

HAPPY COUPLE — Mr. and Mrs. William J. Corrigan, after their wedding in Broadway Christian Church, Seattle, July 20. She is the former Elmina Raymond, daughter of Mrs. Edward M. Raymond, 1209 Pacific Terrace, and the late Edward M. Raymond. The couple was attended by the bride's aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Atkins — and a small group of intimate friends and relatives were guests at the wedding. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Corrigan, Marion, Ohio, and the honeymoon will include a visit with his parents and other members of his family in Ohio. Other than the bride's mother from Oregon were Mr. and Mrs. Bob Busick (Jeanette Rusteen), Oswego. Both are seniors at Washington State College, and until her marriage, the bride was president of Stevens Hall on the Washington State campus. — Photo by Thurber, Seattle

80 AT SHOWER FOR NEW BRIDE

Mrs. Philip Barry, the former Mary Gillin, was honored recently with a wedding shower in Mt.

Laki Church. Hostesses, Mrs. J. D. Finchum, Kay O'Donahue, Mrs. Jim O'Donahue, Mrs. Charles Snyder, Earlene Martyn, Sheila Finchum and Glenda McBride invited approximately 80 friends to the party for the well known Henley High School teacher, who has been on the teaching staff for six years. Background for the shower featured large arrangements of roses and mixed bouquets of summer flowers. Assisting the honoree with the opening of gifts were Mrs. William Moore and Mrs. Willard Duncan.

NOW THAT SUMMER'S here — everyone seemed to be bent on getting all he could of it last weekend — resort areas, picnic spots and highways were full of summer recreation seekers. Probably the biggest congregation was at the Elk's picnic at Malin Park — and going the other direction was a sizeable crowd to Rocky Point Resort for the Yacht Club picnic.

TEN DAYS — several of them in Victoria and back to Seattle by boat — and from there to Olympia to visit with Lina Moteschenbacher's family — was roughly the itinerary for her and Harriet Estes — who got back several days ago. Linda's nephew Kenneth Gilbert (in the sec'y of state's office) took them on a COMPLETE tour of the capitol — and then from the sublime to something or other else — they also went on a complete tour thru the Olympia Brewery — they don't know about any slight pauses for refreshments.

"ROSE LANE" — "At the end of Rose Lane" is a story book address. Alice Curran — a fugitive from her own house — lived in the house at the end of the lane for a brief week — Her sister Hannah and husband Myron ("Mike") Pinkstaff and their 3 children are the owner-dwellers therein — but it's even so new to them — that Hannah and family came down to get sister Alice — to make certain she'd see their new ranch style home in Eugene's West Hills before the new had worn off — Mike WOULD call the picture-que little lane that leads just to their diggings an "overgrown driveway." The head of the Richard Curran household on Lawrence had taken their two boys — Chariton and Rickey to Crescent Lake — he's scout master for Troop 3 — and HE stayed in camp that week and scouted until Saturday when he went to Eugene to get his spouse and dtrs — Leslie — Cynthia and Cherry.

MRS. R. D. HAUGAARD Jr., of Pasadena, and her 22-months-old son, Bradley, arrived July 18 to spend two weeks at the home of Mrs. Haugaard's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Con Johnston in Malin. Mrs. Haugaard will be remembered as the former Shirley Kay Johnson. She was graduated from Malin High School in 1948. Haugaard is associated with a Pasadena firm of architects. Mother and son left Malin July 31 for their home in California. —Photo by Lucile Gray

LAUGHING Michael Douglas Little, named for his two grandfathers, recently paid a flying visit to his Tulelake grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Douglas L. Thomas. The young visitor was accompanied by his mother, Mrs. Jack Little, the former Sally Thomas, now living in Champagne, Illinois. His dad, winner of a national fellowship, is studying for his doctorate at the University of Illinois. Little is a graduate of University of California, where his wife was also a student after her graduation from Tulelake High School. She was an outstanding and popular member of the younger set during her residence in Tulelake.

WEDDING REVEALED

Of interest to their Klamath Basin friends is the recently revealed marriage in Reno of Lucille Margaret Ring, daughter of Henry Ring, Lakeview Highway, local businessman; to Robert L. (Bob) Givan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Givan, Bonanza, where Ernest Givan ranches and Mrs. Givan is a high school teacher. Bob is a graduate of Bonanza High School and is presently a student in auto mechanics at OTL. The bride is a graduate of Henley High School and a graduate in general business from OTL.
