U.S. Farmers Leave Russia

BERLIN (AP)—The U.S. farm delegation to the Soviet Union headed homeward today advocating more such exchanges of visits between Americans and Russians.

"They have the most to gain by exchanges now, but later we might gain considerably," said the leader of the group, Dean W. V. Lambert of the University of Nebraska Agricultural School.

The party of farmers, educators and newsmen arrived in Berlin by plane yesterday after a month's tour of Soviet farmlands in Russia, the Ukraine and Siberia. They split up here, some remaining in Berlin for a few days, some flying home directly and others stopping in other West European cities.

Dean Lambert said he was sure "we made some friends in Russia and the tension we first felt when we went there did not exist when we left."

"Similar exchanges would be desirable to break down the barriers," he continued. "These people are tremendously isolated, and anything we can do in this direction would be helpful."

Another of the group, Ferris S. Owen, of Newark, Ohio, said the Russian peasant has only the bare necessities of life — a roof over his head and enough clothing and simple food. But "they all felt they have it better now than ever before," he added.

The farmers said everywhere they went "the simple Russian was friendly." Dr. William E. Reed, dean of the Agricultural and Technical College at Greensboro, N.C., said the average Russian "has no conception of capitalism." He thinks there are a few rich people in the United States, but that the rest of Americans live in poverty, he said.

The Americans left behind a frank, 14-point program for improving Soviet agriculture. They recommended that the Russians use more machinery and less central control, and that they seek agreement with the United States for an exchange of experts and technical publications.

"But, mother! My birthday is next week and I haven't got a single dress fit to wear at a surprise party!"

Flood Relief Funds Asked

WASHINGTON (UP)—The American Red Cross launched a nationwide appeal for funds today to help finance a "tremendous" disaster relief program for the flood-stricken East.

E. Roland Harriman, chairman of the ARC, telegraphed the 3,713 Red Cross chapters throughout the nation to begin an immediate appeal for funds. He said incomplete surveys of damage and destruction indicate that 8,000 families will ask for Red Cross assistance.

Harriman also messaged President Eisenhower, honorary Red Cross chairman, that all the resources of the relief agency have been thrown into the effort to relieve suffering in the northeast flood areas.

Aug. 1, 8, 15, 22. No. 556

Notice is hereby given and published that Carr, Adams and Collier Company, a corporation duly organized under the laws of the State of Iowa and located and doing business at 11th and Jackson streets, Dubuque, Iowa, has adopted and is using a trade mark consisting of a shield in the center of its design and extending from the shield there are horizontal bars at the left and right. The words Bilt and Well appear above the left and right bars and the words Wood and Work below. Facsimile of same is as follows:

BILT WELL WOOD WORK

Said trade mark is used on the following goods:

Wood trim and wood moulding; fabricated woodwork — namely, sashes; entrance doors; room doors; garage doors; shutters; transoms; window and door screens; and louvers; and sets of pre-cut millwork for the construction of the following permanent type installations: fireplace mantels; stairs and stairways; window, door, and louver frames; exterior and interior doorway entrances; kitchen, telephone, medicine, corner, office, china, linen, and ironing board cabinets; and breakfast nooks.

The trade mark has also been used by subsidiaries of Carr, Adams and Collier Company, including Car-Ad-Co Company, Klamath Falls, Oregon.
