Candles and a horn-of-plenty with fruit, vegetables, etc., generously spilling out on the refreshment table was the colorful setting where punch and cookies were served to the 100 young guests. —Photo by Kettler

A GALA EVENING AT THE YACHT CLUB was enjoyed by a group of teenagers November 19, from 8 to 11:30 p.m., when Mr. and Mrs. Hans Norland, club members, gave a party for five teenage girls and their guests. The young hostesses are shown above, the two in front, from the left, Lois Robertson and Gwenlea Hansen. Three in back, same order, Peggy Sumner, Patty Braniff and Darlene Buchholz.

Mothers of the group assisted during the evening and helped the girls with preliminary arrangements. Chaperones included the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Hans Norland, and the girls' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Robertson, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hansen, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Buchholz, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Braniff and Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Sumner. —Photo by Kettler

PROSPERITY SOCIAL CLUB

MALIN — Prosperity Social Club met Thursday evening, November 18, at the home of Mrs. Frank Zlabek, Tulelake.

Mrs. Mervyn Wilde, president, conducted the business meeting. She announced that gifts for the Masonic and Eastern Star Home could be brought to the next regular chapter meeting, December 9. Members voted to send a special gift to Rosella Richardson for Christmas. She is a member of Prosperity Chapter and a guest at the Eastern Star home in Forest Grove. Those desiring to may sign the card at Wilde's Store.

Much of the meeting was spent in choosing officers' dresses. Sizes and colors were chosen and the order was sirnailed to New York the next day. These dresses will be worn for the first time for installation ceremonies on December 16. Refreshments for installation were planned and a committee appointed.

Present were Thelma Clugston, Doris Smith, Emma Wilde, Laura Zlabek, Connie Kruger, Mildred Lovness, Gertrude Henderson, Gladys Halounek, Frances Kalina, Nell Retterath, Edna Hunnicut, Maxine Cole, Hazel Bowman, Margaret White, Leah Street, Mildred Dobry and Madeline Depuy.

There will be no social club meeting during the month of December. The next regular meeting of Prosperity Chapter OES will be Thursday, December 9. On this night, election of officers will be held and members will have a Christmas gift exchange. Gifts may be brought for an exchange or for the Masonic Hall kitchen.

CATHIE JO MARIE is daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Groesbeck, 105 West Oregon. She was 1 year old, October 11, and got all dressed up in her perky polka-dot dress to have her picture taken.

She's well supplied with grandparents—Mr. and Mrs. Ben Franzwa, Brookings; Mrs. Mary Groesbeck, also Brookings; and great-grandparents, Mrs. Edna Jensen, and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Baker, all of Vancouver, Washington. Her dad is taking the electronics course at OTI. —Photo by Guderian

Simple, Impressive Ceremony Unites Well-Known Basin Couple In First Presbyterian Church

A mother-of-pearl covered prayer book topped with Eucharist lilies and stephanotis tied with blue streamers was carried by Flo Ann Perkins, when she exchanged nuptial vows with Frederick Theodore (Ted) Gordon, in First Presbyterian Church last Sunday, November 21. The beautiful book, purchased in Jerusalem when Flo Ann was on a Mediterranean tour — was selected especially for her wedding.

The church was filled with friends and relatives of the two prominent Klamath Basin families — bride is daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Elliott Perkins, 1527 Pacific Terrace; and her husband is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred E. Gordon, Malin. The double-ring candlelight service was read by the Rev. Dale E. Hewitt at 2 p.m., and Flo Ann was given in marriage by her father.

The bride chose blue and white as her color scheme, and a striking background for the ceremony was achieved with arrangements of large white chrysanthemums — the leaves laquered a clear light blue . . . banked with wood-wardia.

Her bridal gown was of white lace and tulle; the fitted lace bodice was made with a stand-up collar, bracelet sleeves and a full floor length skirt of tulle over taffeta. A small snug cap of lace and pearls held her fingertip veil.

Mrs. George McIntyre, organist, played the processional and recessional; and also an organ solo.

