Five Sisters Die In Fire

BALTIMORE (AP) — Five sisters, left alone in their second-floor apartment for about 20 minutes, were burned to death last night when a flash fire trapped them in their bedroom.

George Davis Jr., 6-year-old brother of the victims, suffered third-degree burns and suffocation. He was in serious condition at South Baltimore General Hospital.

Firemen said the father, a Negro longshoreman, had left the house to go to a nearby restaurant. His wife Ruth, 26, was at a movie.

Davis saw smoke when he arrived home after an absence of 20 minutes. His rescue attempts failed when he was beaten back by intense flames and smoke.

Ten minutes elapsed before firemen could enter the bedroom. Found dead were Mildred, 10, Rosetta, 4, Wilhelmina, 2, Palestina, 15 months, and Lula, 5 months.

Firemen said the fire started around a stove pipe in the grocery below the apartment.

Missing Baker Man Sought

BAKER (AP) — Search was resumed Saturday for Norman A. Phillips, 37, Baker business man missing more than a week, when a report he had been located did not pan out.

Phillips left a business meeting in Portland Dec. 3, presumably to return here by train, but he never arrived.

His wife and his father, Henry F. Phillips, inventor of the recessed-head screw which bears his name, became concerned about him the middle of this week and asked police to look for him. But the search was called off when the father found he had visited a distant relative in Las Vegas Monday, and presumed he would be home soon.

When the younger Phillips did not return here by Friday, the father contacted the relative, Louise Cobb. She said the missing man visited her, then left after saying he would be back shortly. He did not return. She said he talked about plans to visit relatives in San Francisco and Los Angeles, but those relatives did not see him.

Phillips' wife said he is a multiple sclerosis sufferer and she fears he lost his memory.

Prayed Him In

Geo. N. Taylor

"I was the town drunkard and had lost my family and business." So he told us that Monday morning in the little Illinois town. And nothing would do but our going with him to the little church there on the hillside and see "The Place." He kept talking about "The Place" at the church; he went down the aisle and stopped and pointed to the floor. That was "The Place."

Geo. N. Taylor

There God had uprooted the drink habit that had held him all those evil years. Now he had his family and business back and was no more "The town drunkard." Who prayed God in? His wife? His daughter? A son? Preacher? Anyway what you ask God in Christ's name; that will God give. See John 16:23. This space sponsored by a Portland lumberman and wife. (adv.)

Alabama Officers To Serve Warrant On State Official

GALVESTON, Tex. (AP)—Alabama officers today awaited a certified copy of a grand jury indictment they need to serve a fugitive warrant on their state's attorney general.

The official, Silas Garrett III, is a central figure in the Phenix City, Ala., cleanup. He is in a Galveston hospital, where doctors say he is "too ill to be moved."

The Galveston News quoted an attorney, who declined to permit use of his name, as saying the warrant charged first-degree murder.

Asst. Galveston County Atty. Jack Callahan said Sheriff Lamar Murphy of Russell County, Ala., was refused a fugitive warrant Saturday because he lacked a certified copy of the indictment. Callahan said he understood the copy is coming by plane.

Two persons are under arrest in the murder last June 18 of the nominee for Alabama attorney general, Albert L. Patterson, who crusaded against vice. They are a former chief deputy sheriff, Albert Fuller, and a suspended prosecuting attorney, Arch Ferrell.

A third indictment was returned in the case, but the name of the accused person won't be disclosed until he is arrested.

Callahan refused to say what the Alabama indictment charges. He said that Alabama state law forbids making public the name of an indicted man before he is arrested and "it is up to the Alabama officers to say."

The Alabama officers were close-mouthed.

Sheriff Murphy said he merely was in Galveston on a "pleasure trip." The men who were with him declined to give their names.

They did tell the Galveston Daily News that they expected to make an extradition as soon as the indictment copy arrived.

A lawyer told the Galveston News that if Garrett refused to waive extradition the governor of Alabama must ask the governor of Texas to release him. The lawyer added: "The whole process might take 30 days."

