

YMCA BOYS ENJOY SUMMER CAMP WITH BOATING, SWIMMING, PLAY

Boating is one of the big features of the Annual Diamond Lake summer camp of the Klamath County YMCA, along with other waterfront activities like sailing, swimming and canoeing, as the picture at the top shows. Rifle practice (top left) is also a popular diversion with the youngsters, as is copper and leather work in the crafts course (right). Nature study is a "must" at the camp with the lads learning about forest trees and animals in the camp area. And a campfire, of course, is the focal point of any outdoor gathering. Those lads sitting on the log talking to the boss man, Paul Campbell were killing time with a little conversation while waiting for assembly. Chapel is held every morning (lower left) following breakfast. And everyone turns out for the daily flag raising ceremony. Sixty boys and counselors attended this year's outing held during July. —Photos by Pete Armen
