Psychiatry Aids Actor In Career

By BOB THOMAS HOLLYWOOD, AP—Can psychiatry improve an actor's career? Tony Curtis thinks so. And that's one of the reasons he has been consulting a psychiatrist for the past seven months.

Now don't get the idea that the current heart throbs of the bobby-soxers is blowing his top. He isn't. "I'm not insecure," he explained on the set of "The Purple Mask."

"I don't have split personality. It's just that I wasn't as happy as I should have been. Little things bothered me. A friend of mine suggested I consult a psychiatrist he was going to."

"I tried it, and I've been going once or twice a week ever since. It has done wonders for me. I don't lie on the couch or anything. I just go to this fellow's office and we talk about all kinds of things. I tell him what's bothering me and we dig back into my past and find the reason for it."

The result has brought him happiness, he said, not only in his career but in his married life with Janet Leigh. And he feels it will be a wise investment for his future.

"Look — I want to be in the movie business for the next 30 years," he remarked. "I think this is a good way of helping my chances."

"Some people work with their hands. Me, I've got to use my imagination. I've got to project emotion on the screen. I, Bernard Schwartz (his real name), am the only one who can do it; no one else can do it for me. It figures that the more I know about my emotions and why I react the way I do, the better actor I would be."

Tony is already projecting his career far into the future. In 10 months, he ends his exclusive deal at Universal-International, where he rose from a brash Bronx boy to a star of worldwide fame. He'll then be obligated to do a couple of pictures a year for the following three years, after which he'll be a free agent.

Brother Of 'Spy' Enlists PORTLAND (AP)—James Schmidt, whose Air Force brother was sentenced this week by Red China to four years in prison as a "spy," took his examination Friday for enlistment in the Air Force.

James, 18, said he had been thinking about it for a long time and arranged two weeks ago to sign up in his brother's branch of service.

Their mother, Mrs. Ray Peters, 43, suffered a heart attack Wednesday night but will better Friday. The family thinks worry over the plight of her captured son, Airman 2-C Daniel C. Schmidt, 26, was responsible for the attack.

James, to be sworn in Friday afternoon, said that while he long had wanted to join the Air Force, knowledge of the trouble his brother was in made him even more eager. But, he added, he knew there wasn't much chance he could do anything directly to aid him. He expects to leave Saturday for Parks Air Force Base, California, for his first training.

Co-Chairmen Plan Klamath March Of Dimes Campaign

Co-chairmen of the 1955 Klamath County March of Dimes are Tom and Bob Perkins, who, as co-chairmen of the special events division, were responsible for the major portion of the county's contribution to the last polio prevention drive.

The Perkins pair are underwriters for Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York.

Tom is a member of the Lions Club, the Toastmasters Club of which he is a past secretary, and the Underwriters Association.

Bob is on the board of directors of the Exchange Club and the Underwriters Association, and is a past president of the Toastmasters Club.

Both attended a conference of polio leaders in Seattle Washington, earlier in the year, at which future use of the new Salk polio vaccine in Oregon and in Klamath County was the chief topic discussed.

"We know that 1955 will be a most important year in the fight against polio," the Perkins brothers said. "While we are placing a great deal of hope in the new vaccine, it will be sometime next spring before a complete evaluation is made. But even though our hopes are high, we know, too, that our patient care program for the thousands of this and other year's victims, and our research, now more important than ever, must be maintained," they said.

The Seattle meeting was the first in a series of Western conferences. Meetings were also held in Los Angeles, Reno, Great Falls, Montana, and Denver, Colorado.

Principal speakers at the Seattle conference were Dr. H. A. Fries, San Francisco, and Burr Gibson, New York, assistant fundraising director of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. Dr. Fries is Western medical consultant for the foundation.

Motor Vehicle Totals Rise

The number of registered motor vehicles in Oregon is expected to increase by 50 per cent in the next 20 years, according to an official of the nation's largest independent auto sales finance company.

R. G. McElhany of Seattle, vice president in this area for Universal CIT Corporation, announced that a forecast prepared by his company showed an increase of 375,000 motor vehicles in Oregon, raising the state total from its present 750,000 to about 1,125,000 in 1975.

By that date, he added, the national population should grow from its present 161 million to more than 200 million, with one vehicle for every 2.4 persons.

"If Oregon is going to absorb this volume of vehicles without increasing congestion, something must be done promptly to start modernizing and expanding the state's 60,000 miles of roads and streets," he added.

Former Army CID Officer Says Secret Files Burned

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Daily News quotes a former counter intelligence agent at the Ft. Monmouth (N. J.) electronic center as saying that 10 wastebaskets full of secret files were burned just before the Army-McCarthy hearings.

In a series copyrighted by the News Syndicate Co., Inc., the newspaper interviewed Capt. Benjamin H. Sheehan, former Counter-Intelligence Corps (CID) agent assigned in 1952 to investigate espionage and security at the nation's top secret laboratories.

