Gold Cup Victory Taken By Detroit Speedboater

By JACK HEWINS

SEATTLE (AP) — The Gold Cup, elderly symbol of America's speedboat championship, was headed back to Detroit Monday after a merry Sunday mixup in which a loser was the winner and the winner cheered too soon.

Gale V, Joe Schoenith's romping monster, earned the cup on points.

Half a million people—that's the Seattle Police Department's estimate of the crowd—thought the victory belonged to Miss Thriftway. This brand new Seattle entry in the speedboat racing picture roared to clear cut victories in the second and third heats of the 48th 90-mile classic.

The Gale, driven by the owner's son, Lee Schoenith, finished second in the first heat, second in the second heat and third in the last 30-mile go-round.

But when the race officials figured up the time they found that Gale needed 4.53 fewer seconds to negotiate the 90 miles than did the Thriftway, which finished third in the first heat. This earned Gale a bonus of 400 points for running the fastest race. With points earned during the heats, Gale wound up with 1,225.

CONKED OUT

Miss Thriftway, lacking a bonus, finished with 1,035 points. The Slo-Mo-Shun IV, which brought the Gold Cup to Seattle in 1950, was in the thick of the point scramble until her engine conked out on the next-to-last lap of the final heat. She got third place on the cup ladder.

Fourth went to Such Crust III and fifth to Miss Cadillac, both of Detroit. Breathless, entered from Piedmont, Calif., took sixth and Gale IV, sister of the winner, was seventh.

The Slo-Mo-Shun IV set a couple of records in winning the first heat. Her 107 miles per hour for the third lap and 103 for the heat were new arks in gold cup competition. Failure to finish cost her the 400-point bonus she could have had for recording the day's fastest heat.

She was not alone on the sidelines at the windup. Flame flashed in the cockpit of Guy Lombardo's Temp IV in the first lap of the day and driver Danny Foster was burned on the left arm. He was not seriously hurt but the boat was through for the day.

UNDISCOVERED

Two craft sank, both after hitting some undiscovered debris. The Scotter Too, owned by industrialist Henry Kaiser, holed her hull just before the start of the race. Rebel Suh, running as a team with Thriftway, had the same experience in the second heat. Their drivers were not hurt.

Miss United States, another Detroit entry, was withdrawn before the start due to engine trouble. The Gale IV conked out for keeps in the second heat. Such Crust III could not make the starting line for the first heat but turned in a tremendous performance in the last two.

The Crust finished fourth in the second heat and second in the last one, giving Thriftway and Slo-Mo a thrilling battle in the finale.

Driver Bill Muncey, designer Ted Jones, owner Willard Rhodes and the whole Thriftway camp were jubilant when their boat roared home in front in the final heat, apparently to win the cup. Then the report came that the timers were studying the situation regarding the bonus points.

It took half an hour to decide the issue and turn on the flame of celebration in the bailiwick of the Gales.

Muncey might have won had he kept up his torrid 103-mph pace of the next-to-final lap. But when the Slo-mo dropped out it appeared he had the race wrapped up and he eased off to 93 for the last lap.

For several years the Gold Cup race has been the climax event of Seattle's annual week-long Seafair celebration.

Chicago Has Big Gem With Banks On Squad

TODAY'S SPORT PARADE
(Reg. U.S. Pat. Off.)
By JACK CUDDY
United Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (UP) —The delighted Chicago Cubs, who wouldn't take a half million dollars in cold cash for him right now, are firmly convinced that spectacular young Ernie Banks has blossomed into the most valuable player in the National League.

Banks, at 24, "can't be had at any price," according to officials in the Cubs' front office who feel the slender Negro infielder will make baseball fans forget Willie Mays within the next few years.

"There's no question that Banks is the best shortstop in the league," says his manager, Stan Hack, "and from my point of view, there aren't many better all-around players than him, either."

Hack, who might possibly be enchanted with Banks' 37 home runs so far, isn't the only big league manager who takes his cap off to the Dallas-born shortstop.

HITTING

"The Cubs have a gem in that boy Banks," says Cincinnati Manager Birdie Tebbetts. "Everyone talks about his hitting but he can go get 'em with anyone at shortstop."

Fred Haney, the sharp - eyed Pittsburgh skipper, is another Banks' booster.

"He all but ruined us in our last series with Chicago," Haney said. "We tried pitching to him several ways but he looks like he has this hitting business all figured out."

