STOCKS

WALL STREET
NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market drifted lower Tuesday after a more favorable start. Prices dipped down around 2 points while gains ran to 3 points. Most changes either way were small, however, and minus signs predominated.

Wool Grower Eyes Goal

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — The president of the National Wool Growers Assn. predicted Tuesday that America's sheepmen will achieve the goal set by Congress in giving them preferential treatment—production of 200 million pounds of wool per year.

Ray M. Willoughby of San Angelo, Texas, gave his report to the opening session of the association's annual convention.

Noting that sheep population in this country has declined from about 50 million in 1942, the peak year, to 27 million, Willoughby said the wool growing industry is a "casualty" of World War II. He said that is because wartime price laws limited their income and "we were unable to compete with rapidly rising wage rates."

"Many herders," he said in his prepared address, "and other essential help went into other more lucrative types of work."

"But I am just as firmly convinced," he said of the present, "that we are on the way toward rehabilitation and that with this new program... we will move on and achieve the goal set by the National Wool Act—the production of 200 million pounds of wool."

Willoughby said the new law, enacted by Congress last summer, assures the wool grower of an average of 62 cents per pound. That will be achieved through incentive payments which will be added to the grower's income from the sale of wool in regular market channels.

That type of aid was provided in the series of new farm laws only for the wool growers.

Grains

CHICAGO GRAIN
CHICAGO (AP) — Grains wound up with a mixture of gains and losses after fluctuating in an erratic fashion on the board of trade Tuesday.

Corn and soybeans were under pressure most of the session. Beans were subjected to additional liquidation. Cash corn receipts continued to run above recent weeks, depressing the yellow grain.

SP Installs New Radio

A new railroad radio station has been installed by Southern Pacific at Abernethy near Cascade Summit, Southern Oregon, capable of sending its signals deep into forested canyons at all times to communicate with trains where at certain locations during storms they have sometimes been cut off from present radio, according to J. W. Corbett, vice president in charge of operations for the railroad.

It is a relay station where radio messages transmitted from Eugene, 80 miles away, are retransmitted with stepped-up power, Corbett explains.

The relay station has joined a chain of radio stations located at Eugene, Oakridge, Wicopee, Crescent Lake, and by its use it is possible to communicate from Eugene approximately 100 miles along the main track to Crescent Lake and beyond without dependence on line wires through which the other radio stations are controlled, according to Superintendent L. P. Hopkins of Portland Division of the railroad. If wires break in winter storms, the new radio will be used to bridge the gap and help keep trains rolling until wires can be restored, Hopkins explains.

By the use of the new station, repair men for wire or track work can be contacted quickly, according to A. E. DeMott, superintendent of communications for the railroad, and communications can also be established with the radio-equipped automobile of the trainmaster when he is cruising the mountain roads. All freight and passenger trains in that area are radio-equipped.

expressed willingness to have the deceased's clothing admitted as evidence," Stearns continued. "There was no reason for the district attorney to display a blood-stained shirt in front of the jurors. It was a gruesome sight."

Stearns also castigated the district attorney for showing the jury photographs of Ericka taken in a morgue two days after his death.

OBSERVERS
Trial observers believed Attorney Reimiller scored heavily for the defense when he pointed out what he described as "inconsistencies" in the testimony of prosecution witnesses concerning the toy pistol.

Glenn Ericka, brother of the homicide victim, and Norman Lyle Karr, a professional trapper, described for the jury events leading up to the shooting to which they were eye-witnesses. Glenn Ericka and Karr went to the Jackson ranch with Gene Ericka seeking permission to fish on that property.

While on the witness stand, Karr and Glenn Ericka told how the slaying victim was playing with a toy pistol and some small firecrackers. While they were driving from Wood River to the Jackson place, they said Gene Ericka amused himself by sticking firecrackers in the muzzle of the cap pistol and igniting them with a cigar.

The witnesses also said Gene Ericka would point the gun at cattle and horses along the highway and when the firecrackers exploded, the animals would become frightened and run.

U.S. Air Force Announces New Reenlistment Policy

It is possible now for prior service Air Force personnel who have been out longer than three months, but not more than six months, to reenlist and retain their old grade, according to T-Sgt. Donald Adams, local Air Force recruiter.

Further, it is possible for them to choose their base of assignment, provided they obtain a letter of authorization from the organization they wish to return to.

A listing of the Air Force specialties covered by this new policy has just been received by the Air Force Recruiting Station in Klamath Falls, and includes over 100 different skills, such as aircraft maintenance, aircraft control and warning, cryptography, wire maintenance, automotive mechanic, administration, personnel, and many others.

The first former airman to take advantage of the new ruling locally is John T. Kasper, son of Mrs. Lorna V. Kasper, 1410 Homestead Road, who reenlisted for four years in the U.S. Air Force, November 26.

Kasper, after several months as a civilian, decided to make a career of the Air Force. At the suggestion of T-Sgt. Adams, he requested and received a letter of authorization from the Commander of Barksdale AFB, Shreveport, Louisiana, enabling him to not only reenlist in his former grade of staff sergeant, but also to ship him back to the station of his choice.
