The Cleveland Indians moved out two games in front of the American League pack Saturday as they whipped the Kansas City Athletics 5-1 in a night contest after their closest pursuers either dropped after games or were idle.

The Chicago White Sox lost a chance to keep within a game of the Indians when Detroit rallied with two out in the last of the ninth for a 9-8 decision with the winning run coming on Harvey Kuenn's sacrifice fly.

The New York Yankees also fell two games back as their doubleheader with Baltimore was washed out and rescheduled for Monday afternoon.

And the Boston Red Sox also lost valuable ground when they were topped 18-9 by the Washington Senators. Mickey Vernon's grand slam homer was the big blow of the Senators' attack. It was a scheduled doubleheader, but the second game was rained out and rescheduled for Monday night.

Rain and wet grounds forced postponement of two National League games. Philadelphia at Brooklyn and Pittsburgh at New York.

Milwaukee broke a four-game losing streak to defeat the Chicago Cubs 4-3 although the Braves left 12 men on base. Sam Jones and Hal Jeffcoat were hammered for 12 hits, including Eddie Mathews' 20th homer. Gene Conley, Milwaukee starter, was knocked out and replaced by Bob Buhl who won his 10th game.

Trailing 8-7 going into the last of the ninth, the Tigers pulled out the game with singles by Frank House and Ernie Hatfield, an error by Nellie Fox and Kuenn's sacrifice fly.

Jim Bunning, who pitched only the ninth, was the winner over Dixie Howell who took over in the seventh inning.

Home and Earl Torgerson homered for the Tigers. Bob Kennedy and Sherm Lollar for Chicago. Lollar's blow came with a run on in the eighth, sending the Sox out front 8-7.

Washington ran up its highest score of the season at Fenway Park with Vernon, Jose Valdivieso and Eddie Yost hitting home runs in the 13th attack on four Boston pitchers.

Carlos Paula collected three doubles and a single to drive in four runs. Grady Hatton and Norm Zauchin each drove in three for Boston.

The Senators ran up an early 8-0 lead, scoring seven runs in the fourth inning. Kellie pitcher Mickey McDermott was credited with the victory over Willard Nixon.

Herb Score hurled 4-1/2 ball for eight innings and then was touched in the ninth as the Indians turned back the Athletics on the strength of a 3-run seventh inning.

The Athletics had the tying runs on second and third when Ray Narleski came to Score's rescue and got Hector Lopez on a fly for the third out.

The Cincinnati Redlegs hit four homers, two by Ted Kluszewski, but it took a ninth inning double by Smokey Burgess to give them a 5-4 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals in a night game. Burgess and Wally Post hit the other homers.

Klu's two homers boosted his total to 39 and tied him with the Cubs' Ernie Banks for the major league lead.

Larry Doby of Cleveland made his first error in 163 games.

In Friday's action Cleveland swept a day-night doubleheader, 17-1 and 6-5, at Kansas City while runnerup Chicago snared a 2-1 decision at Detroit.

New York and Boston were rained out by hurricane Connie.

A continued power streak and the first starting job in more than three weeks for Bob Lemon of the Tribe in the afternoon contest. Bobby Avila clubbed two of the Tribe's four homers, pairing his first with Jim Hegan's grand slammer in a seven-run first inning.

Sal Maglie moved up in the first game, giving three hits and an unearned run in the last three frames.

In the night contest, Cleveland overcame a 2-0 A's lead with five in the sixth as Hal Naragon tripled with two on and Al Smith hit a two-run homer. Ferris Fain doubled home what proved the clincher in the ninth as Ray Narleski choked off a Kansas City rally in the ninth after two runs scored.

Art Houteman, tagged for homers by Gus Zernial and Bill Renna, won his ninth. He was relieved by Don Mossi and Narleski as the A's scored in the seventh.

The White Sox took the lead on Jim Rivera's two-run homer in the first inning off loser Steve Gromek and managed to make it stand. Virgil Trucks, with help from Millard Howell who fanned Ray Boone with two on in the eighth, won his 11th.

In the National, where Philadelphia at Brooklyn and Pittsburgh at New York also were washed away by heavy rain, Milwaukee fell to the front running Brooks, 7-1, at Chicago. St. Louis rallied twice to spill Cincinnati 5-7 in the only other game.

The Braves, scoring just two runs, were held to five hits by Bob Rush, who won his ninth. Dee Fondy lined a leadoff double and three followup singles gave the Cubs a 2-0 lead in the first off loser Ray Crone.

Pitching — Bob Rush, Cubs, won his ninth by five-hitting Milwaukee while striking out six and walking but three in 7-1 victory.

Hitting — Wally Moon, Cardinals, drove in three runs, gaining a 5-3 tie with a home run in the fifth and bringing the winning marker across with a single in the ninth, in 3-1 victory over Cincinnati.

Spokane Shooter Wins Skeet Title

SETTLE (AP) — Chet Fouché, Spokane, won both the Washington State 410 and 28-gauge trapshoots in the Seattle Gun Club skeet shoot at nearby Redmond Saturday.