Pee Wee Reese of the Dodgers also has paid tremendous tribute to strong-armed Ernie, who is putting in only his second full season in the majors, while General Manager Frank Lane of the White Sox said not so long ago that if he had his choice of any player in the Nation League, he'd pick Banks.

Such praise might tend to turn a youngster's head but there has been no difference noticeable to any of Banks' teammates.

"He's the same quiet kid that came up to the club late in 1953," says veteran catcher Clyde McCullough. "Before he's through, he's liable to break a lot of home run records but he isn't the kind who'll make a big fuss about it."

ESTABLISHED

Banks already has broken the old record for home runs by a National League shortstop which was 22 set by Glenn Wright of the Dodgers in 1930 and is a good bet to surpass the American League record of 39 established by Vern Stephens of the Red Sox in 1949.

"He's a wonderful boy," Hack declares. "When he comes back to the bench after hitting a home run he almost looks like he did something wrong."

Banks admits he wasn't overly interested in baseball during his days in high school where he preferred to play football, basketball and run the quarter mile on the track team. His father, Eddie, who had played semi-pro baseball, coaxed Ernie to do some catching in the family back-yard but the boy never dreamed of becoming a big leaguer.

And when he did reach the big time, he certainly never thought he'd be the best ballplayer in the league but the Cubs—and a lot of others—claim that's what he is right now.

Bend Scores Triumph Over Suburban 4-0

Suburban of Klamath Falls again fell 4-0 before the pitching mastery of big Tom Ray of the Bend VFW softball team Sunday night at Bend in the deciding game of the district playoffs.

The Sunday night win coupled with Saturday evening's 2-0 decision over the Subs gave the Central Oregon team the district title and the right to enter the state tournament this weekend at Eugene.

Ray was again the stumbling block of the Klamath softballers. Saturday evening the Bend pitcher fashioned a two hit shutout and last night limited Suburban to three singles. It was Ray's ninth game in seven days of playoff action.

The talented moundsman struck out 11 Suburban hitters while his teammates collected five hits of their own and took advantage of five Sub errors to snare the win.

In the last half of the first inning, Don Campbell, Bend leadoff hitter walked, a sacrifice followed by an error gave Bend runners on second and third. John Newell then singled both runners home with what proved to be the winning runs.

Millard Marsh led Bend hitters with two hits in three times. The three Klamath hits were picked up by Roy Harris, Jim Brown and Cliff Stemler, who had a two-out seventh inning pinch hit single.

SAN ANTONIO, Texas (AP) — Dennis Todd of Klamath Falls and Gary Ambrose, Portland, were eliminated Saturday from the doubles division of the National Junior Chamber of Commerce tennis tournament here.

Crawford Henry and Chuck Taylor, both of Atlanta, Ga., handed the Oregon duo a 6-4, 6-2 defeat. Henry was second-seeded in the singles division.

Virgil Akins Favored in Bout

NEW YORK (UP)—Virgil Akins of St. Louis, fifth-ranking welterweight contender, is favored at 2-1 to snap the winning streak of Cuban Isaac Logart tonight in their TV 10-rounder at St. Nicholas Arena.

Akins, unbeaten in his last seven bouts although held to one draw, registered five knockouts in six bouts this year. He has become a dangerous puncher. He is favored because of his punch and boxing skill. His 29-13-1 record includes 15 knockouts. He was stopped twice.

Twenty-two-year - old Logart of Camaguay, Cuba, has eight straight victories under his belt. He too is a dangerous banger—of the slugger type. He knocked out 18 of his 46 opponents and was stopped but once.

Aussie Net Star Shaky

By WILL GRIMSLEY

GLEN COVE, N.Y., (AP)—If the Australians are to win back the Davis Cup, one thing seems sure: they'll have to put young Lew Hoad back on the varsity.

Rex Hartwig, brilliant but explosive and panicky, definitely can't be trusted with a singles assignment in the big pressure matches coming up — first the Italians, then the Americans.

This was the clearest observation from the rain-plagued interzone matches with Japan at the Nassau Country Club over the weekend.

With Hoad on the bench and possibly in Captain Harry Hopman's "doghouse," Hartwig was given the important singles job with Ken Rosewall against the lightly regarded Japanese.

