South 'Patriot' Group Formed

RALEIGH, N. C. (P)—An organization for maintaining "the purity and culture of the white race and of Anglo-Saxon institutions" was chartered by Secretary of State Thad Eure yesterday.

Known as "Patriots of North Carolina, Inc.," the organization's charter listed 306 incorporators, many of them prominent in the state's political and economic life.

Greensboro was listed as the principal office for the nonstock, nonprofit corporation.

C. L. Shupine Sr., Greensboro attorney, and Robert D. Porter, also of Greensboro, filed the charter.

John W. Clark, of Greensboro, textile industrialist who, as a member of the Consolidated University of North Carolina Board of Trustees has been a leader in the effort to bar the doors of the university to Negroes, led the list of incorporators.

Flood Relief Funds Voted

BOSTON (P)—Without a dissenting vote, the Massachusetts Legislature early today adopted two bond issue measures calling for 55 million dollars for flood rehabilitation work.

One is for 30 million dollars for restoration of water and sewage

Indian Envoy Incident Told

HOUSTON, Tex. (P)—Because a restaurant supervisor thought they were Negroes, India's ambassador to the United States and his secretary were asked to leave the public dining room of a swank eating place yesterday.

Mrs. Mary Alley, the supervisor, was reported by a witness to have said she asked the pair to take service in a small private dining room "in the law," she was quoted as saying.

If they had refused to move, the witness quoted Mrs. Alley as adding, "I would have had to have them moved."

The witness, Houston Public Relations Counsel Frank Gibler, said he was told by Mrs. Alley that she "thought they were Negroes."

Texas law forbids serving Negroes and white people in the same room. Houston's contract with the federal government, however, bans discrimination at the International Airport, where the incident occurred in the Horizon House Restaurant.

The Houston Post said today that at least six witnesses told of hearing Mrs. Alley ask the ambassador, Gaganvihari Lalubhai Mehta, and his secretary, A. Rajagopal, to leave the dining room.

The ambassador and his secretary looked at each other, smiled and, without protest, followed Mrs. Alley into a smaller dining room back of the cashier's cage.

The two Indians were en route to Mexico City from Washington and had a 2 1/2-hour layover here between planes. They were gone before Houston newsmen could reach them.

Mrs. Alley could not be reached for comment last night.

U.S. Airman Released By N. Koreans

KUMHWA, Korea (P)—Lt. Guy H. Bumpas, an Air Force flier shot down by Communist gunners a week ago, walked unaided across a small bridge near the Korean truce line today—free after a week in Red hands.

A bandage covered his right eye and the right side of his forehead. The Communists also delivered the body of Bumpas' observer-passenger, Army Capt. Charles W. Brown, West Louisville, Ky.

The shooting down of the plane Aug. 17 touched off an angry exchange. The Communists said the light trainer was spying. The United Nations Command charged "trigger-happy" Communists fired on it when it was lost.

Bumpas wouldn't talk to newsmen.

The flier and Brown's body were taken by helicopter to an Army hospital near Incheon, west of Seoul.

The Communists had announced that Bumpas, of Jackson, Miss., suffered a fractured skull in the crash.

He was examined shortly after being freed but there was no announcement of his condition.

The release site was the center of a small bridge straddling the armistice line, midway between Red and Allied lines in the 2 1/2-mile-wide neutral zone.

The Reds have insisted Bumpas admitted he flew 10 miles into North Korea before the unarmed plane was shot down.

Red China's Peiping radio said today that Bumpas had told North Korean officials:

"I landed about 10 miles south of where I was first fired on."

His plane crashed in Red territory just north of the northern boundary of the demilitarized zone. Maj. Gen. Harlan C. Parks, senior Allied delegate to the Joint Military Armistice Commission, told the Communists that ground observation proved that the Reds opened fire while Bumpas' plane was still south of the center line of the demilitarized zone.

USAF Staging Mercy Flight

HONOLULU (UP)—Polio stricken Mary Chisholm of Berkeley, Calif., rested here today after a trans-Pacific flight in an Air Force plane carrying her on a 6000-mile mercy flight from Korea to Buffalo, N.Y.

The 24-year-old girl who was stricken May 30 in Korea and is travelling in an iron lung, arrived at Tripler Air Force Base Monday after a flight from Tokyo.

"She stood the long flight exceedingly well and is in fine shape," according to an Air Force doctor accompanying her on the trip.

Miss Chisholm smiled broadly as she was taken by ambulance to Tripler Hospital for a 12 to 36 hour rest before continuing her journey.

marks the spot where TCP unlocks the full power of high octane gasoline

By overcoming deposits in combustion chambers, TCP* halts pre-firing—puts the full power of high octane to work

In an engine's combustion chamber, shown here in cross section, engine deposits capture power that high octane gasoline should be giving you.

And with the kind of "around-town" driving people mostly do, the tendency for these deposits to waste power increases—even offsetting the extra power today's high compression engines are designed to provide.

What happens is this:

On cylinder walls these deposits glow red hot, igniting the gasoline before the piston is ready for the power stroke. This is called pre-firing—and because of it, power that should be put to work is cancelled out.

On the spark plug, shown at the top right, deposits steal power, too. Here they conduct electricity away from the tips, short-circuiting the spark and making the spark plug "miss."

But the full power of high octane gasoline can now be unlocked. Shell Premium Gasoline with TCP "fireproofs" deposits in combustion chambers, and stops pre-firing. TCP additive also makes the deposits on spark plugs non-conductive, and prevents spark plug "miss."

Shell Premium with TCP works so fast you'll feel your engine has had a tune-up before you've driven 400 miles.

Only Shell Premium Gasoline has both TCP and Top Octane!