He blasted 46 out of 50 and 43 out of 50 in the respective divisions.

Willard Praties, Dallas, Ore., captured first in the out-of-state 410, 28 and 20-gauge divisions, scoring 42 in the first two competitions and a perfect 100 in the 20-gauge test.

In the Class A 410-gauge shoot, Al Morin, Spokane, was first with 45 out of 50 and H. A. Grewe, Spokane, second with 43 of 50.

Bylines From The Sidelines

Rounding out the backfield outlook the Owls will have lettermen Dave Thomas, a quarterback, Lyle Fleetwood and Cal "Sugar Jet" Smith, both halfbacks, on campus again this season. Other promising prospects include Tom Foley, a Calgary, Canada quarterback with reportedly dead-eye passing tactics and Nick Santangelo, Central Catholic of Portland quarterback. At halfback Stacy Gibson, another transfer from Oregon, Ron Spinas, former Medford High athlete, and Pete Barnes, a transfer from OCE will be on hand to give the lettermen a battle for starting berths.

IN THE FORWARD WALL, the tackle spots seem to be the weak spot for the Owls' new line, coach D. George Miller. The guards should be fairly strong with two lettermen, Stan Smith and Olen Ragen, big Jim Endicott, a returnee from the armed services, Dave Lockard of Eugene, and Dale Sparks, another transfer from Oregon College of Education all seeking berths at guard for the OTC grid team.

At tackle the Owls seem fairly well set, but don't have too much depth. Paul Treagle, transfer from Greys Harbor, Leon Jo Eilers, All-Northern California from Corvallis, Bud McDonald, another Calgary graduate and Bill McIntosh of West Linn are four big tacklers who have expressed intentions of enrolling at Oregon Tech.

The eleventh position on the squad might also be a question mark, but two returning lettermen will help the situation. At center Hunsaker is expecting lettermen Lyle Loffer and Kent Crawley along with freshman Chuck Hopman of Central Catholic of Portland to report for grid duty when the practice sessions open.

One might say that the picture is good, but of course the big problem is to see that all of these, plus the others that Hunsaker is counting on, find their way to the Klamath Falls school. The above mentioned gridlers have already committed themselves to OTC and are almost sure fire bets to be in Tech uniforms when football season rolls around.

Those who are interested in picking up season tickets for the six home games to be played here this year can do so by calling the business office at Oregon Tech, 2-3466. So far the season ticket sale has been better than in the past several years.

STATE TOURNAMENT NOTES . . . People of the Klamath Basin should be congratulated on the way they have been supporting the 1955 Oregon Women's Softball Tournament being held here this weekend . . . From the opening games Thursday evening at Conger until last night's Gem Stadium battles, the crowds have been very good . . . and the type of softball they have been seeing has been tops . . . According to State Director Jim Dimit, this year's showing at Klamath Falls proves that there is a bright future for the women's game . . . and says Dimit, "Klamath Falls should be justly proud of its recreation department and the recreational program and setup that the Basin has."

As we have mentioned several times before, Bob Bonney and his staff of helpers should get much praise for the work they have done, not only in preparing for the tournament, but also in sponsoring the one of summer and year-around program that they do . . . you will have to go a long way, either north or south, to find one better for a city this size . . . One thing is for sure in this year's tournament . . . Klamath Falls has one of the most experienced umpires in the country . . . Ron Derr of Portland, head arbitrator of the tourney this year, has had considerable experience at softball officiating . . . For the past 21 years Derr has been calling softball games, nine of which he served as umpire in chief for the state . . . Included in his long line of duties has been the working of five world softball tournaments, both for women and men . . . and this year's women's World Tourney to be held in Portland will find Ron as the Umpire in Chief . . . Players and coaches can't dispute an umpire's judgement, and with Derr's experience and knowledge of the rules, one can hardly find reason to dispute his judgement on any calls that have been made so far this week or will be made in the final games to be played today and tonight at Gem Stadium . . . Derr, like Dimit thinks this tournament in Klamath Falls has given the state women's softball picture a great boost and thinks that now that the state association has taken the "orphan" (women's softball) under its arm, the prospects for the future look very good . . . With the first two days of the tournament over (at the time of this writing) the Oswego Mermaids get our vote for the flashiest team in the playoffs.

With their pitching strength they could go all the way . . . Thelma Parrish Carlson, former Erv Lind Florist outfielder-pitcher, has won all three games for the Mermaids so far, 3-0, 3-0 and 2-1 . . . With this kind of mound work Oswego will continue to roll on towards its second state title in three years . . . They won the 1953 crown and placed second in the Basin-ettes last year . . . Another bright spot as far as possible all-state selections go is Roseburg's Willajean Grimes, who is the Lumberjills' hard-hitting second baseman . . . If Grimes and Roseburg can play the same brand of ball another game or two it would be a shame to leave her off an all-tourney team . . . Klamath's catcher, Teddy Walker, has also been demonstrating the same old fire that has made her an all-state selection two years in a row . . . For those who haven't already seen any of the tournament games, it would be a treat to see the final two games this afternoon and night at Gem Stadium . . . the women have proved in the 14 games to date that they may be the fairer sex, but not the weaker sex when it comes to softball.