He was forced five sets Friday by Kosei Kamo and then yesterday, after requesting he be permitted to play the second match, was carried four sets by Atsushi Miyagi, 3-6, 6-0, 6-3, 9-7.

The second singles match between Rosewall and Kamo was rained out. Rosewall was leading 3-1 in the first set. This gave Australia 4-0 score in the series.

Hartwig, runner-up to Vic Seixas in the U.S. National Tournament last year, failed to show the stuff needed to wrest the cup from this country.

His trouble lies got in his tennis but in his temperament. Against Miyagi he constantly fought court tantrums, slamming his racket, upbraiding ballboys and letting out loud yelps of disgust. His temper caused him to make errors on some of the easiest shots.

It's doubtful Australia can trust him against Wimbledon champion Tony Trabert or Vic Seixas in the Challenge Round Aug. 26-28.

Doug Ford Captures AA Crown

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN

CHICAGO (AP) — Four-year-old Mike straddled Doug Ford's shoulders and pounded tom-tom fashion on his head.

Ten-year-old Doug Jr. hung to his dad's hand, his eyes gleaming in hero worship.

The dad said: "I guess I'll go back to the trailer and do some baby sitting. I've got another, Pamela. But she's only 5 months old."

Doug Ford is the hottest pro golfer on the circuit right now. His check of $3,420 for winning the All-American Tournament at Tam O'Shanter yesterday boosted his earnings for the season to $19,030 and gave him third place on the PGA money-winning list.

The 33-year-old Ford, winner of the national PGA crown two weeks ago, took the All-American prize with a final 70 for a 72-hole total of 277—11 under par.

Instead of the windup being a race for the title, it was more a retreat. While Ford breezed in with a 2-under 70, British Open champion Peter Thomson, the 54-hole leader, ballooned to 78 for 284 and seventh place.

Most of the other front runners also collapsed with the result that little-known Leo Biagetti, Willoughby, Ohio, took second with 70 for 280, and a four-way tie for third developed among Ted Kroll, Tony Holouin, Jimmy Demaret and Freddie Haas—each at 283.

"Of course the big one is yet to come," said Ford. "I mean the World Tournament (starting Thursday). I would settle right now for 274. If the weather remains good, I think it will take that to win."

The 72-hole grind in the World event pays the winner $50,000 in cash and guarantees $55,000 more for 55 exhibition matches.

Other divisions of the All-American came out this way:

Women's amateur—Wiffi Smith, St Clair, Mich., 312.

Men's amateur—Doug Sanders, Cedartown, Ga., 286.

49ers Lucky In Close Win Over Redskins

SAN FRANCISCO (UP)—Coach Red Strader said today his San Francisco Forty Niners were "lucky" to get out of their opening exhibition game against the Washington Redskins with a 7-6 victory.

"That's shaving it too fine," Strader said. "We need work, especially on defense. Our protection for the passer broke down and our ground gains weren't any good either."

Strader was quick to praise the Redskins as having something to do about the Forty Niner's ground gains.

"This was the most aggressive Redskin outfit I've seen in a while," he commented.

The Forty Niner professional football team came from behind in the third quarter yesterday with a 73-yard touchdown march and then staved off a last minute Washington field goal threat to win the season's opening exhibition game.

Trailing 6-0 at the end of the first half, the San Francisco team took the second half kickoff and plays, all of them featuring either the passing of Y. A. Tittle or the running of John Henry Johnson.

Johnson carried the ball six times and Tittle passed three times to end Billy Wilson for the other gains. Tittle sneaked across from the one for the tally and end Gordie Soltau converted for the extra point.

Former Ohio State All-American Vic Janowicz put the visitors ahead with a 16-yard field goal in the opening quarter and then made it 6-0 by splitting the uprights from 27 yards out in the seconds.

With less than a minute to go, the Redskins drove down to the Forty Niner one-foot line. On fourth down, Janowicz tried for another field goal from a difficult angle and 10 yards out. But Forty Niner defensive end Clay Matthews bulled through and batted the ball harmlessly away.

Basin-ettes Nip Roseburg

The Klamath Basin-ettes tuned up for the state tournament, which will be held here this week starting Thursday evening, as they edged the visiting Roseburg women softballers 5-4 at Conger Field yesterday.

In posting their win, the second of the year for the defending state champs, Coach Ken Carrier's ball club had to come from behind to turn the tide.

