

GLAZED MAPLE CRULLERS are an easy, delicious variation of the ever-popular doughnut. serve them morning, noon or night... for breakfast, in lunch boxes or autumn parties. Everybody loves doughnuts, especially when they're excitingly different like these maple-flavored Dutch twists. Recipe makes two dozen and is rated failure-proof by Martha Meade of Sperry Home Service when the easy directions are followed to the letter and Sperry Drifted Snow Flour is used.

DUTCH CRULLERS

Food fashions come and go—but doughnuts go on forever.

These genial little cakes were first brought to this country by Dutch and English settlers. In those days they were small, solid balls of fried yeast dough.

However, during the Revolutionary War, doughnuts (or "doughy cakes" as they were called) became so popular with the soldiers that a quicker, easier way had to be found to make them. The home-maker rose to the occasion—developed her own American recipe. Dozens and dozens of modern versions have been added.

Here is the latest from the Sperry Home Service Department:

GLAZED MAPLE CRULLERS
Sift flour before measuring. Use level measurements for all ingredients.

Beat until thick, 1-3 to 1 1/2 cup whole eggs (two large eggs). Add 1/4 cup sugar, 2 tablespoons soft butter, 1/4 cup milk, 1/4 teaspoon maple extract.

Continue beating until thoroughly blended.

Sift directly into the egg mixture, 2 1/2 cups Drifted Snow flour, 3 teaspoons double-action baking powder and 1 1/2 teaspoons salt.

Mix to a moderately soft smooth dough. Measure dough by tablespoonfuls and roll between floured palms of hands into ropes, about 5 inches long and 1/2 inch thick. Fry in hot shallow fat until golden brown. (Fat should be 1 1/2 to 2 inches deep and heated to 370 degrees or until a 1-inch cube of day old bread browns in 60 seconds).

When done, drain on absorbent paper and while still hot dip each cruller into Maple Glaze. Cool on cake racks or waxed paper. Makes 2 dozen crullers.

Soft Custard

This recipe, from the Oregon Dairy Council in Portland, makes two cups of soft custard.

2 cups milk, scalded
3 eggs
1/4 cup granulated sugar
1/4 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon vanilla

Scald milk in top of double boiler. Beat eggs slightly; add sugar and salt and blend. Gradually add milk, a little at a time, stirring constantly. Return to double boiler and cook over hot water, about eight minutes or until mixture coats a metal spoon. Cool and add vanilla.

cups sifted powdered sugar, 2 tablespoons cold water and 3 or 4 drops of maple extract. Place glaze in shallow plate or pan for dipping.
