IN Ideas Paint & Wallpaper By JACK NEIPP The Right Combination When you go to all the work of redoing your rooms, don't be satisfied with just a run-of-the-mill job. It doesn't cost one penny more to make a room a conversation piece. The secret lies in the planning. Study your room — its size, exposure, and the architectural features that offer you an opportunity to do something outstanding. Note how three different wallpaper patterns have been combined to give the small dining room sketched a gay, distinctive air. Wide green and white stripes on the ceiling have been dropped down slightly onto one wall to give an evening effect. White embossed-brick wallpaper has been used effectively on the Wainscoting, on one wall, and back of the open shelves. The bright colorful floral on another wall keeps the bold stripes of the ceiling from dominating the room. Yes, we have them! Those new

THE "EYES HAVE IT" . . . and do they have eyes! . . . these two handsome young men, David Patrick, two, at the left; and his big brother, Richard Lee, who was six, Thursday, August 25. Which means, of course, that David Patrick will lose a pal and a playmate, when Rich starts to school this fall. They are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry L. Morgan, 2684 Eberlein. Many From Out of Town Here For Lewis-Van Doren Nuptials

First Presbyterian Church was the setting for a recent summer wedding, deeply impressive in its simplicity—when Carol Van Doren became the bride of Robert Eugene Lewis, August 14. The Rev. Dale E. Hewitt read the 2 p.m. service in the presence of approximately 150 guests. Carol is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Van Doren, 1854 Melrose; and her husband is the son of Mrs. Leona Lewis, who was here from Long Beach for the important occasion. Virginia Van Doren was maid of honor for her sister; and bridesmaids, Joan Hobart, Boise; and Jackie Slusher, were former roommates at Oregon State College. Jackie, now teaching at Merrill, was schoolmate and close friend of Carol's all through their years at KUHS and OSC. They were roommates during the bride's freshman year at college. Jean Hobart and Carol were roommates for the following three years. A reception immediately after the ceremony was in the church parlors; and later, a buffet supper was served in the Camas Room at the Winema Hotel at 4 p.m. for 54 relatives and out-of-town guests. At the reception, aunts of the bride, Mrs. Clarence Crook and Mrs. Harry Doherty, served the cake; Joyce Crooks, bride's cousin, carried the guest book; Dolores Olson and Dorothy Casper served coffee and Marsha Miller presided at the punch bowl. Out of town guests included the bride's mother, Mrs. Leona Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Lewis, (bridegroom's brother) and Susan Lewis, Long Beach; Don Lewis, also brother; Mr. and Mrs. Earl O'Harrow (sister), Twin Falls; Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Robinson (also sister), and Jackie and Skippy, Compton, California. Bride's grandmother, Mrs. J. H. Van Tassel, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Alstrand, Mr. and Mrs. George Schultz, Berkeley; Miss Helen Bunick (bride's great-aunt), San Francisco; Mr. and Mrs. G. P. Crooks and Joyce (sunt, uncle and cousin of the bride), El Cerrito; Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Van Tassel and Louisa, San Marino, (also aunt, uncle and cousin of Carol's). Mrs. Harry Doherty and Jack
