

REFLECTIONS FROM
Milly's Mirror

KP DWELLERS don't fare so badly at that — Seasonal thanks can be given Thanksgiving Day for our tornado, hurricane, drought and flood-free country—all that same to mind when I was out at the airport to pick up a package or two the other night that had come in from Medford via West Coast air freight — What impressed me was that it took those very few minutes to get here from 3:16 to 3:50 — and I started asking questions — West Coast has been operating here for about 17 months — and during that time as nearly as I could find out — there hasn't been a single day that a plane hasn't landed here — my curiosity still dwelt on the fast delivery with air service — and Bob Moore, manager of KP West Coast office — was ready with some facts on that which were news to me — their air express and freight service will get a package put on board the plane in Portland at 11:30 — here by 3:16 — if in the air from field at 3:30 p.m. — here by 3:56 — and they stay open until 10:30 to give you plenty of time to pick it up — that's the transportation baby's story since it joined all the other excellent services offered to Klamathites.

SYLVIA — freshman at Mills — and Marilyn is a junior at the U of Arizona.

NICELY SETTLED in her new quarters at 507 Eldorado is Mrs. L. B. (Edna) Bartholomew — who had frequently visited here from Tucson, Arizona with her daughter Amy (Mrs. John F. Moehl) and family on Lakeport Blvd — Prior to establishing herself as a permanent resident in her own apartment — she was at the Moehl home for about 4 months — John and Richard Moehl's mother, Mrs. E. J. Moehl is here from Des Moines — Iowa (where Edna Bartholomew had also lived) — and has no problem in sharing her visit with her sons' families since they live next door to each other.

THIS YEAR — a transposition of the numerals 1 and 3 are significant in the household of Al and Lottie La Royce — 218 Mortimer Street — November 13 was their 31st wedding anniversary — and as usual — 13 American Beauty roses were given by Al to Lottie in observance of the important date — shared by close friends who called on the couple during the evening.

POTENTIAL PORTIA — is daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Bullard, 1945 Auburn Street — Margaret Ballard Taylor — who was recently informed — that — during her first year in night law school at New York University — she had received the highest grades in her class — and as a result — first place on the Dean's Honor List, a full tuition scholarship and is now a member of the New York University Law Review. She and her husband, Kenyon Taylor, are both law students at NYU — he — during the day — when Margaret is working in a law office. Both have B.A. degrees from Reed College in Portland — and plan to return to the West Coast as partners in the practice of law in their own office — No. 5 Minetta Street — (New York 12) is present headquarters for the enterprising couple working in the East for a future in the West.

TO ATHERTON — Mrs. G. R. Lindley leaves Sunday for the Bay Area — she'll stay in Atherton with daughter Kathryn (Mrs. Don Robinson) — and will run the Los Altos for frequent visits with another daughter Gertrude (Mrs. William Cleve) and HER family — Mrs. Lindley winters down there and summers here with Mr. Mae (Mrs. George Myers) and HER family.

MARGARET GERBER — junior at Mills College is cast as a student in an English girls' school in the college production "The Tenth Muse" — and will run the college music scheduled for Dec 9 and 4 on the California Campus — Entire production — including book, music and lyrics was written by students at Mills — the Henry Carbers have two other girls —

IT WAS A SURPRISE PARTY . . . for Dani Waldrep on her birthday anniversary, November 10. Hostess Nellie Steers arranged the party, which was given at the home of Dani's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry T. Waldrep on Hilyard Avenue. Guests included, seated (l to r), Janet Smith, Marcia Hafter, Dani, the birthday celebrant; Marlene Stiles, hostess, Nellie Steers; Cal Tichenor and Judy Hadley. Standing, same order, Jimmy Watson, Jerry Braniff, Dick Starbuck, Jerry Bramwell and Lee McGill. —Photo by Floyd.

THE HAT SALE on November 12, in the Camas Room of the Winema Hotel, was a successful fund raising project, sponsored by Kappa Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi. Part of the sum realized, will benefit the local Juvenile Home. Mrs. O. F. Henley Bethel No. 51 Order of Job's Daughters

Honored Queen Maureen Lyon presided at the regular meeting of Henley Bethel No. 51, International Order of Job's Daughters, November 15, when plans were discussed for the fall dance, scheduled for November 27. "Indian Summer" is the theme chosen for the event.

Various committees were appointed for a food and apron sale; and for the annual Christmas caroling during the holiday season.

