

WOOL JERSEY makes this delightful dress shown in a light tone of aqua and a slightly deeper tone in the tissue weight wool tweed skirt. It is a one-piece dress, although it has the appearance of two pieces. The neckline is especially flattering and the slim-line skirt has the advantage of ample width through unpressed pleats in front. There are seam pockets and a self-contour belt. Two shades of vintage pink or black and pearl gray are other color combinations. Photo is from the Wool Bureau, Los Angeles.

Check Shoes For School

Millions of reluctant young feet will be dragging back to school during the next few weeks as the all-too-short summer vacation comes to an end.

Before school starts is a good time to make sure that your reluctant scholar isn't dragging his feet because they hurt. As you know only too well, youngsters' feet grow at an unpredictable pace, and it's a good idea to check their shoes before they return to school.

Selecting a back-to-school shoe that will meet your insistence on healthfulness and durability, and your youngster's demand for style will be no trick this Fall. The stores have what is perhaps the greatest selection of children's leather shoes ever produced.

Just make certain that the shoes are well constructed, with leather soles and uppers, as recommended by foot specialists. After that, give your youngsters the fun of selecting real grown-up shoes which have been skillfully scaled down to look like Mom and Dad's, but provide the support needed by growing feet. Generally, shoes for both boys and girls are slimmer and lighter this Fall, as a result of the new lightweight leathers for both uppers and soles.

Here is a brief run-down on what you and your youngsters will find in the shoe shops:

Leather pumps are a big thing for little girls. The single strap shell silhouette is still the most popular single type in dress and party shoes. Little girls' feet will really twinkle in the new luster leather pumps. Patent, of course, is a perennial in girls' party shoes, but printed leathers, metallic finishes and the lusters are taking some of the play away from it.

For school shoes, fine crushed grains and soft glove leathers are most popular. Suedes are used in some school shoes, frequently in combination with smooth leathers.

Boys' shoes — more than ever — follow Father's. Tassel ties, gored slip-ons, loafers, wing-tip and U-wings are most popular. Low-top lines in two-eyelet styles will probably be the most sought-after shoe among boys this Fall.

The brown family is still Number 1 with boys, although black is coming up fast. Black leather is making a comeback mainly because of the greys and blues which are being featured in boys' suits. Cordovan color — which is a sort of happy medium — is also being shown widely.

The most popular leathers are used in both dress and sports shoes. An innovation is high-walled leather welting — which adds a real fashion note to the sturdy boys' oxford.

A HEALTHY TAN on a man's face is always attractive, but if in acquiring the tan he has also acquired a dry, patchy skin and premature furrows, then it is time for Gourielli's "Active Ozone Cream." It is especially valuable to men with a tender skin. This all-purpose cream with the remedial ingredient, nascent oxygen, leaves the face cool and smooth and may be applied day or night. A perfect after-shave cream, it makes a wonderful lubricant to counteract the drying effects of soap and water and banishes the stinging feeling — even encourages nicks to heal quickly.

Pineapple Prune Bread

Versatile is the word for Pineapple Prune Bread for it fits into every occasion. You'll love its spicy-sweet flavor and the crunchiness of the walnuts. This fruit bread is wonderful for sandwiches in picnic basket or lunch box, for afternoon or evening snacks with cool drinks — and a perfect partner for a luncheon salad. It should be sliced thin, of course, and requires only the simplest of fillings such as a bland cream cheese.

Made with refreshing pineapple tidbits and chopped prunes, it retains a fresh moistness in the baking and slices beautifully. Here's the easy technique for making Pineapple Prune Bread — good to the last morsel:

- 1 cup boiling water
- 1 cup uncooked, dried prunes, pitted and chopped
- 2 teaspoons soda
- 1 cup pineapple tidbits

- 1 cup syrup from pineapple and water
- 2 tablespoons salad oil
- 1 cup sugar
- 1 egg
- 1 teaspoon vanilla
- 4 cups flour
- 2 teaspoons baking powder
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1 cup chopped walnuts or pecans

Pour boiling water over chopped uncooked prunes; add soda. Drain pineapple tidbits thoroughly and add enough water to syrup to make 1 cup; pour over prunes. Allow to stand while mixing batter. Combine salad oil, sugar and egg thoroughly. Stir in vanilla. Sift flour, measure and sift again with baking powder and salt. Add to creamed mixture alternately with liquid from prunes and pineapple. Then add prunes, pineapple tidbits and nuts. Spoon into two 5x9-inch loaf pans and bake in a slow oven (300 degrees) for one hour. Makes 2 loaves.

Make it from me... Bessy's Dairy Dishes

By Bessy, the Basin Bossy

A phone call to a police department recently informed the desk sergeant the woman on the other end of the line had discovered a skunk in her basement. "Just take some bread," the sergeant suggested, "and make a trail from your basement on outside."

A few minutes later the policeman answered the phone again. "I did what you told me. Now I've got two skunks in my basement."

One of the big problems of summertime is keeping the kids attracted like our striped friends above were, i.e., keeping them close enough to home to maintain at least a minimum watch over their safety and well-being.

To do that you've just naturally got to make home attractive, differently attractive, for the time. Nice weather and far-off things of interest will be competing with you all the time. Sure, they can stay outside, but it would certainly be nice if they would stay in sight, wouldn't it?

One of our good friends has virtually solved the problem — at least she's reached the best solution we've heard about yet.

Energy-burning youngsters love lots of cool, refreshing drinks in warm weather. And they like a variety. So this family of three children is constantly being served up a whole refrigerator full of fine milk drinks. And there are simply dozens of 'em, too.

There's ice chocolate and orange Julius, ice milk and milk shakes, to name a few. Milk punch — in any flavor depending upon the type of juice mixed with it — makes a surprisingly delightful and surprisingly refreshing variety for even grownups.

Amazing as it may seem, not only the trio stick around, but all the mothers in the neighborhood know where their children are, too.

Beyond the "stay around the neighborhood" the special attraction puts into the younger set, it also injects a whole lot of wholesome goodness. Good health is a prime requisite 12 months out of the year — and in the summertime as much as the rest of the season.

Four full glasses of milk every day for children — straight from the sparkling, local Klamath Basin dairies — will keep your youngsters home and healthy. Such a boy is unsurpassed in the market, either, Klamath Basin Grade "A" milk is just a must. Take it from me, Bessy.
