FIVE CLUB FLOWER SHOW

By Mrs. Lloyd Seely
Publicity Chairman

The Five-Club Flower Show held August 19 broke all attendance records for an exhibit of its kind with 530 people attending. Despite the heat, people were lined up and waiting for admission when the show opened at the exhibit building at the fairgrounds. Most of them seemed to feel that it was well worth seeing.

One of the most attractive features of the show were the planted gardens which ranged the walls. The five clubs sponsoring it were the Northside Garden Club took first prize with its attractive outdoor patio. Many favorable comments were made on the unusual plantings in the unusual Chinese garden arranged by the Lost River Club, and third prize went to the Juniper Branch for their covered patio, which featured the use of the new plastic roofing material.

Competition in the arrangements was very keen with 167 entries in the various classes. Sweepstakes went to Mrs. J. R. Miller, 3314 Maryland Avenue. The universal comment seemed to be the amazing versatility and nearly professional touch used in the construction of the arrangements.

In spite of the uncertain weather this year, the number and quality of the specimens shown were most unusual. Bill Depew, a commercial florist, commented that he had not known so many varieties could be successfully raised here.

In the competitive horticultural section of the show there were 263 entries with 66 varieties of flowers represented. A conservative estimate of the specimens shown in the "Collector's Corner" was placed at 300. The Juniper Branch which took the blue ribbon in this section, had over 100 varieties of flowers represented in their display.

Special exhibits added to the interest of the show. The Kenneth McLeods created much enthusiasm with their unusual display of birds, especially among the men present. The experiment station contributed a display on soil testing; posters supplied by the local travel bureaus made up the background for the cottage display; conservation was included, with a map made by the children of Mrs. Roens.

Steiner of Henley Grade School and arranged by Mrs. Verona Dahler. An educational display of rocks was included, as well as a display of garden material.

Over 200 Juniper Branch Garden clubs combined under the leadership of Mrs. Charles Thurman to provide a refreshment center. Although the Evergreen Club was not officially one of the sponsors of the show, they did much to help with it, both in the kitchen, and in their entries.

Mrs. Hugh O'Connor was the general chairman of the show. The five clubs sponsoring it were the Northside Garden Club, the Juniper Branch, the Lost River Club, the Klamath Falls Club, and the Juniper Branch.