Sheehan, 40, World War II veteran, was honorably discharged from the service last September. He submitted his resignation after 17 years in the service.

Sheehan, charging that "repeated efforts" to launch a fullscale probe were blocked, was quoted as saying: "On April 2, 1954, a Friday, I had orders to report to the West Coast for shipment to the Far East. I was given the day off."

"A CID major (not identified) in our section suddenly decided to consolidate the files on our espionage-security investigation at Ft. Monmouth, which ran back more than two years. This was at our offices on lower Broadway in New York City."

"He consolidated them, all right. I am reliably informed that he pulled out and burned at least 10—that's right, 10—wastebaskets full of secret reports and correspondence."

The alleged burning of the secret files preceded by several weeks the opening of the McCarthy-Army hearings, during which Sen. Joseph McCarthy (R-Wis) produced a 2 1/2-page document.

McCarthy said the document contained a summary of a classified FBI memo. The senator said the document had been given him by a young Army intelligence officer whom he declined to name. The document dealt with the possibility of espionage at Ft. Monmouth.

Says Sheehan: "The Army never formally accused me of giving that 2 1/2-page FBI letter to Sen. Joseph McCarthy, but I was a prime suspect. "The harassment and treatment my family and I received (Sheehan is married and the father of two children) as a result is a far cry from what should be expected by an officer with an unblemished record of 17 years service."

Ike Names New Diplomat Aide

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—President Eisenhower Friday named George V. Allen, now ambassador to India, to be assistant Secretary of State for Near East, South Asian and African affairs.

Allen will succeed Henry A. Byroade, who will become ambassador to Egypt, succeeding Jefferson Caffery, who is retiring.

There had been speculation for weeks about the shuffling of top diplomatic posts. Some reports have suggested that John Sherman Cooper, Kentucky Republican defeated for re-election to the Senate, might get Allen's post in India. Press Secretary James Hagerly had no comment on Allen's successor there.

Kerns Files Damage Suit

A civil suit for $18,431.03 has been filed in Circuit Court by Earl G. Kerns, prominent Klamath County cattleman, against Henry E. Perkins, Helen S. Perkins, Richard Harrington and Ellen Harrington.

The suit stems from an accident occurring on June 6, 1953, on Highway 97 near Algona, in which Kerns alleges his truck was forced from the highway by cars operated by Perkins and Harrington. The truck rolled down an embankment seriously injuring Kerns, the suit states.

According to Kerns he was traveling south when Perkins, also traveling south, attempted to pass him. Harrington, following Perkins, is said to have attempted to pass at the same time forcing the Perkins vehicle into the truck causing the accident.

Two horses and a calf being transported in the truck were injured and the truck valued at $1500 was salvaged for $127.50 the suit claims.

The suit asks judgment against each of the two families for $6,000 general damages; $2,000 loss of time and impaired earning ability; $489.78 physician and hospital bills; and $2,941.25 truck damage and disbursements.

A. C. Yaden is attorney for Kerns.

Famous Trichologist Will Demonstrate How To Grow Thicker Hair

... And Guarantees It! Demonstration To Be Held Here

The new method of home treatment of saving and growing thicker hair will be demonstrated in Klamath Falls, Ore., Sunday ONLY, November 28, 12 noon to 9 p.m.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Nov. 19—In an interview here today Wm. L. Keele, internationally famous trichologist and president of the Keele Hair and Scalp Specialists, Inc., said: "There are 18 different scalp disorders that cause most men and women to lose hair. Using common sense, a person must realize no one tonic or so-called cure-all could correct all the disorders."

trichologist makes no charge for this examination and no appointment is necessary. After the examination, the person is told the required length of treatment and how much it will cost.

After starting treatment, the person makes regular reports to the Keele firm in Oklahoma City to check the progress of the home treatment.

To spread the opportunity of normal, healthy hair to the thousands who are desperately looking for help, independent trichologists are visiting various cities throughout the United States to conduct examination and start home treatment.

NO CURE-ALL "We have no cure-all for slick, shiny baldness," Keele emphasizes. "If there is fuzz, the root is still capable of creating hair and we can perform what seems to be a miracle."

There is one thing Keele wants to be certain every man and woman knows. If a recession appears at the temples or a spot begins to show up on the crown of the head, there is something wrong and it should be given immediate attention.

HAIR FOR LIFETIME If clients follow our directions during treatment, and after they finish the course, there is no reason why they will not have hair all the rest of their lives," Keele said. "Our firm is definitely behind this treatment, it all depends on the individual client's faithful observation of a few simple rules."

HOW'S YOUR HAIR? If it worries you, call Trichologist M. Den Adell at the Willard Hotel in Klamath Falls, Ore., on Sunday ONLY, November 28, 12 noon to 9 p.m. The public is invited. You do not need an appointment. The examinations are private and you will not be embarrassed or obligated in any way.—Adv.