Mrs. Charles Knox, Gold Beach was matron of honor; and her wait-length dress was of blue crystal-ette, with full skirt, and the fitted strapless bodice was tipped with a shrug bolero. While lace inserts carried out the blue and white color scheme. She carried a bouquet of pink roses and stephanotis. Best man, Kenneth (Corky) Ellis, is a life-long friend of the bridegroom. They were schoolmates in Malin.

Raymond Beauchamp and John Baker ushered.

Mrs. Perkins wore a mist-blue taffeta afternoon length dress with a full skirt and stand-up collar. The senior Mrs. Gordon chose a navy blue crepe afternoon dress; and both mothers wore pink rosebud corsages.

Guests were received in the church parlors immediately after the ceremony. Mrs. George Barnhart, Eugene, and Mrs. W. I. Tingley poured; Mrs. Jack Schulze and Mrs. Hubert Kidd cut the cake; Marilyn Hemingsen and Mrs. Louis Holzgang served the punch; Jane Tingley carried the guest book; and Mrs. Merle West, Mrs. Fred Southwell and Mrs. Edwin Thomas assisted. All the reception servers and assistants wore blue and white corsages.

For their wedding trip to the Bay Area, Flo Ann wore an off-white dress with matching bolero; black accessories, small black velvet hat; and a red topper. They will be at home in Merrill where she teaches in the Merrill Elementary School — and Ted is associated with his father in farming. Both mothers of the newlyweds are well known teachers — Mrs. Gordon, in Malin; and Mrs. Perkins, in Klamath Falls. Mr. Perkins has practiced law here for many years.

Flo Ann and Ted both attended Stanford; she completed her teachers training at Lewis and Clark.

PRE-NUPITAL PARTIES Pre-nuptial parties honoring Flo Ann included a luncheon-shower given at Harold's by Mrs. Alfred Collier and Mrs. Buford Hargus; an evening shower by hostesses Mrs. I. W. Tingley and Mrs. Fred Southwell at the Tingley residence; and a 9:30 breakfast for the group of girls who were to assist at the reception. Mrs. Charles Knox was hostess at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Scott McKendree, the morning of the wedding, to Marilyn Hemingsen.

St. Paul's Woman's Auxiliary Annual Christmas Bazaar on 4th

St. Paul's Episcopal Woman's Auxiliary bazaar committee are completing arrangements for this year's Christmas bazaar; and have announced that the doors of St. Paul's parish hall will officially open at 10 a.m., December 4, and will stay open all day until after the dinner hour.

"The Square of Little Shops," a festive setting gay with Christmas greens and garlands will provide an enchanting atmosphere for patrons. Stacks of tempting items will include the usual "unusual" apponies; from the frothy nets — or grannies and taffetas to the practical coveralls. Mrs. W. R. Elliott, apron chairman, made a special mention of a "smart barbecue apron for the man in your family."

Mrs. Charles Gilmore, at Santa's Workshop, will offer more of Mrs. Carl Michelson's mirth-provoking monkeys and large colorful clowns. Santa's Workshop will also be generously stocked with wee perky ones; cuddly toys, sick horses etc.

At Holiday House, filled with outstanding items for Christmas decor, Mrs. E. P. Livingston will show shoppers candy wreaths, glo-glo-glo, jewel bedecked angels, tree ornaments, pot pourri jars spicy and fragrant with lavender and rose leaves — the captured essence from last summer's gardens.

Artistic hand-drawn and decorated candles will be offered by Mrs. R. E. Benoist; heaps of big, beautifully decorated tea towels; hand made guest towels; and Mrs. Roy Benedict will offer something new and novel in pillow slips.

The Bake Shop promises to be filled with fruit cakes — light and dark; fragrant pies, cookies, cakes and bread — for which the auxiliary cooks are famous. Mrs. Ray W. Oldenburg and Mrs. Neil Black will also offer jams, jellies, pickles etc.

Mrs. Louis Holzgang, Jane Tingley and the then bride-to-be, All had gone to KUHS.

Mr. and Mrs. Perkins were hosts at the rehearsal dinner in the Wilma Hotel for members of the wedding party the night before the wedding.
