

MEMBERS of the Gospel Mission of the United Holy Church of America will worship in the near future in this new building at 251 Commercial Street now nearing completion. The 20 by 40 pumice tile sanctuary replaces a former church crushed by snow on December 28, 1952. The new church was built on the same site as the former building. A choir is to be organized as soon as services start. The Rev. Mrs. Caroline Timms, pioneer pastor of Klamath Falls, confers here with Clyde Dorrell, carpenter.

Truman Career Reviewed In Films At Birthday Party

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The slender, little man watched the movie through his silver-framed glasses, seemingly unaware that hundreds of eyes in the room were glued on his face rather than the screen. It was a belated birthday party for former President Harry S. Truman—a dinner also arranged to raise money for his favorite project, the erection of a library at Independence, Mo., to house the records of his eight years in the White House.

The birthday celebration yesterday was months late because an operation had forced a postponement. But the guest of honor, showed few, if any, signs of ill health.

A motion picture of the highlights of his presidential career was shown the dinner guests. It showed Truman being sworn in as President after the death of Franklin D. Roosevelt. Then the scene shifted to a closeup of Truman announcing that a terrible new weapon had been used on the Japanese—the atom bomb. The man at the head table seemed to watch this scene with greater intensity than ever. The screen next showed Truman, Winston Churchill and Josef Stalin at Yalta—one of the historic conferences of the Truman administration.

Finally, there was a shot of Truman with some of his military leaders, including Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower. There was a ripple of applause, but those who started it seemed to realize quickly they were there to honor another President. The clapping faded and died.

The movie ended, the ballroom lights were turned back on and, after an introduction, the former President arose to speak briefly of his library project, what it would mean to students, historians and the public.

But it was an anti climax. A man making a speech is a practiced spectacle.

The man who had sat there in the partially darkened ballroom watching his day of glory unfold on the screen had been going through a scene unrehearsed and unaware it was being witnessed.

Home Extension

LINDLEY
By Mrs. Fred Schlegel
Lindley Heights Home Extension Unit met at 1 p.m. December 8 at Joan's Kitchen for a gift exchange and Christmas party, following a brief business meeting. Mrs. Joe Shuh was introduced and offered cook books compiled by the Federation of Garden Clubs for sale. Winners of last year's contest entertained and served refreshments in keeping with the Christmas season. The winners expressed appreciation for a wonderful afternoon.

MIDLAND
By Mrs. R. E. Rutter
Christmas came early to the Midland Home Extension Unit when members held their annual Christmas party at the regular meeting December 9 in Joan's Kitchen. The center of attraction was a beautifully decorated tree with unusual decorations, gayly trimmed cookies. Tables were centered with greens, pine cones and candles. One table was centered with a nativity scene. Decorations were arranged by Mrs. Wendell Beyers and Mrs. Norman Risley. Turkey and all the trimmings was served for luncheon.

Airmen Abandon Burning Jet

NORWELL, Mass. (AP)—Two Air Force men parachuted safely out of a burning jet plane last night seconds before it crashed and exploded in woods. Lt. Alfred M. Yahanda, 25, Minneapolis, Minn., is credited with guiding the plane away from a residential section before he jumped from a height of 2,000 feet. Lt. Herbert W. Foreman, 23, Philadelphia, the radar observer, leaped when the plane caught fire at an altitude of about 14,000 feet. Neither was injured.

Following the meal, gifts were exchanged during the social hour. The next meeting will be January 13 when the project Garment Touchups for Wood Furniture, was presented by Hope Holbrook, home extension agent to 25 members and Mrs. Robert Rutter.
