

Romack Beaten In Golf Play

CHARLOTTE, N. C. (AP) — The upper half of the draw appeared loaded for an explosive charge as the remaining 32 players embarked on the third and fourth rounds of the 55th women's National Amateur golf championship Wednesday.

Tuesday's second round which saw defending champion Barbara Romack ousted by Mary Ann Downey in a grim 1-up struggle left such title threats remaining in the upper half as Mrs. Mark Porter of Philadelphia and Grace Lenczyk of Newington, Conn., both former champions; Elizabeth Price of England; Mary Patton Jansen of Charlottesville, Va.; second-seeded Mary Lindsay of Decatur, Ill.; Mrs. Scott Probasco, Southern Amateur champion from Chattanooga, Tenn.; Barbara McIntire of Toledo, Ohio; Virginia Denny of Lake Forest, Ill.; and two teenage hopes, Anne Quast of Marysville, Wash., and Clifford Ann Creed, 104-pounder from Opelousas, La.

The lower half was dominated by a "big five" of chunky Willi Smith, last year's National Junior champion, now playing from St. Clair, Mich.; Polly Bailey, the Penn. Tex. veteran; Jacqueline Gordon of England; Pat Lesser, Western Amateur champion from Seattle, and Miss Downey, whose home is in Baltimore.

Miss Quast stayed in contention by eliminating Carole Jo Kable of Roseburg, Ore., winner of last week's Junior Girls crown, 8 and 6. Miss Lesser defeated Mrs. Marge Mason of Ridgewood, N. J., 1-up in 19 holes.

A third Pacific Northwest entry, Ruth Jensen of Seattle, bowed out of the tournament with a 1-up defeat by Helen Grinnell of Detroit.

Miss Quast turned in one of the day's finest performances in defeating Carole Jo, last week's junior girls' title winner. She holed two putts of more than 20 feet over greens that were slow and bumpy, and was at even par on the 12 holes.

Carole Jo was jittery and got into trouble as she pushed her iron shots.

Miss Quast the day before eliminated Grace DeMoss Smith of Coral Gables, Fla., the Davis Cup star formerly of Corvallis.

Spokane '9' Tumbles Into NWL Basement

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Wenatchee bats and Lewiston errors tumbled Spokane into the Northwest Baseball League basement Tuesday night and brought Yakima up for air for the first time in weeks.

Playing at home, the Wenatchee Chiefs, with Bob Durett rapping a grand slam homer in the first inning, crushed Spokane 9-3, while Yakima cashed in on four Lewiston errors to humble the Broncs, 12-1.

That lifted Yakima into sixth place, a single percentage point ahead of Spokane.

The Eugene Emeralds, playing before a record crowd of 7,325, beat Salem, 3-1, in the league's third game to keep their grip on first place, 2½ games ahead of Wenatchee.

Durett's grand slammer accounted for four of the five runs Wenatchee scored in the opening frame against Spokane. Joe Rossi homered with one aboard in the second to add to the pounding. The win went to John Marshall, his 14th against eight losses.

At Yakima, the hometown Bears scored four times in the second inning on three Lewiston errors, a base on balls and three singles. The Bears batted around in the fifth and were helped by Lewiston's fourth miscue.

A radio promotion program brought out the record crowd at Eugene. The 7,325 fans—the largest one game turnout in the league this year—watched Berlyn Hodges rack up his 14th win. Hodges fanned 10 Salem batters, walked four and allowed eight hits.

Dark's Tip Gives Cards Win Over NY

NEW YORK (AP) — Manager Harry Walker said today the St. Louis Cardinals owed a vote of thanks to Alvin Dark, the Giants' brilliant captain, for their 2-1 victory over New York last night.

Before the game, Walker revealed, he had requested Dark to give a private batting lesson to Ken Boyer, the Redbirds' promising rookie third baseman. Boyer must have heeded Dark's instruction, for his three ringing hits snapped the Redbirds' five-game losing streak.

"Boyer has great potential as a hitter," Walker explained. "But because of his youth and inexperience, he had been unable to take advantage of his natural ability and has been making many mistakes at the plate. I've been working with him ever since I came to the Cardinals but he has not progressed as fast as I would like him to."

"That's when I turned to Dark for help. Like many other baseball men, I regard Dark as one of the smartest and most scientific hitters in the game."

"Dark, a real student of hitting, took Boyer aside and showed him how he hits behind the runner, how he hits to the opposite field and, how on occasions, he tries for the long ball."

Arizona '9', Oakridge Meet Here Thursday

A spirited group of Oakridge-Westfir Loggerettes have their sights set high today as they await their first crack at the highly touted Arizona Ramblers of the Pacific Coast Women's Softball League Thursday night at Gem Stadium.

This will complete the schedule of big league women's teams to play in Klamath Falls this season. Earlier in the year Doty Moore's Pennant Ship, the Fresno Rockets, and the Ery Lind Florists played before the local sport fans.

The Oakridge softballers gained the support of many local softball followers in the state tournament held here earlier this month. The hustling band of Loggerettes moved into the tourney championship game before falling to the strong Oswego Mermaids in nine innings.

