

OUR MILE HIGH CAMPUS gets its fair share of snow when old man winter comes blustering down from the north. This shot of the OVI parking lot was snapped on a cloudy day last winter.

THE KIDS' PARTY can get to be messy. Paper is the answer: table cover, cups, plates, napkins. One new paper keeps its strength even after spilled soda and mop-up operation. Reserve of table ware, napery is always used.

MACHINES AND MANPOWER are the prime requisites for keeping open our highways when the snow starts. This crew is busy hacking out a junction somewhere in the high hills.

Creative Gifts Good For Child

A gift that gives free rein to any child's creativity is finger-painting. The idea behind it is simple: the child needs no brush to manipulate, no set pattern to follow.

Directions: put the fingers in the paint pot and transfer the color to glossy paper. For lots whose coordination is something less than perfect, there is free arm motion, using elbow, lower arm and wrist as well as fingers.

The designs are beautiful and very satisfying to children's love of color. And each new painting can be hung on the wall.

CAVITY is washed and salted. Pack lightly with any kind of stuffing you like.

PLACE bird in dry, uncovered roasting pan. This Taylor thermometer sits in fat of leg.

NECK cavity is lightly stuffed, skin skewered underneath. Wings are folded under.

FOUNTAIN pen and base holder add elegance to office desk. Clock fits same usefulness, beauty.

Miniature Gifts Please Girls

A girl beginning to feel independent may get a kick out of a miniature brass knocker for her bedroom door, a fancy mailbox for messages.

Shrimp is a lovely appetizer for the Christmas dinner. It's tedious to fix, but with great reward to dinner.

If you get the kids just-like presents, avoid argument by putting one of those sticky-backed paper initials from the five-and-ten on each.

The setting up of a Christmas creche is said to have been originated by St. Francis, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

POWER saw has a whirlwind sawdust blower that keeps the cutting line free of sawdust. Cuts to any mark.

SHAPED style of leopard jacket is held by Pellon lining. Has convertible collar, notched lapels.

CARDBOARD PAIR imaginatively decorated with stapled bows, ribbons by dad will hold cookies that mother is baking. If the old man is going to help in Christmas wrapping, give him lots of room and sturdy table surface.

MAKE YOUR own blouse for holiday. This one is white wool with green velvet appliqued leaves, fancy stitch.

ENTERTAINMENT AT HOLIDAYS is easier with buffet dinners. This hostess is serving a macaroni-frankfurter casserole, a cabbage slaw and platters of pickles. Dessert is maraschino cherry fruit cake served with hot coffee.

SOFT and casual for wear around the house are wadded, flannel wool shirts. In plaids or solid colors.

Hi-Fi Gifts Hard To Pick

The hi-fi nut will be hard put to it to be gracious if you bring him around just any old needle or just any old speaker.

He has made up his mind what he wants—whether he wants it to sound as if he were perched on the mike or in the back of the hall—and the specifications for the needle he needs read like directions for building an atomic reactor.

For this reason, the rich uncle or independently wealthy wife had better enter advisedly into adding to his hi-fi set. Find out exactly what he wants—or let him buy it and you pay the bill. If husband and wife are both nutty this way, they will probably get one component as their family gift.

A reasonable collection of parts would read like this: Model 400 cabinet by Cabinet; Hi-Fi AM-FM tuner model 750 by Trend-Eisenmann; P-141 10-watt amplifier model 910 by Freco-Eisenmann; Hi-Fi extended range speaker; the Diffusion 12 by University; Hi-Fi three-speed record changer RG-60 Triumph by Garrard.

Xmas Gifts Made By Sewing

Wise needles and sharp sewing machines work away for the weeks before Christmas. Their owners know that they can make wonderful, personal gifts with little expense. There are many things to be made for wonderful gifts: socks, caps, suspenders, aprons, tablecloths and napkins, kitchen towels, pot holders—but sometimes a gift of something that's just for the season will solve the problem of the has-everything friend.

A charming gift for a child is a stocking for him to hang by the for you.
