Siskiyou Borrows $200,000

YREKA — Siskiyou County will borrow $200,000 to tide it over for the first half of the fiscal year until money becomes available through tax collections in December.

County Auditor Ernest T. Johnson told the Board of Supervisors at its Tuesday meeting that the county's general reserve fund does not contain enough money to pay county expenses during the period between now and December 31. The general reserve fund is set up as a depository for money for this purpose.

The supervisors authorized Johnson and Supervisor Clint Jackson (Edgewood) to meet with bankers in the county to negotiate for the loan and to obtain informal quotations of the interest rate to be charged.

Johnson said that there are two reasons why the general reserve fund is inadequate. He said that last year the supervisors transferred $150,000 from the fund to the general fund, and that an $83,000 deficit appeared in the county welfare budget due to a bookkeeping error.

In explaining why the $150,000 transfer had been made, Johnson said that the supervisors at that time had felt that the reserve fund would be adequate without the money. He said that on July 1, 1954, the fund had $512,000. The transfer was made in July, and resulted in the lowering of the general tax rate.

The welfare deficit resulted because the previous auditor had included state and federal emergency aid money designated for July, 1954 into the 1954-1955 surplus, Johnson said. This money was received in June of 1954.

Johnson said there is now $89,000 in the reserve fund, to which the $200,000 would be added.

He said the county spends about $700,000 a month, but much of this is offset by current revenues, such as fees and state and federal payments.

He said that this is the first time to his knowledge that the county has had to borrow money for the general reserve fund. He said, however, that some counties do not have a general reserve fund, and borrow annually in order to keep operating.

Tax money would be available on December 31, and bills payable at that time, as well as the loan, would be paid out of the tax collections.

Fire Controlled At Clauson Gulch

YREKA — A forest fire in Clauson Gulch, 10 miles north of Happy Camp, burned over 40 acres before it was brought under control about 7 p.m. Thursday. It had started at noon on the south fork of Indian Creek, the Klamath National Forest reported.

The fire started from an exhaust spark from a chain saw being operated in the area, according to Lee Morford, fire dispatcher for the Klamath National Forest.

Morford stated that about 200 men were on the fire all of Thursday afternoon and praised the cooperation the forest service received from loggers and millworkers in the Happy Camp area who, in many cases, joined the fire fighters without being asked.

There were fire crews from Fort Jones, Seiad, Happy Camp, Tee Bar, West Branch and crew leaders from other districts in the vicinity.

This morning there were still about 100 men doing mop-up work at the scene of the fire. No estimate of the damage was available today.
