US Doctors Discuss Age Barrier

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—you have a good chance of living to be 100—if you first hurdle a curious invisible barrier at ages 60 to 75, a medical team reported today.
This barrier is a period in which certain chemical and physical processes of the body begin to reverse themselves. In a kind of reverse aging, you begin growing younger in certain ways.
This new finding on growing old is described by Doctors A. A. Goldbloom, Otto Deutscherer, Irving Cháspan and H. B. Eiber, of New York Medical College, in an exhibit at the clinical session of the American Medical Assn. opening here today. It is based upon a survey of more than 1,000 persons aged 80 to 100.
They find evidence that some biochemical and physical processes which increase with age begin to go into reverse between 60 and 75. Just why they do so is not yet clear. But it looks as though the changes amount to "some invisible, not clearly understood barrier."
"Most of us die before reaching that barrier, or, while going through it. But, once we get through, our chances of living to be 100 years are good," Dr. Eiber said.
Two processes which seem to change are hardening or calcification of the aorta—the main artery from the heart—and dilatation of the aorta.
The amounts of certain fatty substances in the blood—which are blamed as having a part in hardening arteries—actually begin to drop after age 75, the study finds.
The medical team finds that increased blood pressure at older ages is not something which is normal or inevitable, but rather something which can and should be controlled, to help people reach the century mark.

Eastern Man Listed Suicide

MILLIS, Mass. (AP)—Roger Preston, 54, president since 1947 of S. S. Pierce Co. of Boston, New England-wide grocery and importing firm, was officially listed a suicide today after his body was found in Charles River.
Dr. Harold L. Shenker, medical examiner, pronounced Preston a suicide by drowning. He said he had "six self-inflicted pellet wounds about the face and neck," caused by an air pistol found in the pocket of his jacket.

The wounds were not sufficient to cause death and Preston apparently was alive when he went into the water, the medical examiner said.
