Fast Atlantic Trip Flown

LONDON (U)—Two British aviators had dinner at home with their wives last night just as they planned—after flying to New York for lunch. Pilot John Hackett and navigator Peter Monopenny made the first transatlantic flight of 6,914 miles in 13 hours 46 minutes 56.2 seconds. It was the first London-New York-London round trip in one day. "We expected it to go right, and it did so right," Hackett, 32, told a news conference. The two men, pilots for a civilian airline, flew a photo-reconnaissance version of the Royal Air Force's twin-jet Canberra bomber. An earlier model of the plane made the first transatlantic round trip in a single day three years ago, but from Scotland to Ireland to Newfoundland and back 2,774 miles shorter than the flight yesterday.
