Home Extension
 Chairman Liz Hyde presided over the business meeting of the Bly Home Extension Unit held November 11 at the home of Carrie Obenchain.
 Eleanor Thomson, secretary read minutes of the last meeting. Four-H work was discussed. Suggestions for future programs were given.
 A demonstration on "Touchups for Wood Furniture" was given by Hope Holbrook.
 Roast chicken and dressing was served at noon.

PTA
FAIRVIEW
 Shirley Winterringer, representative from the Ground Observer Corp. and Sergeant Donald Trainer from the Air Force were guests at the Fairview PTA. The meeting was held at the school auditorium Wednesday, November 17.
 Shirley Winterringer gave a talk stressing the need for more ground observers to help detect low flying planes that radar defenses can not find. She explained the requirements of a ground observer as one who loves his country, a desire to help one's country, and doing something about it. The ground observers put in two hour watches once a week and in case of illness or some other emergency, substitutes are available.
 Sergeant Donald Trainer showed a film of a simulated bombing attack on New York City. He also emphasized the need for ground observers.
 Mrs. Higgen, president, led the business meeting.
 A report was made by Mrs. Francis Otto that $30 was made on the Christmas card sale.
 Mrs. Swafford reported that the rummage sale made a profit of $334.24.
 There will be no study group PTA meeting in December.
 The room prize was won by Mrs. Parker's room.
 Mrs. Porter won the special prize.
 A letter was read informing parents that second-hand band instruments are available at Andrew Loney's office at the high school.
 Sixth grade room mothers served refreshments after the business meeting was adjourned.

 TULELAKE
 By Elizabeth Baghott
 Members of the Tulelake Garden Club met November 16 at the home of Mrs. Ted Fish for an all day meeting and potluck luncheon. Corsages to be sold at the coming Christmas show and sale sponsored by the club were made.
 The club will again sponsor the annual community Christmas window and yard decoration contest.
 The committee for judging will include Mrs. Merton Brown, Mrs. Gwyn McCracken and Mrs. Ken Baghott.
 The schedule for the coming show to be held December 9 was discussed. Mrs. Earl McFall demonstrated an arrangement using a weathered wood container. Mrs. Bea Schweitzer displayed a dried material arrangement suitable for a coffee table. An all-white arrangement for a buffet was shown by Mrs. Chet Main.
 The corsage prize went to Mrs. H. T. Street and the special prize went to Mrs. William Hooper.
 Hostesses were Mrs. Carl Jensen and Mrs. Gwyn McCracken.

JUNIPER
 Marie Pales, president, called the Juniper Garden Club to order at 12:30 p.m. November 15.
 It was decided to assist the other garden clubs in making Christmas decorations Saturday, December 11. The Juniper Garden Club will display swags. Leontine Bronson was named chairman for this display.
 The club will meet at 10:30 a.m. at Joan's Kitchen to make Christmas wreaths and decorations December 16.
 Wilma Groves gave an interesting talk on compost making. It was suggested that a container made of boards or planks be made to hold in place lawn clippings, crop refuse, leaves, corn stalks, sod and manure all ideal for good compost. Turn compost often. Place compost out of sight in shrub plantings or behind the garage. It was suggested that for convenience in turning a compost pile 4 or 5 ft. wide and not too long, is best. Add 1/2 lb. wood ash and 1/4 lb. super phosphate and 1 or 2" of stable or poultry manure. Keep the compost moist and not dripping wet. Turn in two months and cover with soil.
 Faye Stanley gave tips on winter care of roses. After the first heavy frost mulch loosely with straw clippings around the base of the rose. Coat soil with rose dust and snip off all buds.

Vic Damone, Actress Marry
HOLLYWOOD — Actress Pier Angel and singer Vic Damone, married in the presence of 600 guests including many film luminaries, chose Las Vegas, Nev., for a Thanksgiving Day honeymoon.
 The 26-year-old bridegroom has a two weeks singing engagement beginning Dec. 1 in Las Vegas.
 Damone and Miss Angel, 22, were married yesterday by the Rev. William O'Shea in a double ring ceremony at St. Timothy's Catholic Church.
 The radiant bride, wearing white silk chiffon over white crepe, was attended by her twin sister, Marisa Pavan, as maid of honor.
 Bo Roos Jr., a film stars' business manager, was best man. Ushers included Tony Martin, Robert Sterling, Dean Martin and producer Joe Pasternak.

Local Federal Courts Told To Enforce Desegregation
 WASHINGTON (AP)—The Justice Department says the controversial task of sending white and Negro children to the same public schools should be carried out under local federal court direction—not by a general Supreme Court order.
 Atty. Gen. Brownell proposed this to the Supreme Court yesterday. And in so doing, he secured in agreement with President Eisenhower and with the parties directly involved in the historic case on public school segregation.
 Brownell's brief was filed as part of the proceedings stemming from the high tribunal's May 17 decision that public school segregation is unconstitutional. The court withheld a final order at the time, asking instead for further argument on how school desegregation should be carried out. The date for hearing these arguments has been put off at least until next year.
IKE'S CONFERENCE
 Eisenhower told a news conference Tuesday that he understands the high court is trying to find some sort of decentralized process, and that he believes weight will be given to the emotional and practical problems involved.
 Suggestions that federal district courts handle the job were offered in briefs filed Nov. 15 by Texas, Maryland, Virginia, Delaware, the School Board of Clarendon County, S. C., and attorneys for Negro parents who are principals in the original cases.
 Brownell emphasized the local control idea in asking that the district courts be assigned the task, although his recommendations on