The News said the Alabama officers visited John Sealy Hospital Saturday and were told Garrett must remain in the hospital indefinitely for treatment of "a mental and physical condition."

Garrett also has been indicted for vote fraud in connection with the Democratic runoff in which Patterson was elected. The slain attorney's son was elected to the post without opposition.

GOP Leader Knowland Asks Changes In Senate Rules

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Republican Leader Knowland said today proposed changes in rules for Senate investigating committees "undoubtedly will be taken up" early in the next session of Congress.

He said in an interview there appears to be a general feeling among senators that "some rules changes are necessary and desirable."

Various proposals to establish "a code of fair procedures" for investigating committees were offered during the past session of Congress, but no action was taken on them.

In part they grew out of the McCarthy-Army row and other controversies revolving around Sen. McCarthy's handling of the Senate Investigations subcommittee.

Democrats will control the new Congress, and Knowland said it will take "a high degree of cooperation" between the parties to effect any rules changes.

But he said that if this is achieved and if the subject is taken up early enough, he believed rules changes could be adopted. He did not commit himself to any specific changes.

The special bipartisan committee which recommended censure of McCarthy also urged four rules changes which it said would have prevented "much of the criticism against investigative committee hearings."

A Senate Rules subcommittee under the chairmanship of Sen. Jenner (R-Ind) held extensive hearings earlier in the year on proposals for fair investigating procedures. Jenner said several weeks ago a report would be ready by the time the new Congress convenes.

The Senate Republican Policy Committee drafted last spring suggested changes in rules which some Senate committees adopted voluntarily.

While not spelling out details, Knowland said a code of fair procedures should deal with the rights of witnesses, methods of issuing subpoenas, hearing practices, and television and broadcasting problems.

U.S. Atomic Lead Reported

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chairman Lewis L. Strauss of the Atomic Energy Commission said today the United States is "making very rapid and satisfactory progress" and continues to lead Russia in the nuclear weapons field.

Asked in a copyrighted interview with the Magazine U. S. News and World Report whether this country is "substantially ahead of Soviet Russia" in the atomic arms race, Strauss replied:

"Yes. We started sooner. We have more material to experiment with. We have more facilities. We believe we have more of these very large experimental machines. But, since I can't look behind the Iron Curtain, I can't be absolutely certain. Most importantly, we have a devoted group of free men at work on the problems.

"We are making very rapid and satisfactory progress. In a business which has no competition until and unless you go to war, it's a little dangerous to feel assurance that the progress is satisfactory but I believe it is."

Strauss said the nation now has about 8½ billion dollars invested in its atomic energy business, and that the present program contemplates spending of about half a billion dollars more on the plant.

"Then," he said, "we will be running along with an operating expenditure of about two billion dollars a year . . . for as long as one can foresee."

Reds Face Bleak Xmas

VIENNA (AP)—Christmas will not amount to much for 70 millions in Communist East Europe this year.

Communism supposedly has let up a little in its persecution of the church and there are supposed to be more luxury goods available in the state-run stores. But all indications from the Communist press are that Russian's Communist satellites are going ahead with long-range plans to eliminate Christmas entirely.

In the schools of Poland, Czechoslovakia, Hungary, Romania and Bulgaria, the children are being taught their parents are wrong: The Red star of communism, not the Star of Bethlehem, is the important thing.

Family celebrations of Christmas are being discouraged.

There will be fir trees in the streets of Warsaw, Prague and Budapest, but they will be know as "New Year's trees," or "winter trees."

There will be parties for the kids in schools and in the halls of Communist organizations. But they will be held around Jan. 1. In them, the children will see films about the Soviet Union and puppet shows in which American soldiers and bankers are the "bogeymen."

There will be special holiday radio programs for children but mostly devoted to the Communist concepts of "peace and friendship."

The exchange of gifts is being frowned on. Gifts, said a Polish newspaper, are "decadent capitalism." Czech mothers have been advised not to send packages to their soldier sons. "They have already enough to eat and packages will only spoil them," said the newspaper Odborar.