Leading the way for the Loggerettes will be all-state pitchers Daria Logan and Sharon Shepard. Logan twirled a no-hit, no-run ball game for the first seven plus innings against Oswego but lost 2-1. Shepard won three of Oakridge's tournament victories.

Other all-stars for the Oakridge club include first baseman Helen Sanders, who broke up several games with her hitting, and third baseman Nina Edwards, another colorful and talented ball player.

Loggerette catcher Alda Wright snared many followers with her bubble gum chewing antics as did shortstop Jeanne Nicholl and outfielder Cleo Womack.

The invading big leaguers from Arizona are probably the biggest name in women's softball to play in Klamath Falls. They have won three world championships, played in the championship game eight times and have appeared in more world tournaments than any other team in the country.

Besides the team records, the Ramblers have some outstanding players on their roster including Dot Wilkenson and Marge Law, both of whom were selected to last year's All-American team. Wilkenson has been honored on 13 occasions to an All-American team and Law five times.

Wilkenson, Donna Goehring, Virginia Dobson Bickle and Billie Noack were the leading batsmen for the Ramblers last year with added batting punch coming from Law, who was a candidate for the Miss Arizona honors recently.

Tickets for the Gem Stadium clash will be on sale at the gate. Adult duets will sell for 75 cents and children under 12 50 cents. A game between the Elks and VFW of the local men's league will serve as the preliminary starting at 6:30.

Boxing Lost Art Says Wills

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK (AP) — "Boxing," intoned old Harry Wills sorrowfully, "is a lost art. These days it isn't the same game that I knew at all."

The black panther of the '20s was sitting off in a corner by himself, gazing detachedly at the hoopla attending the signing of Rocky Marciano and Archie Moore for their Sept. 20 title fight. At 63 the huge Negro who spent the bloom of his career trying and failing to get a shot at Jack Dempsey still is a formidable figure.

"I'll tell you what I mean," he said. "Marciano there, he never could have laid a glove on Jack Johnson. I mean that seriously." It was a simple matter to infer that Harry didn't believe the present champion could have hit him where it hurt either.

"They don't have time to learn the fine points any more," he said. "They don't know how to feint, or to side step to open an opponent up. They only know to swing and hook, swing and hook. How many knockouts do you see these days from a blow over the heart or up between the ribs? That's how I scored most of my knockouts. All I wanted was for a man to lift his left arm just once."

He seemed to think Johnson was the greatest of them all. "I was one of his sparring partners when he was training for Jim Flynn out in Las Vegas in 1912," Harry said. "That was enough. I learned most of the things that I knew about fighting in that camp. You can believe everything you've ever heard about Johnson."

He was strictly a counter-puncher. Every move he made was to get you to lead until he found an opening with that right uppercut of his. He could stand there and pick off punches all day. And when he did catch you with that uppercut, even with the big gloves, it felt exactly as if you had rammed your chin full tilt against a brick wall. It was an awful punch.

Richardson May Get Vic Seixas' Post

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP) — Bill Talbert, U.S. Davis Cup captain, admitted today that he was toying with the idea of sending Hamilton Richardson into the Challenge Round against Australia in place of the slumping Vic Seixas.

Talbert will have to make his decision within the next 24 hours. The draw is scheduled for tomorrow and the first two singles matches will be played Friday.

"After watching Richardson's play against Seixas yesterday, I'm convinced that I'll have to do some thinking before I announce the singles assignments," said Talbert.

Richardson, a Rhodes scholar from Tulane University, impressed the captain and spectators alike when he went three fast sets against the American champion and had Seixas clearly on the defensive. Richardson won one set at love.

Little Leaguers In World Series Play

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa. (UP) — Alexandria, La., met Delaware Township, N.J., and Auburn, Ala., opposed San Diego today in the Little League World Series after home runs brought Winchester, Mass., and Morrisville, Pa., opening round triumphs.

The second round will provide the classic with two more semi-finalists for competition Thursday leading to the final on Friday.

Morrisville gained the semi-finals by unleashing two home runs which accounted for all its scoring in a 4-3 victory over Glens Falls, N.Y., Tuesday night. Winchester opened the series earlier in the day with an 8-5 triumph over Hamtramck, Mich., highlighted by a five-run, third inning.

Dick Hart, Morrisville outfielder, hit one of his team's homers with two mates aboard in the third to give pitcher Tom Kuczor a good working margin. Jim Weidenhafer hit a solo clout in the fourth which proved to be the deciding marker.

Outfielder Gordon Hart poled a two-run homer in the fourth for Glens Falls, which was limited to two hits. Cal Tucker went the route for the New Yorkers but those two home-run balls proved his downfall.

Hamtramck was never able to overtake Winchester after the New Englanders came up with their five-run outburst in the third to break a scoreless tie.

Vaunted Vandy French pitched the entire six-innings, allowing only four hits and striking out eight batters. He aided his own cause with three hits, including a two-run homer in the big third. He had three RBIs.
