese, 3402 Lakeport Boulevard.

Mrs. D. C. Hefley, organist, accompanied vocal soloist, Mrs. Robert Long.

White and rust gladioli were used in the effective floral arrangements.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white Chantilly lace and satin. The bodice of lace and net was designed with a low vee necked yoke of net and a scalloped off the shoulder effect in lace. The billowing skirt of nylon tulle and satin featured a full cathedral train of the bridal satin; hip flounces of Chantilly lace were edged with tulle.

A coronet of lace and seed pearls held her fingertip veil of silk illusion edged with matching lace. Jessie Lee carried a white prayer book topped with white rosebuds. Matron of honor, Mrs. Levi Chism, wore Cascade blue crystal and carried blue and white gladioli.

Bridesmaids, Mrs. Kenny Koe-foed (Lois Pierson), and Carole Corley both wore frocks of autumn sunset crystal and carried red and white gladioli.

Flower girls were Sharon Lee and Jo Ann Chism.

Pete Zupan served as best man and Aldo Bellotti and Gino Carmin rushed.

Mrs. Long chose a turquoise dress and dusty rose accessories to wear to her daughter's wedding; bridegroom's mother, navy blue and both wore pink rosebud corsages.

The reception was in the parish hall following the ceremony. Mrs. Rily Corley, Rosalie Pinelli and Mrs. Colleen Pastega poured; Mrs. Renatta Ryan cut the cake; and Charlotte Corley registered the guests.

For travel, the new Mrs. Marchese wore a black and white tuxedo suit trimmed with black velvet. Her accessories were red and white.