Roseburg took a 3-0 lead after the top half of the second inning, but the Basin-ettes popped back with a pair of runs in the bottom of the frame. At the end of the fifth inning Roseburg carried a 4 - 2 margin over the locals.

But in the last of the sixth Klamath exploded for three runs to turn another defeat into a win. Bev Lloyd opened with a single, followed by Teddy Walker's single. Then Darlene Gordon Perry found the range with a two run double. Following an error and a sacrifice fly Perry found her way to the plate for the winning tally.

Mickey Hayman came on in the fifth inning to relieve starter Pat Barron on the mound and was credited with the win. Except for the fatal sixth inning, Roseburg pitcher Jackie Weber held the Basin-ettes well under control.

Bev Lloyd and Darlene Perry shared the hitting honors for the winners with two base hits in three official trips to the plate. All four of the Roseburg hits were scattered over the visitor's lineup.

Jim Tatum Tops Coaches In W-L Marks

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Big Jim Tatum, who transformed Maryland's plodding Terrapins into one of the nation's football powerhouses, has the winningest percentage of all major college coaches who have been at the job 10 years or more.

Tatum's teams, one at North Carolina, one at Oklahoma and eight at Maryland, have won 76 games, lost 19 and tied 6 for a percentage of .782.

Earl (Red) Blaik of Army is the second most successful among coaches with at least 10 years' experience. He has a mark of .760, followed by Bobby Dodd, the young head man at Georgia Tech, with .755 and Bill Murray of Duke with .736.

These statistics were revealed Saturday in the official collegiate football record book, put out by the National Collegiate Athletic Assn.

Tatum enjoys his distinction as the winningest of major college coaches only because the gentleman who succeeded him at Oklahoma, Bud Wilkinson, hasn't reached the 10-year mark.

Wilkinson's teams have won 73 contests, tied 3 and lost only 8 in eight years for an amazing .901 percentage. He is a cinch to take over the lead in the 10-year group at the end of the 1956 season.

The Sooners haven't suffered a loss in 45 Big Seven conference contests under Wilkinson. Their record includes a 31-game winning streak dating from a loss to Santa Clara in 1948 to Kentucky's Sugar Bowl upset Jan. 1, 1951.

Cubs Stop Brooklyn, Nats Drub Cleveland

By JACK HAND
The Associated Press

How about a five-team playoff for the American League pennant? It sounds fantastic but the pot is boiling up a real fine stew for President Will Harridge.

Under the American League system, it's sudden death, a one-game playoff, in case of a tie. But that takes care of only two clubs. With seven weeks to go, only 1½ games separate the top four clubs. Detroit in fifth place is only 5½ back.

The weatherman helped tighten the screws yesterday, forcing Chicago to settle for a 2-2 tie in 12 innings at Baltimore and washing out a scheduled second game. Rain also postponed a second game at Washington after the Senators had bopped the Cleveland Indians again 9-3.

Mickey Mantle's 10th-inning home run, his 26th of the season and second of the game, gave New York a split with Detroit and sole possession of second place, three percentage points behind Chicago. Detroit shaded New York in the opener 4-2 but Mantle's clout added up to a 3-2 Yankee victory in the second behind Bob Turley.

The fast-moving Boston Red Sox outlasted Kansas City in a wild fray 16-12, hammering four pitchers for 19 hits and 31 total bases. Despite the victory, the Red Sox lost the series to the A's, the first set they had dropped since they bowed to Cleveland July 16-17.

In the National League, Milwaukee won a pair from Pittsburgh 6-3 and 4-2 while New York split two at Cincinnati, losing 8-5 and winning 6-5. As a result the Braves have a two-game edge on the Giants in their second-place battle. The Braves are 14½ games back of Brooklyn, which bowed to Chicago 4-3. Philadelphia trampled St. Louis 9-6 in the other game.

Chicago had Jim Busby on second base with two out in the 13th when rain made further play impossible at Baltimore. All individual records go into the book but the game must be replayed next month as well as the postponed second game.

Dave Pope's two-run homer in the fourth gave last-place Baltimore its runs after George Kell homered for the Sox in the first. Chicago tied it up in the eighth on Nellie Fox's triple and Kell's single.

Washington rode to its fourth straight on Johnny Schmitz's pitching and hitting. The veteran lefty went the route with a 10-hitter and came through with two doubles. Early Wynn was the loser.

