

Helen Hayes' Son In Debut

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Helen Hayes' adopted son, 17-year-old James MacArthur, made his big-time television debut as an actor last night on CBS in "Deal a Blow," a story of juvenile delinquency, and acquitted himself admirably. His father is Charles MacArthur, playwright.

Edward Arnold, veteran of the stage, movies and TV, paid the youngster a fine compliment: "During my many years on the stage and in movies, radio and TV, I've appeared in many gangster roles with many so-called 'tough' youngsters, so I feel quite qualified to say that he did a magnificent job and has an excellent future in the theater if he puts his mind to it. I had the pleasure of working with his mother in 'The White Sister' in 1943, so naturally got quite a kick out of working with her son tonight."

New Bookkeeping System Approved
YREKA — The Siskiyou County Board of Supervisors has authorized a new, modern bookkeeping system for five county departments.

The auditing firm of Porterfield and Harris of Woodland, California, was hired to do the job at an estimated cost of $2,700. The firm is currently conducting an audit of all county books, and last week its representative told the supervisors that the records in some departments were in such bad shape that an audit could not be made.

Named in the report were the Siskiyou County General Hospital, the road department, the surveyors office, probation department and the Yreka Judicial Court.

Universalists, Unitarians Meet

An international event, closely related to the continued growth of religious liberalism on the American continent, is taking place in Detroit this week. The Council of Liberal Churches is holding its first biennial convention in the motor city.

Nearly 900 Unitarian and Universalist delegates from the U.S. and Canada are attending the joint council sessions, as well as separate business meetings of the American Unitarian Association and the Universalist Church of America. The six-day Protestant assembly, which began August 23 and continues through August 29 and which marks a period of dynamic growth for both denominations, has as its theme, "Man's Confidence in Himself."

His mother coached his theatrical career. She watched him between her entrances in "Skin of Our Teeth" in her dressing room at CBS, New York. She will see the entire show via television recording.