Out Of Deers With The Sportsman

By AL McCLANE
Fishing Editor

Thanks to the progressive fish culturists of our nation, the brook trout is now found in 40 of our 48 states.

This is a considerable range for a fish who once lived only in the Northeast and North Central parts of America, and in old days when Grandpa said he was going "trout fishing" it was the little native brookie he had in mind.

The rainbow was a native of the West, and the brown trout a native of Europe, but by careful transplanting year after year, all three species were gradually spread from one coast to the other.

Brook trout show more of a liking for cooler water than other trout and are frequently found in spring headwaters and tributaries. They thrive in a wide range of habitats, varying from small streams to large rivers, and from tiny ponds to large lakes. However, like many other species they reach their maximum growth in big waters.

On the Pacific Coast our brook trout lives in many streams at high altitudes. He is also found in a few lowland waters which are spring-fed. Abundant reproduction in streams is confined to restricted localities, as, for example, in the Spokane River in Washington.

In many eastern streams it takes three years to produce a legal-size brook trout of seven inches. Many northern waters (such as in Canada) produce brook trout of more than five pounds, but in hard-fished areas a two-pound fish is exceptional.

Excluding hatchery reared trout, a specimen of 10 to 12 inches is well above average for many areas. Under optimum growing conditions it may attain a weight of two to three pounds in as many years, but usually growth is much slower.

The largest specimen on record weighed fourteen pounds, eight ounces, and was taken in Nipigon River, Ontario, in 1916.

Donovan To Return

CHICAGO (UP)—Chicago White Sox pitcher Dick Donovan, recovering from an appendicitis operation which has kept him on the sidelines since July 31, is expected to rejoin the club today in Detroit. Donovan compiled a 13-4 won-loss record before the operation.

Amateur Entry To Set Record

NEW YORK (UP)—An all-time record field of approximately 1500 walkers, including the entire U. S. Walker Cup team, has entered the 1955 national amateur championship, Joe Dey, executive secretary of the U. S. G. A., announced today.

The huge field will compete at 31 sectional qualifying sites for 189 places in the tournament proper, to be held at the Country Club of Virginia, in Richmond, Va., Sept. 12-17. These qualifiers and 11 exempt players will form a 200-man field for the championship proper.

Bevo Park Shift Now Sure Thing

PORTLAND (AP)—The Portland Beavers made it official Friday. They will have a different home park for next season's baseball games in the Pacific Coast League.

The Portland club, represented by President Clay Brown, signed a 20-year lease with officials of the Multnomah Civic Stadium Assn. and the Multnomah Athletic Club. The team will pay annual rental of $35,000 or 10 per cent of its yearly gross receipts, whichever is greater.

Venerable Vaughn Street park, home of the Beavers for many years, was sold recently as industrial property.

Collegians Surprise Browns In Star Tilt

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN
CHICAGO (AP)—Four former pro coaches who seldom, if ever, could get the better of Paul Brown when they were in the National Football League, succeeded in doing so Friday night when their boys did a man's job in beating the Cleveland Browns.

Coaches Curly Lambeau, Hank Anderson, Steve Owen, L. D. Hampton, Paul and Arny Tompatton, when their fine squad of thorough-drilled College All-Stars rolled up a record 30-27 triumph over the world pro champions.

It was the first time Brown had lost a game in Chicago.

Some 75,000 fans and a national television audience saw the best-coached collegiate lads in years gain their first decision over the pros since 1950 and score their biggest point total since the series was inaugurated in 1951.

It was the first time old pro hands were called upon to coach the All Stars—but it undoubtedly won't be the last—and the Lambeau-Anderson-Owen-Paul combo can consider itself the best unemployed pro football staff in the business.

But they also had the manpower and brains to cope with a Cleveland team lacking its great quarterback, Otto Graham, who has retired.

Stardom has to go to tiny Ted Weed of Ohio State, a practice-perfect placekicker who booted three field goals and two extra points; quarterback Ralph Guglielmi of Notre Dame, who ran, passed, and directed the team unerringly; and Baylor's 190-pound halfback, L. G. Dupre, who booted 74 yards in 12 carries and took three passes for 49 more.

This threesome should have a great future in pro ranks which was not in the game-taking notes on plays phoned down from the rim of Soldier Field by Paul, the methodical former Bain coach.

The 1954 All-America hit on 10 out of 10 tosses for 123 yards and picked up 6 yards on "keep-it" plays.

The "up front" men—with linebackers Tom Bettis of Purdue, Frank Bernardi of Colorado, and Sam Palumbo of Notre Dame among the top performers—held the Browns to 163 yards rushing and 162 passing on the 9 out of 13 completions by George Ratterman. The collegians picked up 200 yards rushing.

Portland Man Cops Trapshoot

HARRISON HOT SPRINGS, B. C. (AP)—Harry Patton, Portland, Ore., captured first in the 100-yard trapshoot Saturday to win the 18-yard trapshooting event in the Pacific Indians annual Potlatch.
