SPOKANE, Wash. (AP)—Saddler came out in the late going last night against young Woods, a local lightweight who staggered him in the first round and again in the sixth before fading out.

Beaver Cagers Tall Men

By JACK HEWINS

Associated Press Sports Writer
SEATTLE (AP)—If you stretched the Oregon State College basketball players end to end they'd reach from here to the middle of March and be in a good place to pick up the Northern Division pennant.

The Beavers of Gillville, who will add seven-plus feet of Halbrook to their altitude section before the Pacific Coast Conference schedule begins, are your choice and mine to hang onto the division flag.

But Sids Gill and his High Guys will find the rest of the loop quarrelsome and may run nose and eye with Tippy Dye and the Washington Huskies right down to the wire. Let's scan the scramble:

Oregon State — A veteran club with tremendous height will be at top strength when 7-foot-3 Wade Halbrook becomes eligible. Gill has good bench strength to back up his tall pines. Anybody who beats him will have to be red hot, errorless and a little bit lucky.

Washington — Dye has a young team coming along and it is blessed with height, speed and shooting ability. His forwards are tall and quick, his guards little and quick and he has plenty of both. Center Dean Parsons is rugged and dependable and will contribute 18 points a game to Tippy's peace of mind.

Washington State — We've got Jack Friel pegged to bring his Cougars home in third place but he could do better. The addition of Larry Beck gives him a capable running mate for Ron Bennink and Jack has some promising sophomores. He'll be troublesome.

Oregon — Coach Bill Borchert could fool a lot of people, one of whom is us. The return of Jim Loscutt has given him more board strength to go with speed and good shooting and big Max Amos Lincoln is a dangerous gunner. Bill will trip a few before he's closed.

Idaho — Heavy losses in the veteran department gives new Coach Harlan Hodges a rebuilding job in his first season. Idaho will run — and may catch up with some of the enemy before the books are closed.

If you have a spare dime or two kicking around in your jeans you could do worse than invest it in Larry Shannon.

This Okanogan boy, due for a big season as his high school team's fullback, fractured a leg just before the first game. He's been in bed ever since, and although he'll walk again, he'll never play football. School insurance amounted to $500 but his bills will run to $1,300.

The Okanogan Junior Chamber of Commerce has started a drive to make up the difference. We'll bet our two-bits that you can send hours to the "Larry Shannon Fund, Okanogan, Wash.," and be sure it will brighten Larry's Christmas.

Fans around Lewiston, Idaho, are hoping Ron Chadwick — who attended school there before switching to Eastern Washington College — will make a bid for the Olympic decathlon team. Although weak in the weights, Ron could pile up enough points in the other events to beat serious contender for world honors.

Our confederate in The Associated Press office at San Francisco, Russ Newland — whom many of you know — discovered recently he's been walking around for 37 years with a busted neck. Russ will spend about six weeks in a hospital getting the neck bone reconnected with the head bone and instead of a Merry Christmas we're wishing him a Pretty Nurse.

John Newcomb, Garfield end and one of the leading pass catchers in the Seattle city high school league, has very weak eyes but plays football without glasses. How can he catch a pass?

"I just look over my shoulder," told Coach Swede Lindquist, "and when I see something fuzzy, I grab it."

HERE 'TIS—Here is an excellent study of a bird dog, Rockpool Rex, just after he had cleared a dyke and paused with a snipe in his mouth. The re-ever, owned by Dr. J. A. Jamieson of Brora, took part in the Gun Dog Association Trials at Crathes, Scotland. (NEA)

THE WINNAH!—The Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity presented Howard Cassidy with its annual trophy for the outstanding player in Ohio State's homecoming game with Wisconsin. The All-America halfback is a repeater, having also been so adjudged last season. (NEA)

Redskins Capture Fifth Tilt

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

If you can take nonconference records as an indication, the rave notices about the University of Utah before the start of the basketball season were right.

Coach Jack Gardner's Utes now have won five games in a row, including last night's smartly styled 77-44 victory over the University of Arizona.

Utah probably will have to fight off Wyoming for the Skyline Conference championship, but Brigham Young, another perennial contender, doesn't seem to have it.

DOWNING

Wyoming won its third straight nonconference game, by downing Creighton 76-72 after overcoming a 35-32 deficit.

Brigham Young dropped its third in a row without a victory when the University of Washington routed the Cougars 64-44.

Washington led by 40-18 at the half.

Duquesne, one of the top-rated teams in the country defeated Fordham 64-45 in the first round of the annual Steel Bowl Tournament at Pittsburgh.

George Washington trounced host Pitt 87-65 and will meet the Dukes in the final tonight.

The Big Ten television program also will get under way with the Indiana - Notre Dame game being carried over a nationwide hook-up on CBS.

The Irish stunned Indiana 65-64 in the NCAA Tournament last season.

BINGE

The University of Richmond, in the midst of a scoring binge, has averaged 106 points per game in five outings. The spiders haven't been beaten. Randolph - Macon was victim No. 5 last night 119-52.

Southern Methodist's undefeated record was smashed by Washington University of St. Louis 58-54.

The Mustangs with seven minutes to play had an eight-point bulge, but Washington wiped it out and went ahead.

Southern California, the western regional NCAA champion, eked out a 45-43 victory over Oregon State in a major Pacific Coast game.

UCLA whipped Santa Clara 74-39. Syracuse held off Harvard 63-56.

Wake Forest turned back Maryland 62-58 and Utah State stopped Washington State 73-72.

California was surprised by College of Pacific 84-77 in a double overtime struggle.

Eastern Schools Back NCAA Television Plans

NEW YORK (AP)—The largest and most influential group of institutions in college sports, the Eastern College Athletic Conference, has lined up on the side of continued national controls in the expected struggle over whether college football should be televised.

The struggle is expected to take place during or before the NCAA convention next month, when consideration of a TV control plan for the 1955 season will be one of the most important items on the agenda.

By devising and recommending to the NCAA its own proposed program, the ECAC served notice yesterday it will oppose the proposals of the Big Ten and Pacific Coast Conferences to put television on a regional basis.

These two regional plans would divide the country into sections and allow each to select its own games to be telecast in its own area.

The ECAC plan calls for the "game a week" and one appearance provisions to be retained but for some of the other restrictions to be relaxed.

Browns Seek Pro Grid Title

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Cleveland Browns can move to their accustomed spot in the National Football League playoffs if they get past the Pittsburgh Steelers tomorrow.

A Brown victory would assure Paul Brown's club of the Eastern Division title and assure them a crack at the Detroit Lions for the league title. The Lions already have clinched the Western Division crown but they will go through the motions against the Chicago Bears.

The Steelers are one of the two teams that have beaten the Browns. And they did it emphatically, 55-37, at the start of the season.

The New York giants still have a faint chance to tie the Browns for the division crown. If they win and the Steelers and Lions whip the Browns, the eastern section will be deadlocked.

The Philadelphia Eagles play the Giants, who will be without the services of Charlie Conerly.

The Chicago Cardinals and the Washington Redskins also have an important tussle because the loser will finish in the cellar.

IRISH WILL TRAVEL

NOTRE DAME, Ind. (AP)—Members of the 1955 Notre Dame football team could use a tourist guide. The Irish have a game scheduled at the University of Miami (Fla.) on Oct. 7 and one with the University of Southern California at Los Angeles on Nov. 26.
