

THIS BUILDING with a floor space of 70 by 160 is built without center supports or pillars to allow for a maximum amount of floor space for exhibits. Construction was completed this summer in time to be used for exhibits for this year's Tulelake-Butte Valley Fair. Multiple electric outlets will make it possible for service to numerous booths. Overhead lighting will prevent shadows in all parts of the building.

BILL WHITAKER, manager of the Tulelake-Butte Valley Fair, is the busiest man in Tulelake. With fair days, September 4-5-6 less than a month away Whitaker is supervising construction on new buildings while he keeps an eye on fair exhibits, concessions and the livestock sale.

KF Man Takes Motor Course

Paul Mauldin of Parker Pontiac has just returned from Santa Rosa, California, where he attended a series of factory-directed merchandising conferences. He learned about the operation of utility vehicles and the 40 special attachments which have been adapted to them to perform a wide variety of agricultural and industrial tasks. About 40 other Willys dealers attended. Mauldin said that the "do-it-yourself" idea is applied extensively at the Willys training school at Fountain Grove Ranch, near Santa Rosa. The local dealer received a certificate of proficiency signifying completion of the conferences and final examination. The Willys training course is being offered to selected dealers from sales areas throughout the country and abroad.

Church Group Meets In Malin

MALIN—The monthly fellowship meeting of the Assemblies of God in the Malin section was held at Malin Park Hall August 8 with a potluck supper in the evening. The gathering was a farewell for John and Agnes Amundson, pastors of the Malin Assembly of God Church, who have resigned and plan to leave by the end of August. They will enroll in the Latin American Bible Institute in Puente, California, to prepare for a missionary life among Spanish speaking people.

Crash Survivors Treated In North

THE PAS, Man., U.—Two oil company employes who parachuted from a disabled plane over northern Saskatchewan were treated in a hospital here today for shock and malnutrition. Four other Imperial Oil Co. employes aboard the plane died when it crashed Saturday near the Manitoba-Saskatchewan border. A search plane yesterday picked up G. H. Kendall, 25, and Owen Smith, 24, both of Regina, Sask. One of the men was spotted nine miles from the crash scene by a search plane. A pontoon-equipped plane was summoned and the second man was found after the rescuers landed.

College Night To Be Held

Students, alumni and friends of Oregon State College along with OSC dads and mothers in Klamath Falls and surrounding communities will hold a family night program Wednesday, August 24, at 8 p.m. at the YMCA.

The meeting, sponsored by the OSC Federation, is intended to provide information to high school students in the Klamath Falls area who have already been accepted for admission to Oregon State.

In addition it will bring parents of new students and the entire OSC family up-to-date on recent developments on the college campus. Anyone interested in the college program is welcome.

Representing the college will be W. M. Langan, agricultural student personnel adviser; and Robert Knoll, manager alumni association. Robert M. Thompson of Klamath Falls, member of the OSC Alumni Association board of directors, is chairman of the local arrangements committee. He will be assisted by Paul Deiler, OSC Dads club representative. Refreshments will be served by the OSC Federation committee following the meeting.

Students who will enter Oregon State for the first time this fall and their parents are especially invited to the meeting, according to Thompson. Students, new and old, are invited to bring along questions on entrance, housing, fees, courses, activities and similar matters.

This will be one of about 20 similar meetings to be held in different sections of the state between now and the opening of college.

DESCENDENTS — RAINELLE, W. Va. — Mrs. Mary Frances Kenney, 93, died yesterday, leaving 149 direct descendants, 5 sons, 6 daughters, 62 grandchildren, 75 great-grandchildren and 1 great-great-grandchild.

SANDRA HUGHES, Miss Weed, will compete for the title of Miss Siskiyou at the Siskiyou County Fair, August 19-21. The winner will be selected Wednesday night. She is a senior at Weed High School and is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Hughes of Weed. — Photo by Shasta View Studio.

Girl Wins Big Prize

NEW YORK. (AP)—A 12-year-old schoolgirl spelled her way into $8,000 last night by clicking off "antidisestablishmentarianism" on the CBS television show "The $64,000 Question."

Gloria Lockerman's grandmother will decide whether the junior high school student tries the $16,000 question next Tuesday or settles for the $8,000.

If she tries for the $16,000 and fails, she will receive a $4,000 college education trust fund as a consolation prize. The regular consolation prize is an expensive automobile, but the rule was altered in view of Gloria's age.

Gloria, a Negro, who finished 34th out of 62 finalists in the National Spelling Bee at Washington, D.C., last May, smiled as she picked spelling as her category on the TV show last night.

Gloria, a ninth-grade student at

Booker T. Washington Junior High School, Baltimore, was accompanied on the program by her grandmother Mrs. Bertha Key, with whom she lives. Gloria spelled coyote, dinosaur, chinchilla and hippopotamus to win an assured $512. She then moved up through $1,000 by spelling plenipotentiary, $2,000 with gingham and taffeta, and $4,000 with minut, waitz and mazurka.