A large group of members and their mothers attended Sunday services at Mt. Laki Community Church, November 14. Because of illness, the Rev. W. Ainley was unable to give his scheduled sermon; so A. R. (Major) Dickson gave the sermon and included interesting facts on the work of the Order of Job's Daughters; and the impressive guiding lessons taught in the Book of Job.

A cordial invitation was extended by Honored Queen Jackie Ackerman of Bethel No. 6, to all Job's Daughters of Bethel No. 51, to the Klamath Falls Bethel's dance, November 26.

Allice Hatcher, librarian, gave an informative brief history of the founding of Job's Daughters, from data furnished by the order's grand librarian.

A white ivory baton was presented to Bethel 51 by Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Balsiger.

The Henley Bethel was honored by the presence of Laura Malcolm, Chapter No. 278, OES, Vallejo; and Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Barnard, Salem. He is a brother of guardian, Cole Brown.

A novel addenda, given by Patty Buck and Sheila Funchum in presenting an honorary membership card from Bethel No. 51 to Phyllis Poole, past guardian, was a complete surprise to her. Mrs. Poole is known for her deep interest and work in Job's Daughters, and the ceremony and card was the new Bethel's expression of recognition.

Beautiful forest greens provided by Joan Taylor decorated the Bethel room for the evening, during which, Mary Wells entertained with a piano solo.

State Officer Plans Visit

Ladies Auxiliary, Canton Crater No. 7, met Thursday, November 11, with President Lady Isabelle Foster in the chair.

After routine business including nomination of officers plans were made to entertain the association president, Lady Nellie Rogers of Portland, who will pay her official visit December 2.

A potluck turkey dinner in her honor will be served at 6:30 p.m., in the IOOF Hall. Arrangements will be made by local officers; and all chevalliers are cordially invited.

There will be no regular meeting November 25, since Thanksgiving falls on that date.

Entertainment committee for December 9 are Ladies Alma Coler, Mae Anderson, Hazel McNeill, Vera Clemmens, Martha Baker, Ruth Jane Harris and Cordelia Cantrell.

At the meeting November 11, refreshments were served from tables appropriately decorated for Veterans Day, by Ladies Isabelle Foster, Harriett Estes and Stella Dryden.

PINOCHLE PARTY

LANGELL VALLEY — Mr. and Mrs. George Fernlund entertained at their home in Upper Langell Valley the evening of November 9. Pinochle was played with women's high prize going to Mrs. Kermit Keyser; men's high to Charles (Schmidt); women's low to Mrs. Russell Walsh; men's low to John Sullivan; and Mrs. Charles (Schmidt), traveling prize.

The Thanksgiving motif was carried out in refreshments and decorations. Guests served at midnight were Mr. and Mrs. Charles (Schmidt), Mr. and Mrs. Ed Scott, Mr. and Mrs. Kermit Keyser, Mr. and Mrs. John Sullivan, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Walsh and Mrs. Lou Penner.

MRS. DAVID VINCENT HONOREE AT BRIDAL SHOWER

CHILOQUIN — A late September bride, Mrs. David Vincent, of Klamath Falls, was the guest of honor at a bridal shower given for her Saturday evening, November 13, at the Methodist Church by a group of friends.

PEGGY, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. Hatfield, has lived in Chiloquin during childhood and has visited here often since.

Mrs. H. Hatfield was winner of a special prize during the evening. Twenty Questions was played before an elaborate three tiered wedding confection topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom, was served with other refreshments. The gift table was decorated in yellow and green over which was suspended an ornately decorated umbrella.

Hostesses were Mrs. Belvie Dillstrom, Mrs. Earl Grear, Mrs. Sidney Burgdorf, Mrs. Friedman Kik, Mrs. Floyd Obles, Karen Miller, Mrs. Steve Wilkie, Mrs. Mamei Ochoa, all of Chiloquin; Patty Hascok and Linda Pope, Fort Klamath; Leila Kirk, Mrs. Red Cause and Corine Shurey Klamath Agency; Mrs. Jack Siemens, Agency Lake; and Mrs. Eddie Richardson, Klamath Falls.

In addition to the hostesses, those who brought or sent gifts were Mrs. Lena Lewis, Mrs. Zai Pratt, Mrs. Paul Stewart, Mrs. James McFarland, Kathryn Wampler, Dawn Wilber, Mrs. Vernon Huntstinger, Mrs. H. Hatfield and Mrs. William Adely, Klamath Falls; Homer Williams, Victoria Nelson and Mrs. Martha Nelson, Klamath Agency.