Mantle's two homers saved the Yanks from dropping a full game behind Chicago. After Al Kaline's two-run single tied the score in the eighth, Mantle hit a 1-1 pitch by reliefer Babe Birrer into the upper stands in right field for the ball game. He hit his first homer off starter Frank Lary in the first inning.

Detroit won the opener in the seventh on successive doubles by Kaline and Jack Phillips and Ray Boone's triple that knocked out Tommy Byrne. Steve Gromek was the winner despite home runs by Eddie Robinson and pinch hitter Bob Cerv.

BELTED

Norm Zauchin, Sammy White and Billy Klaus each belted three hits for the Red Sox in their free-hitting afternoon. After Boston scored six runs in the eighth to wrap it up, the A's came back with five in the ninth.

The Dodgers were beaten at Chicago by Gene Baker's single in the sixth, following Dee Fonday's double. Warren Hacker, fourth Cub pitcher, ended the game in dramatic fashion by throwing just three pitches. He came in to face Don Zimmer with the bases loaded and a 2-0 count on the batter. He struck him out on three pitches.

Hank Aaron's two-run homer helped Milwaukee whip Pittsburgh in the first game after the Braves had knocked out Vernon Law to score four runs in the first inning. Bob Buhl went the route in the second game for his ninth victory.

Willie Mays hit his 35th home run for the Giants, the 100th of his career, in the first game but Cincinnati won it with homers by Wally Post and relief pitcher Hershel Freeman. Mays' sacrifice fly scored Joe Amalfitano with the winning run in the ninth inning of the second game, in which the Giants hit four homers, two by Gail Harris.

Richie Ashburn connected with a double that drove in two vital runs in the eighth inning of the Phillies' triumph over St. Louis. Robin Roberts required relief help to win his 18th. Eddie Waitkus of the Phils homered.

College All-Star '11' Meet Browns Friday

By UNITED PRESS

The College All-Stars, with the toughest part of their training grind behind them, honestly feel they can beat professional football's champion Cleveland Browns in the annual classic in Chicago's Soldiers Field Friday night.

For the first time since 1950, the All-Stars will go into the game without a serious injury and in fact, Trainer Carl Erickson has assured Coach Curly Lambeau, a mentor in the National Football League for many years, that every member of the 49-man squad will be ready to play.

Lambeau is confident the Stars will give Cleveland a real fight, but he won't go out on a limb and predict victory. Curly, disturbed by the excessive heat which his squad has had to drill in the past two weeks, plans to let the boys take things "easy" this week and will emphasize fundamentals and chalk sessions.

FINISH TRAINING

Meanwhile, the Browns have just about completed training in their camp at Hiram, Ohio, and are expected to reach Chicago during the middle of the week for a final tuneup.

The San Francisco Forty Niners got their exhibition schedule underway Sunday with a crowd of 27,237 on hand in Kezar Stadium. The Forty Niners, paced by the passing of Y. A. Tittle and the running of John Henry Johnson, downed the Washington Redskins, 7-6.

It took San Francisco nine plays to score in the opening minutes of the second half with Tittle bucking over from the one-yard line for the score. Johnson carried six of the nine times to set it up and Gordie Soltau converted what proved to be the winning point.

Vic Janowicz provided all the Washington scoring on a pair of first half field goals, the first from the 16-yard line in the opening period and the second from the 27 in the second period. Janowicz missed a chance to give the 'Skins the victory when his attempt from the 10 with a minute left to play in the game was batted down.

OUTLAST STEELERS

On Saturday night, the Los Angeles Rams and the Pittsburgh Steelers put on a high-scoring exhibition in Portland, Ore., with the Rams outlasting the Steelers, 35-24. The Rams moved in front late in the third period, 21-17, and then wrapped it up with a pair of touchdowns in the final quarter. Bob Boyd and Tank Younger each scored two touchdowns for the winners.

Elsewhere, the Baltimore Colts enjoyed an off day but the club's five-man coaching squad journeyed to Hershey, Pa., to watch the Philadelphia Eagles, whom they meet in an exhibition game next Saturday, in an intra-squad game, while at Lake Forest, Ill., where the Chicago Cardinals are in training, tackle Bruce Schwager of Kings Point, N. Y., finally showed up leaving only two players, rookie tackle Chick Fry of Maryland and Glen Nagler of Santa Clara, unaccounted for.
