Air Searchers Hunt Airliner

NORTH CONWAY, N.H. (AP)—A big air and land search gets under way today for a Northeast Airlines plane, missing since yesterday noon on a northbound flight over the vast White Mountain National Forest.

Three passengers and four crewmen were aboard the twin-engine DC3.

An air search was conducted yesterday in this area after burniers and others in the vicinity of Mt. Pequot reported hearing an explosion-like noise sometime before noon.

The plane acknowledged at 11:30 a.m., a report on weather conditions at its destination, the Berlin Airport at Milan, about 10 miles north of Berlin.

Northeast Airlines in Boston said it "suggested" at 11:30 a.m. that the plane return to Laconia because of "deteriorating" weather conditions at Milan. That message never was acknowledged, the airline said.

The plane's crew were Capt. W. Peter Carey, 31, Swampscott, Mass.; Copilot George McCormick, 37, Boston; Stewardess Mary McKettrick, 23, Dorchester, Mass.; and Flight Supt. John McNulty, 39, Boston.

Collapsing Slag Kills Manager

LORAIN, Ohio (AP)—Caught in a collapsing slag pile, the general manager of the Lorain Slag Co. was crushed to death yesterday while trying to rescue a trapped employee.

William F. Miller, of suburban Bay Village, had tried to save Henry Kraemer, 23, Kraemer was in serious condition in St. Joseph's Hospital with back injuries and possible fractured ribs.

The slag had become caked over a 15-foot pit opening into a conveyor system that led to a freighter on which it was being loaded. Kraemer stepped onto the pile and it collapsed. Miller rushed to his rescue but dropped from sight. Kraemer, whose head was visible, was pulled out first by workmen who later extricated Miller.
